A Variety of Cases in Police Court

It was stifling in police court this morning for the cage was filled and eight women occupied the "ladies'" seat, while as is usual when anything of a sensational nature comes up the spectators overcrowded the room. Those who were looking for spice were disappointed, for all the spicy cases were continued.

Judge Pickman occupied the bench. There were 23 drunks and two of them were released while most of them were fined.

SALAM-BANG CASE.

Joseph Salam and Rush Saman were charged with disturbing the peace, but as the trouble if there had been any, was over when the officers got there, the men having been separated by friends, they were discharged.

UNLICENSED DOG.

Officer Maguire testified that Victor Lessard lives at 25 Lakeview avenue and keeps a large St. Bernard dog. On May 27 he saw the dog on the premises having previously warned him to have the animal licensed. Mr. Lessard told him that the dog had been licensed in his son's name last year but the license had not been renewed as he wanted to give the animal away.

Cross-examined by Lawyer Donahue, Officer Maguire said that Lessard had told him that he had given the animal away but it had come back again and would not leave and that he intended to give it away again.

Lieut. Webster said that he had seen the dog three times on the premises since May 1. Judge Pickman and Lawyer Donahue entered into a lengthy argument as to the admissibility of the evidence of Lieut. Webster on the ground that the complaint specified May 27 and that evidence as to any other day was incompetent. Lieut. Webster didn't know anything about the dog being given away.

Assistant City Clerk McCarthy produced his records and stated that no one named Lessard had taken out a dog license this year. Lawyer Donahue objected on the ground that Mr. McCarthy was not the city clerk but his assistant and not the custodian of the records. He also objected because the records were in different handwritings. The evidence was admitted.

Lessard said he gave the dog to one Tully of Dracut over a month ago and Tully owns it now. The dog came back and each time witness put the animal out because he didn't want it there any longer. The animal came back from Tully three times and each time he notified Tully to take the animal away.

The night the officers went to arrest Lessard he failed to return home all night and Deputy Welch asked "Why did you remain away from home that night?"

"Because I didn't want to get pinched," promptly replied the witness. Lawyer Donahue argued on the ground that the defendant had given the dog away and did not want the animal there. Lessard was fined $4 and he appealed and was held in $100 for the superior court.

A NEGLECTFUL WIFE.

Patrick F. and Mary Carney were in for drunkenness, and Officer Maguire and Agent Richardson testified that while the husband is not a bad sort of a fellow the mother keeps a dirty house and is unproperly rearing her two small children. Mr. Richardson said that the children were living in filth.

Judge Pickman read a lecture to the woman on cleanliness and said: "Persons may get drunk but they must keep clean. Don't you know how to use soap?" It was decided to place the man on probation and send the woman to jail for one month to get her a good wash and get the liquor out of her system.

SHOOTING CASE CONTINUED.

The case of Avidas Maranian and Charles Kagagian, charged with assault with intent to commit murder on Oscar Ohasplan, was called this morning. The counsel for the defendants asked for a continuance until June 14, as the injured man is still at the Emergency hospital, and asked for a reduction of bail in the case of Maranian. Dr. Dugdale of the hospital testified that the patient is doing very well and indications are that he will recover, although he would not state it positively. Judge Pickman reduced Maranian's bail from $3000 to $2000 and the case was continued until June 14. The other defendant is already under bail.

COMPLAINANT MISSING.

Francis W. Devine was in for drunkenness and larceny in 1901 of a watch and $4.65 from Annie Arnold. The police were unable to locate the complainant and the larceny complaint was placed on file while Devine was fined $6 for drunkenness.

MUCH ADO, ETC.

Michael Luchin pleaded not guilty of drunkenness and took up about an hour of the court's valuable time, with the usual result, a $2 fine.

BACK TO FARM.

Matthew Connolly was in for the fourth time and his suspended sentence to the state farm was revoked and Matthews goes back. Frank Canole, a parole man from the state farm, was in again and he will go back tomorrow.

SENT TO JAIL.

James McQuade kept his folks up all night with his ravings and he was sent to jail for 14 days to get the liquor out of him.

A SERIOUS CASE.

John J. Devaney, a clean-looking young man was charged with assault with intent to rape Henrietta Dane, aged 22 years and married.

They met on the street, last evening and as the result of a flirtation took a walk up to Pawtucket street. When the vicinity of Moody street was reached Young Devaney, the complainant alleges, proposed that they take the river path in the rear of the Textile school and she being a comparative stranger in the city assented. When she got some distance from the street she claims that Devaney suddenly threw her down and attempted a felonious assault. Devaney was arrested by Officer Grady and in court this morning pleaded not guilty. The case was continued until tomorrow and Devaney was held in $200.

TOUCHED HER "FRIEND."

The prettiest girl who has been a prisoner in police court in a long time was 20 year old Emma Reynolds who with Della Savard, aged 27 years was arrested from a local hotel about 5 o'clock this morning on a charge of larceny of $132 from Hermidas Meunier, $92 in cash and a check for $4.15 being recovered it is alleged from the defendants or one of them. Meunier it seems was entertaining the two fair charmers at a suburban resort yesterday and last evening, and during the good time displayed his roll. Then it is alleged their fingers became cold and froze to the roll. As soon as Meunier discovered his loss he made a wise move for instead of making an outcry right then he suggested to the girls that they all take a hack and go into Lowell for the remainder of the night. They gladly assented and all came to town and put up at a local hotel when Meunier after locking the door told them to give up or he'd have them arrested. The girls pleaded ignorance of any knowledge of the roll whereupon Meunier sent for the police and all were taken to the police station together with Joseph Blood a young man who was with the party when the hack was engaged. Blood was discharged from custody as he had nothing to do with the case, while the girls pleaded not guilty and were continued until Thursday.

PROTECT LIVES

Of Inmates Says the Mayor to Overseers

IN REPLY TO COMMITTEE'S REQUEST

For More Insurance on the Buildings

The following is a copy of the letter sent to the committee on insurance of the board of overseers of the poor:

Lowell, Mass., June 2, 1905.

Committee on Insurance of Board of Overseers of the Poor.

Gentlemen:—In pursuance to your request that I formulate a recommendation relative to the advisability of placing additional insurance on the City Hospital building, would say that I made an inspection of the institution, and suggest that you give consideration to providing more adequate protection against fire, and safeguard the lives of the inmates intrusted to your care rather than how much more insurance money the city would obtain in case of fire.

As I understand the situation, you desire to spend about $1600 for additional insurance. If you have this amount to spend it would seem preferable to use it for the purpose of installing, in part at least, a sprinkler system which would lessen the risk of a serious fire, and secure a lower rate for insurance that might be placed later.

If fire were to break out in the women's ward a terrible loss of life would probably result. There is but one means of egress, and that only serviceable for those on the first floor. The inmates confined on the floors above would be cut off and obliged to use a fire escape at the other end of the building. A fire escape, however, is of but little service for old and infirm women trying to escape from a burning building. It would seem more practicable to build out from this end of the building a stairway that would provide an egress from all floors.

Under existing circumstances I can not recommend that a part of your appropriation be expended for additional insurance. It would seem that your first duty is to protect, as far as possible, the lives of those intrusted to your care.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES B. CASEY, Mayor.

UNDER ARREST

MAN ACCUSED OF BURNING CHILDREN'S FINGERS.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Cruelly burning and searing the fingers of his two little children, as a punishment for playing with matches, resulted in the arrest yesterday of William J. Glover of South Orange, N. J.

The punishment inflicted by the father on Muir, the 5-year-old boy, is so severe that the physician says the fingers of the child will be shortened. The burns on the fingers of Lucille, a 3-year-old girl, are not so bad. The charge made by the children's aid and protective society, which caused Glover's arrest, is that on the day following a fire at his home he tortured his children by burning their fingers with matches.

Glover in explaining his cruel punishment, said the children had set fire to the house while playing with matches, and that he had to resort to drastic measures to check them. He was held for further hearing.

At the present time the subscribers do not receive any night or Sunday service, and they want both. They also want 200 Lowell calls and North Tewksbury free. These are the requests that will be submitted to the telephone company by the committee appointed for that purpose.

HIGH SALARIES

Condemned by the Frick Committee

LEADING ITEMS IN THE REPORT

Profits of the Syndicate Made Known

NEW YORK, June 3.—Liberal extracts are published today of the report made to the Equitable Life Assurance Society directors by the Frick investigating committee. The report consists of 38 printed pages. Its principal points follow closely the outline forecasted several days ago, and in closing the committee declared:

"Excessive salaries, excessive commissions, excessive expenses and superfluous offices should not be tolerated.

"Investments should be carefully made and all the useful formal precautions employed to insure the location of the moral responsibility of the officers who are charged with the duty of making them.

"The committee, having pursued its investigation of the present management of the society sufficiently for to convince it that the personnel of the management should be radically changed and the methods of conducting the business of the society brought back to sound legal and ethical lines, begs to be relieved from further duty."

In mentioning the particular executives whom the committeemen believed should be retired, the report said:

"The shortcomings in interior executive officers are largely due to the methods which the principal officers have encouraged or permitted, and so far as the conditions of these irregularities calls for further removals of officials that matters should be dealt with and largely controlled by the judgment of the reorganized management."

Among other features is a letter from President James W. Alexander sent to the committee in response to a request for specific data under 11 heads. The letter is largely devoted, however, to a reiteration of the charges against Mr. Hyde, among them being one to the effect that large quantities of stock belonging to the society stand in his name, enabling the vice president to become a director in many corporations.

"If there is any need," the president wrote, "for the society to be represented upon the boards of the companies whose securities the society holds, the representation should not be central in one person, who cannot, by any possibility, give proper attention to the duties of so many positions."

The report also contains a long letter from Mr. Hyde concerning syndicate transactions, heretofore made public. Commenting on these deals, the report says:

"In one case in which the syndicate profit was $59,210, the society now holds the securities purchased, which at present quotations show a loss of about $60,000.

"In all other cases the society has either made a profit, or could make a profit, by selling the securities at the present market.

"The net result of the society of the purchase of these syndicate securities has been a very considerable profit. If the society had acquired the securities by taking allotments in the original underwritings the profits would have been greater by $156,107.

"While the society was a gainer by the transactions, the report declares that the officials of the syndicate were guilty of a breach of propriety and a breach of trust in this course of dealing with a corporation they were serving."

The report declares that if Mr. Hyde were guilty of the things charged by President Alexander, the latter was "culpably negligent in acquiescing in them for so long a period and in not bringing them to the attention of the board of directors at such time and in such a way as to enable the directors to consider them in connection with the exercises of their responsible duty of electing the officers of the society."

After quoting a letter alleged to have been addressed to Vice President Hyde by Mr. Alexander last November regarding the duties of the fiscal committee and detailing the manner in which the two members were to be handled, the report continues:

"The committee finds that so far as Mr. Alexander's charge against Mr. Hyde is true, namely, 'that he has displayed a strong personal ambition and an inordinate and unsafe love of prominence, a great responsiveness to flattery, a pliancy in the hands of persons whose interests are not necessarily parallel to those of the policy holders of the society,' that Mr. Alexander is largely responsible."

Details of the society's operative machinery, financial methods, salaries, etc., are gone over in great detail, with recommendations for change wherever the investigators saw ground for criticism, and the report concludes with a plea for recognition of the great responsibility toward policy holders in the society and in all similar organizations.

The many friends of Mrs. John J. Gookin, of 18 Bowden street, will be pained to hear of her serious illness at St. John's hospital.

SEVERAL SHIFTS

In Management of Local Saloons

A number of liquor licenses controlled by the Harvard brewery are said to be running behind financially instead of piling up profits for the company.

It is stated that there are six dealers in the unfinancial class and the company has evidently come to the conclusion that it is useless to allow them to continue any longer. Therefore the present incumbents are to be retired and others put in their places. Under the law the men in whose names the licenses have been issued can hold them in spite of any private arrangement. But it is understood in the cases referred to the holders of the licenses are willing to retire if paid the amount of money they put into the business and a fair allowance for their time.

Already the managers of three liquor stores controlled by the brewery have been retired and other men put in their places. The company, it is understood, assumes all debts contracted by each of these license holders and starts on new lines with the hope of making the licenses pay.

This situation indicates the decline of the liquor business in Lowell as a means of making money. There are many other saloons falling behind in the payment of their bills and even the best of them cannot approach the profits of four or five years ago. The brewery which has been so desirous of controlling licenses in this city would now probably be glad to get rid of a considerable number of them which have proved a source of loss instead of profit.

The St. Petersburg's Gazette estimates Russia's financial loss as a result of the battle of the sea of Japan at $73,500,000.

UNDER ARREST

MEN CHARGED WITH VIOLATING ALIEN LABOR ACT.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 3—Colonel Sherwood, chief of the Dominion police, has arrested Everett Cain, trainmaster and chief train dispatcher James Gilhula of the Pere Marquette railroad for the purpose of deporting them to the United States under the alien labor act. A writ of habeas corpus was applied for today at Toronto and argument was heard by Justice Anglin who reserved his decision until Monday. In the meantime the men remain in the custody of Colonel Sherwood.

For the writ of habeas corpus counsel argued that the Canadian parliament had no right to provide for the deportation of a citizen of a foreign country, particularly one at the time in friendly relation with it.

THE PIG QUESTION

Their Rights Within City Limits

TO BE DEFINED BY THE LAW

An Interesting Trial is Looked for

The rights of pigs, not human hogs, within the city limits will be threshed out in the police court this week. Parties who were notified to remove or do away with their pigs, that were being kept in pens in congested sections of the city, disregarded the notices sent them and Agent Knapp of the board of health will be the complainant in the cases to be called this week.

Mr. Knapp has suggested that the newspapers would have the public believe that he is diametrically and otherwise opposed to pigs. "I have an antipathy for human hogs," said Mr. Knapp, "but I am not particularly opposed to pigs and would not trespass upon their rights, if I knew it.

"Environment means a great deal even in the pig question, and a pig is quite liable to take on the ways of the person or persons that feed him or care for him. That is one of the reasons why pigs are objectionable in certain quarters.

"Then again some pigs are not as careful about their person as others and their appearance in the street would not inspire one with the thought of cleanliness. I presume that even were it customary to give a pig a Turkish bath, he would remain a pig and would be more or less disagreeable in or out of church. Pigs that grunt in the night are an annoyance to persons who sleep in the next room or a few doors away, and, of course, if one was searching for sweet smelling places he would not visit a pig pen. I think that will be about all in the pig question, today, good-by," and Horace walked away leaving the reporter to himself and the pigs.

The pig question will undoubtedly be productive of fun when it takes its stand in the police court. The widow, who, with tearful eyes, looked upon the banishment of her favorite pig from the back door, will tell her sad story and blame Agent Knapp for it all. John J. Pickman will appear for the defendants in the pig cases and D. J. Donahue for the prosecution.

YACHT CORONET

Sandford's Boat Injured by a Collision

PORTLAND, Me., June 3.—The $30,000 yacht Coronet, which was ready to sail for the Mediterranean and southern Europe, in the interest of the Holy Ghost and Us society, of Shiloh of which Rev. Frank W. Sandford is leader, was in collision today in this harbor with the yacht Wanderer, which is used by the same society for missionary work along the Maine coast. Many of Sandford's followers were aboard both yachts and there was much excitement until it was found there was no danger of sinking.

The Coronet's davits were bent, rail smashed in, forward rigging torn away, and she sustained minor injuries. The Wanderer was not damaged. The Coronet had taken aboard a large supply of provisions, clothing, fuel, etc., and it was understood was about to leave this country when the collision happened.

He said he found many wounded on board and escorted the vessels to Manila. The admiral added that he will send further particulars tomorrow. This cablegram was received at the navy department shortly after the Associated Press bulletin from Manila and was transferred by Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation, to Secretary Morton at his residence.

HELP AT HAND

Chelmsford Authorities Will Furnish Tent

FOR EVICTED FAMILY TO LIVE IN

Several Persons Send Them Money and Food

"If I only had some place of shelter, I'd be all right," said William Fay the blind Chelmsford farmer to a reporter of The Sun yesterday afternoon.

The reporter arrived at the pasture in which the Fay family are living just after the shower and found the four members well wet through while their furniture was soaked.

"We don't mind a wetting, for a farmer has to put up with that even in his prosperity," said Mr. Fay, "but our household goods are ruined."

When the reporter gave Mr. Fay some money left at The Sun office by charitable people who read of his sad circumstances in The Sun he received it thankfully saying: "I hate to become an object of charity because I worked hard for my money and did not squander it in drink and my father before me was a hard working man. But I appreciate the kindness that prompted it. We are doing very well if we only had some shelter."

Mr. Fay accepts his position most philosophically as does his wife, or to use the vernacular, they are game to the core. Instead of sitting down and despondently bemoaning their fate they kept right at work as though nothing disastrous had befallen them.

In connection with the case an amusing little incident occurred a few days ago which Mr. Fay smilingly relates even under his burden of adversity. One of the few hens that he owned ran away and was lost for several days and the Fays thought they would never see the bird again. But while sitting in their pasture a day or two ago they were amused by a cackling sound at the entrance to the place and in a few moments in walked their missing hen with a big brood of healthy-looking chickens toddling along after her.

Agent Richardson of the Humane society called upon the family yesterday and volunteered to place them in a home until such time as they could provide a house of their own for them. But the parents objected to having the little ones taken from them and the agent did not press the matter.

Agent Richardson then visited Chairman Walter Perham of the board of selectmen and requested him to do something for the family. Mr. Perham stated that the selectmen had not realized how serious the case was until he had read The Sun and he stated that the authorities would procure a tent at once in which the family might live comfortably and would endeavor to procure a permanent home for them in the near future.

Several persons have visited the family since the publication of The Sun's article and have offered assistance. Bernard A. Fitzpatrick of this city not only sent in money to The Sun office for the family but today drove out there with a load of canned goods and groceries.

KING ALFONSO

PARIS, June 3.—King Alfonso, mounted and wearing the uniform of a Spanish captain general, was the central figure of a brilliant military review at Vincennes today, in which an enormous crowd participated. President Loubet, the cabinet ministers and the diplomatic corps, were present. The review closed with a cavalry charge. The king was greeted with continued cheers going to and coming from the review. Later he lunched with the high military officers at the Elysee Palace. Responding to a toast, the king paid a glowing tribute to the French admiralty, adding: "I cannot forget that your president and I have together escaped a peril which nowadays menace the lives of all chiefs of state, and that it was in the midst of your brave cuirassiers that we received our baptism of fire."

KING ALFONSO

WILL BE WELL PROTECTED WHILE VISITING LONDON.

LONDON, June 3.—Insurances on the life of King Alfonso, who is now visiting Paris, are being effected at Lloyds by those who would suffer were the festivities cut short by a repetition of the attempt on his majesty's life during his visit to London during the coming week. Extraordinary precautions are under way for his protection. King Edward has specially directed the home secretary to see that nothing is omitted to insure the visitor's safety and comfort.

BODY FOUND

HEAD, ARMS AND LEGS ARE MISSING.

BOSTON, June 5.—While patrolling the harbor late yesterday afternoon, the crew of the police boat Watchman came across the badly decomposed body of a man floating near the slip of the South ferry on the East Boston side. It was taken to Briggs' undertaking rooms on Howard street, where it remains unidentified, owing to its condition.

The body had been in the water a long time. Head, arms and the lower portions of the legs are missing. The trunk was covered by a cardigan jacket and a yellow undershirt.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS.

Either a very tame contest and slow time, due to extreme caution by the competitors, or a series of casualties and tragedies, rivaling those of the sanguinary Paris-Madrid race of 1903, is in prospect on July 5, when the Bennett cup race is run in France. In the 340.3 miles to be traversed, there are just 140 turns, some of them so sharp and narrow that if a car stops, it will be impossible for the one behind to turn out or to see the danger in time to stop. There are only five stretches on the course where the road is wide enough for one car to pass another.

In the estimation of Louis Chevrolet, who made a mile in 52 4-5 seconds, with his 90 horse power Fiat on the Morris Park track, at the opening meet, one record of any sort makes a champion. He is now out with a challenge to race any one in the world for the championship.

An automobilist wearing a pair of goggles having two separate lenses for each eye, attracted attention on a road house porch and one man had the courage to ask for an explanation. It was as follows: "Why, you see, when one is driving the way I drive, the sand and very small stones are thrown up with great force. If one sails for my eye, it may break the first lens, but then is deflected, and the inner lens saves my eyes." The listeners wondered what famous racing man he was and followed him gapingly when he walked to the hotel shed and there cranked up his engine and started away in a 7-horse power machine.

President Roosevelt has had just three automobile rides, and two of these were not premeditated, but arranged for by reception committees. His first voluntary trip in a motor car was made last week, and it was characteristic that he sought something more strenuous for the trip than a runabout and went and hired a 40-horse power car. He is said to have enjoyed the ride, although his mount did not buck any.

It seems there is a sequel to a story that has been gaining wide circulation, and that the farm hand upon whom was forced $50 to pay for a dog that was not his, was an honest workingman after all. The story, as it often has been printed, is that a prominent city automobilist overtook a plain bucolic and a dog on a country road. The dog ran in front of the car and was killed. The automobilist stopped long enough to press a $50 bill upon the man and drove on, leaving the man wondering whose dog it was that had been killed. The story has been told with great relat at the expense of William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and other prominent men without regard to their reputation as expert and cautious drivers. It is now evident that the man upon whom the $50 was forced was no dishonest son of toil, but a very conscientious person. The sequel to the story, which proves this, is that the "Pioneer Motorist" of Park Row, N. Y., while driving over that same road a month after the incident, found the carcass of the canine with the $50 bill on top of it, weighted there with a stone, awaiting the arrival of the dog's real owner.

J. H. B. MEHAN.

Youngest Chief Engineer in the U. S. Navy

Chief Engineer J. H. B. Meehan U. S. N., is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Meehan of Worthen street, this city. Engineer Meehan has a most creditable record since his entrance in the service and his many friends of the old Mann school and St. Patrick's Boys' school where he was educated are proud of the distinction he has won. Chief Engineer Meehan is the youngest man occupying such a position in the United States navy and is recognized as one of the most efficient. In his recent trip from Manila to Norfolk, Va., he broke all records for colliers making the distance in 59 days. He has been at Manila for three years and when he returned to this country was granted twenty days leave of absence. Monday he will report to the naval board at Norfolk, Va., and in a few weeks will sail for the Orient where he will again join the Asiatic squadron.

On this trip the Brutus will shape her course around the Cape of Good Hope and in this way the Suez canal fees will be avoided. On board the Brutus on the trip from Manila was a crew of seventy two Chinamen. The time of the American sailors expired while the boat was at its Asiatic station and their places had to be filled so Chinese were selected because they were the most available hands. In Shanghai and Chefoo Engineer Meehan met several persons from this vicinity. He was accompanied to Lowell by his charming wife and his beautiful baby boy. While awaiting the time to sail after his return to Norfolk, Chief Engineer Meehan and his family will remain at their cosy residence in Newport News.

NOT LEGAL

FALL RIVER BAKER WAS IMPROPERLY TRIED.

BOSTON, June 3.—Judel Friedman, a Fall River baker, was improperly tried in Suffolk county, convicted and sentenced to one year in the house of correction and to pay a fine of $150, for the alleged larceny of a carload of flour, the property of Harry Silbert and David F. Silbert, flour brokers of this city, according to a decision of the full bench of the supreme court yesterday sustaining his exceptions.

It is held that as Friedman was indicted and tried for larceny and the flour never came into his possession in Suffolk county, the Suffolk superior court had no jurisdiction to try and punish him for the offence.

SALE OFF

CEMETERY CASE GOES TO MASTER IN CHANCERY.

The answers of William Manning and Erastus A. Bartlett to the bill in equity of John J. Gray were filed yesterday before Judge Bond in the superior court. It was agreed by Charles Cowley in behalf of Mr. Gray, and by John W. McEvoy, in behalf of the defendants, that the advertised sale under the mortgage should be abandoned, and that the case should be sent to a master in chancery to hear the parties and report the facts as soon as practicable. The question, whether Mr. Manning has waived the conditions of his mortgages relating to the payment of interest, is the main one in the case. The St. Peter's cemetery will continue to be used for burial purposes. Both parties agree to that.

FIGHT TO FINISH

Harriman, Hyde and Gould in Financial Battle

NEW YORK, June 3 Not since the Great Northern Pacific corner of four years ago has there been so much excitement in financial circles as exists today as a result of yesterday's developments in the Equitable Life Assurance society's affairs. A stirring contest for control had been expected, but the vehement debate in the directors' meeting, the bitter character of the defense made by James H. Hyde and the resignations of Messrs. Harriman and Bliss from the society's directorate have created a situation wholly unforeseen and indicating a new alignment of the forces in high finance astounding to the general public. According to the Herald, Mr. Frick, in handing in his resignation said he never again would sit as director in any corporation of which Mr. Hyde was also a director.

The charges made by Mr Hyde that an effort had been made by Mr. Harriman to take control of the society away from him was pointed to in connection with reports circulated last night that one reason for attacking Mr. Hyde was that he was friendly with George J. Gould and that other interests desired to prevent Mr. Gould from obtaining any assistance from Equitable funds in extending his railroad lines westward to the Pacific coast and eastward to the Atlantic.

According to the reports the Union Pacific and Pennsylvania railroad interests and Mr. Frick joined together to oppose Mr. Gould. Mr. Gould was one of those who attended a conference in Mr. Hyde's office yesterday and considerable surprise was expressed when it was found that Mr. Harriman, who up to that time had been counted upon as a Hyde supporter was not present at the conference. A semi-official statement was made today that Mr. Gould expects to have his affairs finished to San Francisco bay before June 1, 1907.

What Wall street and the general public discussed with most interest today was the question as to what is to be the next step taken. The selection of the new chairman of the board of directors who is to be named by a committee within the next few days is awaited with great interest. The promise has been made that he is to be a man of national reputation for business ability and probably to him is to be entrusted the task of enforcing economies and making such other changes as may be deemed necessary to correct the present business methods of the society. It is expected that the chairman will be elected by the board at its meeting next Wednesday. Another point of absorbing interest was the plan to be pursued to take Mr. Hyde's majority holding of stock, through which he has the power at present to elect all the directors of the society. Mr. Hyde acquiesced in the resolution that he be requested to divest himself of the control of his stock within three months on terms satisfactory to himself and the society. Attention was drawn today to the fact that Mr. Hyde in agreeing to this resolution declined to give any pledge as to his action in the matter. Wall street discussed also the action of Jacob Schiff, the head of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., in defending Second Vice President Tarbell. Mr. Schiff's firm has acted for years in close relations with Mr. Harriman.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

OFFICERS REFUSE PAROLE TERMS

TOKIO, June 3, 10.40 a. m.—Rear Admiral Rojestvensky is resting well with no dangerous symptoms and his speedy recovery seems certain.

The officers of the Russian battleship Orel have declined to accept parole. They have been given an additional day further to consider the question.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL WAS IN HIDING

LONDON, June 3—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:

It is stated that when Rear Admiral Nebogatoff surrendered the Russians hoisted red flags on their topmasts, with Russian flags below them. The crews were drawn up in parade order on the decks and some of the sailors were waving white flags. The whole affair, the despatch says, was "a contemptible spectacle." There was an ample supply of ammunition. The surrender is considered most disgraceful.

RUSSIANS SHOT THE MUTINEERS

ST. PETERSBURG, June 3, 11 A. M.—The statement that the ammunition on board Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's ships was exhausted when he surrendered, was received with some relief, this being one of the conditions under which, according to the Russian naval regulations, a commander is allowed to surrender, the other conditions being when the crew of a vessel is so depleted as to be unable to manage her and work her guns, and when the ship is burned to the water's edge and about to sink. Nevertheless most of the naval men continue to be of the opinion that the ship should have been sunk. Stories of mutiny on board the Russian vessels continue to circulate in the clubs and cafes, but the admiralty will not admit that it has received any information tending to substantiate them. The officials admit, however, that some of the sailors mutined off the coast of Madagascar and that a number of them were shot by Admiral Rojestvensky's orders.

DUKE BEGINS ACTION AGAINST HIS WIFE.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Papers in an action for absolute divorce brought by Brodie L. Duke were served today on Mrs. Alice Webb Duke whose marriage to Mr. Duke in December last was the beginning of sensational litigation. At the same time, it became known that proceedings pending against Mr. Duke in this country, the object of which was to have him declared incompetent to manage his affairs, have been abandoned by a member of his family at whose instigation the suit was begun. His property, however, is now held by trustees. The suit for divorce brought by Duke is based upon statutory grounds.

END THE STRIKE

Head of Express Drivers' Union Favors Peace

CHICAGO, June 3—Possibility of a strike settlement piece-meal developed today. Representatives of the teamsters' joint council signified a willingness to meet a peace committee to be named by department store proprietors. Edward Hillman, a State street merchant, undertook to secure the appointment of the employers' committee, but declared the department stores would not leave other strike affected concerns out of the proposed settlement. All employers, he said, would stand together.

President Bernard Mulligan, of the express drivers' local union declared in favor of the end of the struggle so far as it concerned stores and merchants, Mr. Mulligan, however, announced himself opposed to making terms with the express companies unless the drivers of his union were reengaged.

Riots still occur, but are of a minor character comparatively.

PUMPING STATION

Sewer Work in the Oaklands

WILL START IN A LITTLE WHILE

Will be Pushed Ahead With All Haste

Just as soon as Engineer Bowers succeeds in getting the signature of the out-of-town parties to the permit allowing the city to lay pipes in a certain section of the Oaklands, work upon the Oakland sewer will be begun. Superintendent Morse of the street department, said today that in two weeks more the sewer work will have so progressed as to allow him to concentrate his sewer force on the Oaklands. The first thing that the department will have to do is to dig a great drain 12 feet deep, or more. The drain will take care of the surface water, as it has been deemed inadvisable to pump the surface water. The pumping station will take care of the sewage.

UNDERGROUND CONDUITS.

The New England Telephone & Telegraph company is getting along very well with the work of laying underground conduits. There are about 100 men in the employ of the company and they are now working in High street. The company started operations in Westford street and then transferred its force to Church street, and the conduits have been laid in that street and in Andover street. A representative of the company said today that in all probability the work of laying conduits would be completed in about two months.

GOLD CHALICE

PROPERTY OF MONSIGNOR O'CALLAGHAN STOLEN.

BOSTON, June 3.—A beautiful golden chalice, upon which was engraved a cross, in the centre of which rested a perfectly cut diamond of great value, the entire cup being inlaid with precious stones, having a total value of $750, has mysteriously disappeared from the parish house of St. Augustine's Church, F street, South Boston.

The loss of the chalice was discovered on Memorial day, by Father Kilbride, one of the curates, who went to the cabinet, in the reception room of the parish house, where it was kept, for the chalice, being the personal property of Mgr. O'Callaghan, was allowed to remain here and not in the regular chalice cases at the altar. The chalice was last used for services on May 24.

BAD BREAK

STOCK OF UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT DROPPED.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—As a result of the changed political conditions in this city and the fear of unfriendly moves against public utilities, there has been a bad break in the stock of these concerns on the Philadelphia stock exchange. Today, United Gas Improvement, which two weeks ago was quoted around 118, dropped from 55¼, yesterday's close, to 92. Other stocks which suffered were Philadelphia Rapid Transit company and Union Traction company, the companies which own the street railway lines. The former dropped to 25, today, a decline of six points within a week, and the latter to 53½, as against 62¾ last Saturday. Another local utility company stock to decline is that of the Philadelphia Electric company, which sold at $8 a share today compared with $12, recently.

NOVEL SERVICE

The Water Was Strewn With Flowers

IN MEMORY OF THE SAILOR HEROES

Garfield Relief Corps Directed Service

James A. Garfield Relief Corps held a service on the bank of the Merrimack river, yesterday afternoon, in memory of the soldier-sailor dead.

The meeting was well attended and the services were unique as well as impressive. Indian Orchard at the bend of the Merrimack river on the Centralville side below the Centralville bridge was the scene of the observance which without doubt will become annual.

At four o'clock a procession was formed, headed by color bearers one and two, Mrs. Mary E. Offutt and Mrs. Juliette Blood, who were followed by the corps officers, President Mrs. Louisa Blood; senior vice-president, Mrs. Jennie Connell; junior vice-president, Mrs. Martha Fife; press correspondent, Mrs. Martha Smiley; chaplain, Mrs. Catherine Robbins; treasurer, Mrs. Annie E. Tuttle; conductor, Mrs. Pauline Crawford; guard, Mrs. Helen Talbot; assistant conductor, Mrs. Carrie Storm. Third and fourth color bearers, Mrs. Josephine Worden and Mrs. Mary Shirley came next in the procession, and the other corps members fell in, two by two, and accompanied by Rev. Asa Reed Dills, children and a large number of spectators.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee," was sung. In answer to questions by the president as to the significance of the service the senior vice-president said: "To honor the memory of the Union sailors and marines who sleep beneath the ocean wave, that the Union might live." In answer to the question: "Have you a record of their services in the cause of their country?" the secretary answered: "Their deeds and sacrifices have been recorded on the pages of their country's history, and emblazoned on the Book of Life by the Great Commander."

Mrs. E. R. Berry, department press correspondent, read an original poem and cast a flag upon the water. A quartet composed of Percy Arnold, Bert Cheney, Victor Storm and Arthur Galley sang "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers." Rev. Asa Reed Dills offered prayer, and the corps officers advanced to the river and cast in bouquets of flowers, repeating in unison:

Emblem of their courage and purity and love."

Col. Royal S. Ripley of Chelmsford, commander of Post 185, cast upon the river a wreath and flag, saying, "Comrades, in the name of countless thousands of the land and sea, who have shared your dangers, and endured your sacrifices, this wreath is cast upon the waters that roll above you."

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow gave a patriotic address. The quartet sang "There Will Be One Vacant Chair." The flag salute was given, America was sung, and Rev. Asa Reed Dills pronounced the benediction.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST.

Missionary Sunday at the Immanuel Baptist church yesterday brought out a large attendance. In the morning Miss Frances Bennett, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, gave a general talk on missionary work. She also sang twice. In the evening Rev. A. W. Moore gave an address out of his personal experience as missionary in India.

CHELMSFORD STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. A. E. Kenyon preached an anniversary sermon yesterday morning, this being the beginning of his seventh year as pastor of the church. His text was "Now brethren, I commend you to God," Acts 20:32. He spoke in a reminiscent vein, of the work done by the church and societies connected with it and said in part: It is necessary to commend all callings to God, the mother, the teacher, the professional man should commend their work to God so their influence shall be for the highest good to those around them. Why do men not take this attitude, which is the most reasonable one? Because they do not recognize their responsibility to God and their fellow men, and because sin blinds them to the truth. The pastor in closing said it was his desire to commend the church and all its branches to God for the coming years, as he had endeavored to do in the past.

The church and society is in a very flourishing condition, many additions to the membership having been made recently, and the church has been renovated and repaired, both inside and out. The society is planning for a lawn party, and the following members of the Sunday school were appointed on a committee to represent the school: Messrs. Wills and Woodman and Miss Ida Cook.

The music yesterday was unusually good, the anthem "Awake Thou," being rendered by the choir, also "Let the words of My Mouth." Miss Maud Black and Choir Master Thomas sang "Pleasant Are Thy Courts."

MAN THEN FELL AND BROKE HIS LEG.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 3.—James Young, while endeavoring to escape from a pursuing officer last night, jumped an embankment near the North Weare railroad bridge and broke his leg. MISSION OPENED

Large Congregations at St. Michael's

Three Dominican Fathers from New York opened a two weeks mission at St. Michaels' church yesterday. At each mass one of the missionaries explained the order of exercises for the mission and gave brief instruction. At high mass the celebrant was Rev. Francis J. Mullin; Rev. Eugene A. Carney, deacon, and Rev. Dennis F. Murphy, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., delivered a strong sermon on "Salvation," during which he warned his congregation of the terrible punishment in store for the unrepentent sinner. He appealed to all to accept the opportunity offered during the mission to make their peace with God that they may enjoy the blessings and happiness promised the faithful. He reminded his auditors that in the struggle for riches and position in this world they must not neglect their spiritual welfare which is of the greatest importance.

In the evening Rev. Fr. Conlin, O. P., conducted the services, which were for women exclusively. He gave brief instruction in the rosary, and then followed recitation of the beads.

Fr. Conlin also preached the sermon, explaining the object of missions and the aim of the missionaries to reach all regardless of creed. The service ended with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

MISSION CLOSED.

In the little church at Collinsville the mission for the members of St. Mary's parish was brought to a close yesterday. It was conducted by the same priests who are preaching the retreat at St. Michael's church. During the four days of the mission the church was packed at each service, while yesterday morning several hundred received holy communion.

At 9.30 o'clock mass celebrated by Rev. John Shaw, the preacher was Rev. John Dominick, O. P.

In the afternoon at 3.30 the mission for women was brought to a close, Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., officiated and spoke to the women on "Perseverance," urging them to remain loyal to the promises made by them during the retreat and to be faithful in the performance of their church duties.

He gave the papal benediction to those who had complied with the conditions of the mission.

At 7 o'clock in the evening the men's mission ended with a sermon by Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., who also gave the papal benediction.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday about 70 boys and 91 girls made their first communion at the 7.30 o'clock mass. The altars were beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion. The girls were attired in white with white veils and floral wreaths. The boys were dressed in dark knickerbocker suits, black stockings and low shoes and wore a white ribbon on the sleeve and a white carnation.

Rev. Fr. Dorgan, O. M. I., at the 10.30 o'clock mass read an encyclical from Pope Pius X upon Christian Doctrine and the teaching catechism.

It was announced that confirmation would be administered on Wednesday evening by Bishop Brady.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

Over three hundred children received their first communion at the 8 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart church yesterday morning.

Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I., was the celebrant of the mass and he was assisted in giving communion by Rev. Fr Reynolds, O. M. I. The latter had charge of the children in their preparation for yesterday's event.

Wednesday morning at the 10 o'clock mass confirmation will be administered by Bishop Brady of Boston.

RECEIVED HOLY COMMUNION.

The annual communion of Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was held yesterday morning at seven o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church, to which the court marched in a body from St. Joseph's college hall where the line was formed.

Over 400 members were in line, wearing the full insignia. The court banner and flags were also borne in the march.

Rev. Fr. Dias, O. M. I., officiated at the mass, and delivered the sermon. After the service, Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I., chaplain of the court, also addressed the congregation.

Going to Make a Wedding Present of a

Cooking Range?

Well, don't impose upon the bride a stove that she won't like. Time and again young couples come into our store to buy their furniture, carpets, etc., and when we ask them if they want a range the answer is, no, we had a present of a range, but I wish they had given me a

CRAWFORD

Remember, they have to use it and buy the fuel it will consume for many years, and you are not doing them a kindness by giving them a range that will cost more to run than the Crawford. It does not matter how good a range you've got, the Crawford is as good every way and the wonderful patented Single Damper makes it more simple to handle and makes it do better work with less coal or wood. Not because we say so but because reason tells you it will.

OFFER OF PEACE

Has Been Well Received in Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5, 2.10 a. m.—President Roosevelt's tender of his good offices to bring about peace is received with general favor in the press and by the public and a desire that some steps should be taken towards securing an honorable peace is increasingly manifest.

The Russ declares that the president's offer should be commended as an act of friendship tending to bring out Japan's terms of peace and Russia's acceptance of an offer which would not mean surrender on humiliating terms. The paper maintains at the same time that negotiations if begun must be direct and that there must be no intervention by other powers.

Baron Rosen, the new ambassador to Washington, does not seem to be accelerating his departure on account of developments in the United States. He will sail on July 27.

THE FIRST DAY OF NAVAL BATTLE

On the morning of May 27, when the Russian fleet found itself 120 miles south of Tsu Island it was heading for the straits in three columns, the battleships and five cruisers on the left, the light cruisers on the right and the transports and torpedo boats between. The weather was foggy and the view therefore difficult.

At 5.20 o'clock in the morning the Russian fleet was discovered by the Japanese cruiser Idzumo, which blundered upon it in the fog and narrowly escaped capture.

At 10.30 o'clock four Japanese cruisers, the Chotose, Kasuga, Tsushima and Nitaka, were discovered to the northeast of the fleet and were fired on by the battleships. The Japanese cruisers disappeared and the Russian fleet proceeded through the strait.

Suddenly at 1.20 o'clock in the afternoon, a gaunt silhouette of Japanese vessels, their greenish blue paint making them scarcely visible in the fog, loomed up to the westward of the Russian vessels. These Japanese vessels consisted of four battleships and the armored cruisers Tokiwa, Nisshin, Kuzuga, Iwate and Idzumo. They immediately opened a heavy fire which was especially directed against the flagships of the various squadrons of the Russian fleet.

Admiral Rojestvensky signalled to the transports to place themselves on the right of the squadron of light cruisers so as to increase their distance from the fighting portion of the fleet, which was now hotly engaged and suffering under the well aimed fire of the Japanese.

Thanks to the precision of the Japanese gunners and the concentration of their fire on the flagships, within an hour and a half the Kniaz Suvaroff and the Oslabya were reduced to wrecks and soon sank.

Almost at the same time as the opening of the engagement between the battleship divisions a column of light Japanese cruisers appeared from the eastward and fell upon the retiring Russian transports and the light cruisers. The cruisers Vladimir, Monomach and Dmitri Donskoi were released from the left column and sent to the aid. They were repulsed by the Japanese cruisers but not before the Ural had been brought to a sinking condition.

The battle continued until 5 o'clock without any further noticeable change in the situation.

Soon thereafter the battleship Alexander III. began to list badly and dropped out of the line, but was quickly repaired, resuming her place and reopening fire. The battleship Borodino was then heading the line. The Japanese noticing the condition of the Alexander III. concentrated their fire upon her and she again dropped out of the line, this time finally and disappeared.

Such a heavy fire from the Japanese 12-inch guns was then directed against the Borodino that she was disabled and sunk. This was at 7.30 o'clock in the evening.

The battleship Sissoi Veliky was now ablaze but was firing every available gun. At this hour the onslaught of torpedo boats from the coast of Japan and the closing in of the battleships from the left broke up the Russian fleet, all of which except four battleships and the converted cruiser Ural were still holding together.

During the night the Japanese torpedo attacks continued the result of which was not known here until the report of the commander of the cruiser Izumrud was received from Vladimir bay.

During the battle a mass of Japanese junks is said to have obstructed the movements of the Russian fleet. The Russian officers assert that these junks scattered mines in the paths of their vessels.

The bodies of Lieut. Machills of the cruiser Almaz, and of other officers and sailors brought here by the Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyers were buried today.

Captain Reiff of the destroyer Grozny, describing the capture of Admiral Rojestvensky said that his vessel in company with the destroyer Bedovi on which Admiral Rojestvensky were steaming northward when they encountered the Japanese destroyers. The Bedovi signalled the Grozny, "How many knots can you make?" and on receiving the reply "twenty-three," ordered "full speed for Vladivostok."

The Grozny instead of obeying this signal engaged one of the Japanese destroyers, but the Bedovi raised the white flag and the Red Cross flag. While doing battle with her opponent the Grozny was unable to go to the aid of her consort, which was taken in tow by the other Japanese destroyers. The Grozny succeeded in shaking off her opponent but later encountered another Japanese destroyer which she sank in a running fight.

SCOUTS ATTACKED THE CAVALRY

TOKIO, June 5.—It is announced at imperial headquarters that the following has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian army:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of June 2, the enemy's cavalry, numbering about 30, came to Siaohaiotzu, nine miles east of Changtu. On the same day at noon cavalrymen of a like number appeared at Nanchenxitzu, six miles northeast of Whyuanpoomen, but were repulsed.

"On the same day also our scouts attacked the enemy's cavalry five miles north of Changtu railway station, killing one man and two horses and capturing one saddle horse.

"Otherwise there has been no change.

JEALOUS HUSBAND

Attacked Wife and Then Tried Suicide

USED A KNIFE IN BRUTAL MANNER

Both Are at Hospital and May Recover

BOSTON, June 5—Excited by jealousy, George A. Murree, alias Cook, a laborer, went to the house at 35 Elmer street, Cambridgeport, where his wife, Jane, was staying, yesterday noon, and after she had refused to return to their home with him he stabbed her twice—possibly mortal wounds in the back, and viciously assaulted her with his foot. On the way from the house he rushed at Allen Terrill, a colored boxer of some local reputation, who sat in the back yard being shaved, and during the struggle stabbed him five times in the back. Terrill's wounds are superficial.

Murree then swallowed half a pint of hydrochloric acid and after running a short distance fell in the street, writhing in pain. The police hurried Mrs. Murree and her husband to the Cambridge hospital, where the woman's wounds were dressed and the man relieved of the acid in his stomach.

Mrs. Murree's condition is serious, as the jackknife was plunged twice into her back just below the left shoulder blade and her left lung punctured by both wounds. The woman's vitality was materially reduced by the hemorrhage and the hospital physicians believe she may not recover.

Murree is also on the dangerous list as he drank so much acid it is impossible to tell how serious his internal injury is.

The police took the precaution to obtain an antemortem statement from Mrs. Murree, which she signed. The assault was witnessed by Mrs. Mary Murree and her 13-year-old daughter Laura, so if Murree should recover and his wife die there is abundant testimony against him.

Terrill did not have to go to the hospital. After Dr. Frank M. Gilman and Dr. Joseph Cunningham dressed his wounds he appeared as agile as ever.

HAD MANY QUARRELS.

The attempted murder was the culmination of a series of violent quarrels between Murree and his wife. She asserted that he had been so brutal that she was obliged to leave him and seek a separation. A week ago, after he was arrested while discharging a revolver on Portland street, Cambridge, she went to court and declared her husband threatened to shoot her before he went into the street to practice.

During the year they have lived in Cambridge Mrs. Murree has left her husband several times, in each instance taking refuge with her child at the home of her husband's cousin, Frank R. Murree of 35 Elmer street. Several days ago, being frightened by the revolver incident of a week ago Saturday night, she went to Mr. Murree's home. On previous occasions George Murree has sought her there and persuaded her to return with him. Yesterday he came in doubt that he could induce her to go back, evidently, for he said only a few words before he attacked her, and the testimony indicates that he contemplated murder and suicide.

PRISONERS GONE

They Overpowered the Jailer and Escaped

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 5.—"Jimmy" Burns, the alleged negro postoffice money order forger, who is charged with operating extensively in this state, Georgia and Tennessee, and who was brought here recently from Savannah, Ga., to be tried in the federal court, was one of 12 prisoners who escaped from the county jail early today. The prisoners were confined in a cell and during the night one of them feigned illness, calling up the jailer who opened the cell door to hand the sick man some medicine. The prisoners, all negroes, overpowered the jailer and rushed through the residential portion of the building and out to the street.

At 8 o'clock the followng entertainment was given, after which dancing and games were enjoyed until a late hour:

Mrs. Wiley acted as accompanist.

A BIG OBSTACLE

Garment Workers Must be Recognized

IN CHICAGO STRIKE AFFAIRS

A Walkout of 10,000 Men Threatened

CHICAGO, June 5.—The garment workers' strike, which practically has been regarded as a dead issue, now unexpectedly threatens to become an obstacle in future negotiations looking toward the settlement of the teamsters' war.

In the Chicago Federation of Labor meeting delegates from the Tailors' Union attacked the strike committee for "slighting" the 4,000 garment workers, out of sympathy for whom the teamsters went on strike. The federation in the end was forced to acknowledge that the two strikes were inseparable and that one could not be settled without the other. For half an hour the delegates wrangled over accepting the report of the strike committee. Charges were made that thousands of dollars contributed weekly by labor unions are being spent for the teamsters' fight, while the garment workers according to statements, are "starving." Teamsters who were present vigorously denied the assertions and succeeded finally in having the strike report adopted.

TEAM MUST BRACE UP

The Lowells Have Taken a Bad Slump

Only Two Men Are Doing Any Batting—Manager Mack Has Lost All Patience and Will Get Some New Players

Now that the other teams in the league and the financial aspect as well, have taken on a much needed brace it is up to Lowell to get into the game and beat out its pacemakers. For three weeks Lowell has steadily gone down the line but as they had much to contend with criticism will be suspended if they show any prospect this week of getting a move on. Lowell really has had some tough luck. Merritt split his finger, necessitating a change in the line-up. Anderburg has been gamely catching with a bad right hand while J. Connors was a misfit on third base and Barney McLaughlin, up to Memorial day, played shortstop like a wooden man. Manager Mack wants a winning team and is willing to pay the money to get one. He has sent for Young Jackson, who is reputed to have the goods, and has his eye open for others. He has one of the highest paid teams in the league and rightfully believes that with such a team he deserves something better than a place in the second division. The team isn't batting and that is its principal trouble. Jackson and Bigbie can hardly be criticized adversely as both are over .300 but they should not be content to remain bordering on the .300 mark but should keep plugging away. Two men doing the batting for a dozen will never win and outside of Jackson and Bigbie no one on the team is anywhere near the .300 mark while the batting averages of Merritt, .163, and McLaughlin, .115, are ridiculously low for two such good players.

About every other team in the circuit has shown a marked improvement and it is up to Lowell to do likewise right away. The averages:

THEY LOST AGAIN

Lynn Defeated Lowell in the Ninth

3200 PEOPLE WERE AT THE GAME

J. Connors Jumps the Lowell Team

Lowell held the lead over Lynn, Saturday for eight innings and then lost the game, Murphy and Pastor getting singles that won the game.

As usual a home run was made, Lowell was the lucky man. Grant showed them how to field and run bases and the 3200 spectators present were "stuck" on his work.

McLaughlin had 10 chances at short and missed three of them. J. Connors made the best play he has made all season by jumping the team after the game to join the Murray Hill Independents.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Fall River at Spalding Park today.

Four games in Lowell this week.

Merritt's finger is on the mend.

Blatchford and Carrier have been released by Doc.

The chances are there'll be other changes in the team are long.

Things are looking up some in point of attendance along the circuit since the ice went out of the rivers.

Jake Volz is to return to Manchester and soon there'll be more pitchers on the team than would stock a small league.

Lake had 3200 at Saturday's game while the Lynn Independents had 1600. Hurrah for Lake and twice hurrah for Lynn as a baseball town.

Owen Jackson, a brother of Jimmy Jackson, the Frostburg, Md., star on the team, arrived in town last night and will probably open up with the team today. Young Jackson has been catching for the Cumberland, Md., team and batted in .400. He is said to be a crackerjack. If he does as well as his brother he will be all right a couple of times.

When the firm of Mack and Connors learned "for a fact" that J. Connors had jumped the team they got together and shook hands with each other for Connors had relieved them of a painful duty that they were about to perform. Both hated to do it because "J." was such a nice fellow. He couldn't get close enough to the ground in fast hit groundors to make a successful third baseman.

Letter to PATRICK QUINN, Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sir: If it took 10 gallons to paint your house last time with somebody's else's paint, and takes 5 with Devoe, we save you $5 or $10; for painting costs two or three times as much as paint.

Mr. Ezra Buthanell, Williamsport, Pa., always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house; Devoe took 6.

But that isn't all; that's only first cost; how long will it wear?

The paint that goes furthest in covering, wears best too.

All paint, true paint, and full measure are on one side; part paint, false paint, and short-measure are on the other. What can you expect? expect?

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

THE REVERE FIRE

Several Buildings at Beach Destroyed

Cause of the Fire Is Not Known

BOSTON, June 5.—Fire devastated about two acres of the most crowded territory of Revere Beach about midnight Saturday, and in less than 30 minutes destroyed real estate valued at $50,000 and personal property worth $17,000. Despite inadequate fire fighting facilities, however, the general destruction of Revere Beach, which is so much feared by those most familiar with the inflammable character of the buildings there and the carelessness of the Revere town authorities' regarding precautions against fire along the beach, was again postponed.

Seven families were turned out by the fierce blaze, which swept over the area with remarkable rapidity. Without exception all these people lost practically all their personal property. The wonder is that some of them did not lose their lives. Beyond a few minor burns about the hands while attempting the hopeless task of saving some smaller and more valuable articles, none was injured.

The cause of the fire is not known to the authorities, nor is it agreed as to where it started. Some who were early at the scene declare that it began in the long wooden building known as the Dawson City show, while others, equally as well qualified to testify on the subject, declare that it originated in the four-story wooden building known as the Nickel Palace Theatre. The preponderance of testimony would seem to indicate that it began in the latter structure, and if it did start there the fire was doubtless of incendiary origin.

Because of the almost prohibitive insurance rates that prevail at Revere Beach, less than half the loss was covered by insurance. On the $17,000 loss on personal property there was insurance of only $1125. On account of the lack of sufficient fire-fighting facilities at the beach and of the character of the wooden structures there, the insurance underwriters demand a 5 per cent. premium, and this the property holders there feel that they cannot afford to pay.

The fire was first seen about 11.45 o'clock. Reserve Officer Hardenbrook of the metropolitan park police force was walking down Ocean avenue at that time with an acquaintance, when the latter called the officer's attention to sparks rising from somewhere in the rear of buildings that were soon afterward laid flat by the fire. Hardenbrook ran to box 36, about 300 feet away, and pulled in an alarm. He then ran to the two-story wooden block at the corner of Ocean avenue and Sagamore street, and pounded upon the door to arouse the sleeping inmates. From there he went to the three-story wooden block at the corner of Sagamore avenue and the boulevard and awakened the people there.

Meanwhile the blaze was spreading in all directions with lightning-like speed, and the warning had been given none too quickly. Hardenbrook feels sure that the fire started in the Dawson City building.

William E. McGinness was sitting on the steps of the Ocean avenue front of the big Johnstown flood building with a young woman. A passing boy spoke to him, saying that it looked as if there was a fire in the Nickel Palace building. Young McGinness ran to the front of that building and through a canvas stretched across one of the large windows of the unused structure, he saw a dull red glare. People who live at Revere beach fear fire more than anything else, and McGinness lost no time in running to the park police station, 700 feet away, and notifying Patrolman Holmes, who was in charge of the station, that the building was on fire. Holmes got busy and young McGinness and his girl companion ran to the Nicolini block at the corner of Ocean avenue and Sagamore street and did good work helping the women and children there to the street. McGinness is very emphatic in his declaration that the fire started in the Palace Theatre building.

The losses were as follows:

We know you will take our advice when we tell you to eat the best candy that is made. Now don't think the best candy is the kind that costs the most money, because that is not the case. It's not the cost, it's the purity you must consider.

Ever imagine how many people in Lowell are eating our Molasses Kisses? We wont say how many but we will say that they eat them about as fast as we can make them. That means that there is something about them that appeals to the taste. Made just as pure as molasses will make them, boiled just right, pulled just right, taste just right. Try some?

DEATH BLOW TO PHILADELPHIA CORRUPTIONISTS.

It would appear that political corruption in Philadelphia has received its death blow in the overthrow of the boldest attempt at public pillage ever projected by the organization that for seventy years has maintained a dominating sway over the politics of the state and the state capital.

More than seventy years ago the spoils system was fastened on Philadelphia by an astute politician named Simon Cameron, who secured from President Jackson the patronage of the state in lieu of his success in securing the nomination of Van Buren for vice president.

The Cameron machine was operated by various parties but always with one end in view, the plunder of the state for the benefit of the members, the bosses and the office holders.

The mantle of Simon Cameron fell with peculiar fitness on the shoulders of Mathew Stanley Quay, a man whom a Philadelphia paper describes as "the transcendent apostle of political unrighteousness, who obliterated first of all by his own example the doctrine that public office is a public trust."

Under Quay the spoils system attained its greatest power and every channel of authority was used for the purpose of public plunder. Rights were bartered away, franchises were sold, offices were created, salaries and fees were increased, contracts were awarded and sinecures provided at the public expense for the members of this oligarchy of corruption; and so the villainous work went on until the climax was reached in an effort to effect a deal by which the bosses would secure perhaps $10,000,000 in one haul while perfecting a deal by which the city of Philadelphia would lose about $100,000,000.

The people arose in their might and under the leadership of Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia this whole gigantic scheme of public pillage has been abandoned. The bosses of the organization have been routed and the city is saved. The people who did this should also prevent the erection of a public statue of Mathew Stanley Quay in a public square in Philadelphia as is now proposed by his surviving disciples. It would be an outrage to the rising generation and an insult to posterity to dignify the memory of such a man by a statue in a public square.

Now that popular sentiment is fully aroused, let the Quay statue project be overthrown, let it go down into deserved oblivion with the exploded gas robbery and the malign memory of Boss Durham, Simon Cameron and their lieutenants, cohorts and legion of grafters, boodlers and blacklegs.

FAR REACHING DECISION ON TAXATION.

The supreme court of the United States has rendered a far reaching decision to the effect that the value of franchises is taxable by the state same as land.

The decision was given in a New York tax case as it appears that the point at issue was the taxing of franchise values in corporations, values that in New York and other states had escaped taxation.

Heretofore the franchise giving a corporation the right to use the public streets was regarded as a contract not subject to taxation but the recent decision puts this view aside and treats a public franchise as a license having a definite and ascertainable money value which is to be the basis of taxation.

Under this decision every monopoly franchise in the United States is brought within range of that power of taxation which according to the same court has the power to destroy.

Massachusetts does not tax franchises but taxes corporations for what they are worth. It is plain that a franchise might be worthless or its value might be undeveloped, but in spite of this the right to tax franchises gives the state a power to grapple with monopoly that has not heretofore been applied.

The federal court unanimously holds that the conditions upon which a franchise is granted, whether the payment of money or the bearing of some burden are in the nature of purchase money and that the property thus conveyed is thereafter subject to taxation by the state "the same as land granted or leased by the state. If this be true in reference to a grant of tangible property, it is equally true in respect to a grant of a franchise, for a franchise, though intangible, is none the less property, and oftentimes property of great value. The exception of this intangible property is to eliminate from the reach of the taxing power a large portion of the wealth of the country."

Furthermore, it appears from this decision that the franchise, intangible though it be, is taxable regardless of the taxes that may be levied upon the results of the corporate operations. This will undoubtedly bring about a new system of taxing quasi-public corporations, most of which received their franchises free of charge, the assumption being that the granting power would be amply paid by taxing the corporation for its capital stock, its buildings and effects. The decision rests on the claim that a franchise is a proprietary entity, the value of which can be ascertained same as a piece of real estate.

SEEN AND HEARD

The graceful woman has the poetic girl beaten a whole lot of miles.

Japan seems to be full of those "knock-your-block-off" fellows.

There is no time in her life that a girl is so bewitchingly sweet as on the day she graduates.

"Ohio" is the Japanese word for "Good Morning." When the Jap meets the Russian, however, it is "O" something else.

The man who is slow in making promises and quick in keeping those he makes generally gets along the best.

One meets with some beautiful heads of hair in the Greek colony in Market street. Some men lost sight of the fact that it is just as hard to owe the barber as it is to owe the butcher.

This is the one season of the year when the motorman and the conductor whose daily route is through the woods and the meadows are to be envied.

The increased state tax this year means an increased tax rate in every town and city in the state, and Lowell's burden is a heavy one. What is the good of municipal economy after all? It is something like the little fellow who saves his pennies only to have his bank broken open and robbed by an older brother.

The matter of the Gregorian chant is agitating all Catholic choristers in the country, and, especially in Manchester, it will be interesting to note what Lacey Baker, the organist and choir master of New York's Calvary Episcopal church, has to say on the subject. He uses the following picturesque language:

"I have no patience with the melancholy meanderings of the Gregorian leviathan, which has dragged its lugubrious length across the dead epochs of pagan and philistine progress, with groanings that cannot be uttered externally, mourning like a pre-Adamite turtle dove, the loss of its mates, the mosasaurus and the dodo. It is unique. So is the three toed horse of the miocene period and the megatherium, and the bat with thumbs in its hind feet. Why struggle to perpetuate the nativity of Adam—why parade the fossilized relics of Noah's ark, the lame gaited shadows, these Gregorian skeletons?"

The war declared against waistcoats by E. N. Marshall, headmaster of Kingston grammar school, is generally but conditionally approved by hygienic experts.

A representative found several hygienic experts at the office of the Incorporated Society of Medical Officers of Health willing to express their opinions on the matter, and with one accord they were in favor of reforming the waistcoat, but not of abolishing it.

They agreed that the waistcoat, thick in front and with only thin lining at the back, was a death trap. "In winter every boy and man should have his waistcoat lined at the back with flannel," said one expert, "and all the year round it should be of uniform thickness."

"Too much care cannot be taken of the back," said another authority. "The spinal cord, which is a continuation of the brain, dominates every vital organ."

"The waistcoat as generally made is the most absurd garment conceivable, from a hygienic point of view," was the dictum of another medical man. "Either abolish it for a cardigan jacket, which is really thicker at the back than in front, or for some similar garment, or else insist upon having all waistcoats made of a uniform thickness."

The manager of a large outfitting firm said that not one in 1000 orders for clothing stipulate for a flannel-lined waistcoat.

"I think," he said, "schoolboys themselves would revolt at the suggested abolition of collars. My experience is that boys are growing increasingly fond of looking smart about the neck.

"Some school prospectuses require that the boys have 6 linen shirts or 4 flannel ones, and the latter alternative is very largely chosen."

CHEATED

The merchant who pays for advertising and doesn't get it, cries out that advertising doesn't pay. He is wrong. Advertising pays if you get it. If you pay for any commodity that is never delivered, you lose money on it, just the same as you lose on advertising that you pay for but never get.

When merchants learn to buy their advertising space in the newspapers as they buy their merchandise—by measure and weight, it will pay them. Buy space by the inch per thousand of circulation and see that you get what you pay for. Then you will never be cheated in advertising and it will pay you. The Sun will give you more advertising for your money than any other paper in Lowell. It is

MISS MUDGE

TOLD OF MISSIONARY WORK IN INDIA.

The Young Women's Christian association held its Sunday afternoon meeting in the First Baptist church, yesterday. The meeting was held in the church in order to accommodate the friends of Miss Jennie L. Mudge, the former general secretary, who is in Lowell after an absence of seven years devoted to missionary work in India.

Miss Frances Bennett presided, the president of the association, Mrs. Francis Carll, read the Scripture lesson, and there were words of welcome by Miss Bailey, the vice president. Miss Bigelow, chairman of the missionary committee, gave a report of the missionary work of the association.

There was singing by the congregation, with Mr. A. F. French at the organ and Miss Ella Rutherford leading, with solos and duets by Mrs. E. G. Russell and Miss Ethel Wotton.

When Miss Mudge was presented, the congregation arose and gave her the Chautauqua salute.

She spoke briefly, making little mention of her work in India. She said it has not been her lot to endure the hardships that many other missionaries have endured, and she does not feel a bit of a martyr; yet there have been times, when, if it had not been for the prayers going up at home, and especially in Lowell, she could not have gone on. If she were not a missionary in India, she said, she would rather be in this association than anywhere else. She referred to the need of sympathy and help, here at home, for the work in India, where conditions, while they are changing for the better, especially among the women and girls, are still in great need of more spiritual light.

SHOT HIMSELF

BOSTON MAN A SUICIDE IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., June 5.—About 6 last evening a man who gave the name of T. F. Hale of Boston shot himself through the head in his room at a hotel on Forest avenue.

He died at the hospital at 11.25. He was unconscious from the time he was found until his death. He had apparently destroyed every paper in his possession likely to lead to his identification.

He came from Boston about five days ago on business, he said, but did not tell what it was to any one. It is supposed that he had deliberately decided to take his life, and that he came here to do it. He had no luggage, watch or money, as far as is known. During his stay here he did not get shaved, and it is thought he did not have any money.

GAS WAS ON

MEMBERS OF WARD AND VOKES CO. HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

HAVERHILL, June 5.—Lucille and Tilly Munroe, of the Ward & Vokes company, which closed its season in this city Saturday evening, narrowly escaped asphyxiation by gas in their room at a hotel on How street early yesterday morning.

Tilly Munroe on retiring turned off the gas and accidentally turned it on again. The escaping gas was detected by William Smith, another member of the company, who forced open the door of the room of the Munroe sisters and aroused them. Both women were partially overcome, but revived.

$175,000 LOSS

ANOTHER FIRE IN AN ILL-FATED BLOCK.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 5.—The ill-fated block of the retail district which has suffered a loss of two million dollars by fire in the past eight years, was yesterday the scene of another fire which caused a loss of $175,000.

GIVES UP

NAN PATTERSON TIRES OF THEATRICAL LIFE.

ALTOONA, Penn., June 5.—Nan Randolph Patterson, discouraged, disheartened and completely broken in spirit, severed her connection with the "Romance of Panama" company, with which she was touring, Saturday night and left early yesterday for her home in Washington.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To clean cane-seated chairs, scrub with salty water and dry slowly.

Straw matting should be cleaned by dipping a large, coarse cloth in salty water, wiping thoroughly and drying.

Beat a carpet on the wrong side first, then on the right side. A bundle of tough switches is an excellent carpet beater.

If a carpet begins to show signs of wear, rip up the lengths apart and transpose, putting the worn widths on the sides.

In nailing down a carpet, be sure that the floor is perfectly dry, else the tacks may rust and injure the carpet. Tinned tacks are best to use.

To remove fly-specks from gilt frames, wash very gently with warm alcohol (heated by setting in a pan of hot water), letting it dry on.

Coal oil will clean smoked copper, nickel, tin or agate ware, which should afterwards be polished with old paper. To clean the wash pan, nothing is better than a few drops of coal oil.

For brightening grates, fronts, fenders, and similar iron substances, mix well one pint of asphaltum with a gill of turpentine, and apply evenly with a paint brush. This quantity is enough for five grates.

To brighten carpets after beating, wipe all over with a soft cloth dipped in ammonia water—one gill of household ammonia to one gallon of water. Remove spots with ox-gall and water—one pint of ox-gall to three gallons of water. Tar or wax may be removed by rubbing with turpentine.

To clean a soiled carpet, make a suds, cream-like in consistence, of good soap and soft water, and apply with a small scrubbing brush, cleaning only a small space at a time, sponging it off at once with clean cold water and rubbing dry with soft clean cloths. A weak solution of alum or soda is used to revive colors.

A pale pink coloring for walls can be made by dissolving whiting or lime in cold water and adding enough permanganate of potash to give it the desired color. Add a little liquid glue and apply as you would whitewash. A pale yellow can be made with a little yellow ochre, and the laundry blueing bag will give a tint of blue.

THE POLICE ROUTED

Troops Threatened to Shoot Down Russian Crowd

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—At a great demonstration last evening in the Pavlovsk garden near Tsarskoe-Selo, the five thousand persons present clamored for a funeral march in memory of the Russian sailors who had lost their lives in the naval disaster in the Sea of Japan. The members of the orchestra became alarmed and fled from the platform when M. Novokoff, former mayor of Baku, arose and said:

"Let us all, by rising, show respect for the victims. Down with the war. We have had enough of blood."

Some eighty policemen entered from either side of the hall and elbowed their way through the crowd towards M. Novokoff whereupon cries were raised of "Let us attack the police." Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword. The policemen fled precipitately.

Order being restored a number of speeches were delivered on the national crisis. Suddenly the police, reinforced to between 200 to 300, again invaded the hall and rushed on the audience with drawn swords. The people defended themselves with chairs and sticks, but after ten minutes were driven from the hall into the garden where there was a battalion of riflemen, who raised their rifles to their shoulders preliminary to the order to fire being given, causing a panic. The public fled toward the exits and finding them closed, smashed the doors and windows of the hall and so gained the street. Many persons were injured, some so seriously that they had to be taken to a hospital.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 5.—In the course of a sermon on Christian morality before the Princeton students yesterday, President Francis Patton of Princeton Theological seminary, said:

"I hate to see a cold-blooded, right-living rascal who has his $40,000,000 and can teach Sunday school regularly and drive his hard bargain every week, always keeping just within the range of the law. If I were asked what I thought of such a man I would say he was lucky not to be in jail."

GRAND EULOGY

Before the Manchester Unity Odd Fellows

BY CHAIRMAN FRED HUMPHRISS

At the First Primitive Methodist

Impressive services in memory of their dead were held by members of I. O. O. F., Manchester Unity, yesterday. The services were participated in by lodges of Lowell and North Billerica. The grave dedication took place in the morning and, later services were held at the Primitive Methodist church in Gorham street. The church was crowded and the presence of Loyal Victoria lodge of Odd Ladies added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

The line of march was formed at Elks hall, Middle street, at 1 o'clock. Eight officers of various lodges with drawn swords, preceded the National band, R. A. Griffiths leader.

Following was a carriage containing Provincial Grand Master Charles J. Thomas of Worcester; Vice Grand Fred G. Humphriss; Rev. N. W. Matthews and Rev. J. M. Craig.

lodge being at the right of the line. Integrity, Wamesit and Merrimack Valley lodges of this city, and Asa Pollard lodge of North Billerica, followed in order. The ranks were well filled in all of the contingents.

From Middle street the line went to Palmer, to Merrimack, to Central and direct to the Edson cemetery.

The mound marking the resting place of Alexander Mack, of Wamesit lodge, was the centre of the memorialists. Provincial Grand Master Thomas read the full ritual of the Manchester Unity.

The service began about 3 p. m. and upon the platform were seated beside Chairman F. G. Humphriss and the pastor, Rev. N. W. Mathews, Provincial Grand Master Chas. J. Thomas of Worcester, Past Provincial Grand Masters George Emsley of Lowell and Stuart Mackay of North Chelmsford, Provincial Secretary J. W. Clegg, Rev. J. M. Craig and Rev. George F. Kenngott.

ELOQUENT EULOGY.

The following eulogy was delivered by Chairman Fred Humphriss:

"As each succeeding year passes into history ,we find our circle of friends has been invaded.

"Once more we are called upon to do honor to the memory of those who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above.

"The memory of our deceased members should ever be an incentive to us to emulate their most worthy acts—to strive to so perform our duty that when life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labor ended, we may be received into, and dwell forever in the heavenly kingdom.

"Our friends may die and leave our hearts and homes desolated for a time —we cannot prevent it—nor would it be best if we could. If we lose them, heaven gains by them. If we mourn, they rejoice. If we hang our harps on the willows, they tune theirs in the eternal orchestra above, rejoicing that we shall soon be with them.

"We may still love the departed. They are ours as ever, and we are theirs. The ties that unite us are not broken. They are too strong for death's stroke. They are made for the joys of eternal friendship. Other friendships on earth will not disturb these bonds that link with dear ones on high. Nor will our duties below interfere with the sacredness of our relations with them. 'The sorrow for the dead,' says Irving, 'is the sorrow from which we refuse to be divorced. Every other wound we seek to heal; every other affliction to forget; but this wound we think it a duty to keep open; this affliction we cherish and brood over in solitude.'

"The love which survives the tomb is one of the noblest attributes of the soul. Though it may sometimes throw a passing cloud over the bright hour of gaiety, or spread a deeper sadness over the hour of gloom, yet who would exchange it, even for the song of pleasure or the burst of revelry? No, there is a voice from the tomb sweeter than song. There is a remembrance of the dead to which we turn even from the charms of the living. The grave buries every error, covers every defect, extinguishes every resentment. From its peaceful bosom spring none but fond regrets and tender recollections. Who can look upon the grave even of an enemy, and not feel a compunctious throb that he should have warred with the poor handful of earth that lies mouldering before him. But the grave of those we love what a place for meditation! There it is, we call up in long review the whole history of virtue and gentleness, and the thousand endearments lavished upon us almost unheeded in the daily intercourse of intimacy.

"Death comes equally to us all and makes us all equal when it comes. No sex is spared, no age exempt. The majestic and courtly roads which monarchs pass over, the way that the men of letters tread, the path the warrior traverses, all lead to the same place, all terminate, however varied in their routes, in that one enormous house which is appointed for all living.

"'It is appointed unto men—unto all men, once to die,' we are all subject to death.

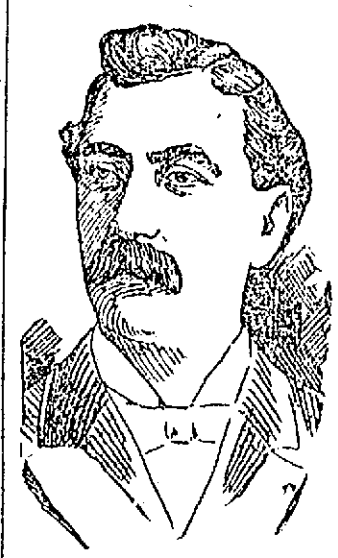

"The ashes of an oak in a chimney are no epitaph of that to tell us how 'high' or 'large' that was; it tells us not what flocks it sheltered when it stood nor what men it hurt when it fell. The dust of great men's graves is speechless too; it says nothing; it distinguishes nothing. Look at the hero as he stands on an eminence and covered with glory. He falls suddenly, forever. His intercourse with the living world is now ended, and those who would hereafter find him must seek him in the grave. There, cold and lifeless, is the heart which just now was the seat of friendship; there dim and sightless, is the eye whose radiant and enlivening orb beamed with intelligence, and thence closed forever, are those lips, on whose persuasive accents we have so often, and so lately hung with transport.

"From the darkness which rests upon his tomb there proceeds, methinks a light, in which it is clearly seen, that those gaudy objects which men pursue are only phantoms. In this light, how dimly shines the splendor of victory; how humble appears the majesty of grandeur! The bubble, which seemed to have so much solidity, has burst, and we again see that all below the sun is vanity.

"True, the funeral eulogy has been pronounced, the sad and solemn procession has moved, the badge of mourning has already been decreed and presently the sculptured marble will lift up its front, proud to perpetuate the name of the hero and rehearse to the passing traveller his virtues; just tributes of respect, and to the living useful but to him, mouldering in his narrow and humble habitation, what are they? how vain; how unavailing! During a life so transitory, what lasting monument, then, can our fondest hopes erect?

"It is true that a few friends will go and bury us; affection will rear a stone and plant a few flowers over our grave; in a brief period the little hillock will be smoothed down, and the stone will fall, and neither friend nor stranger will be concerned to ask which one of the forgotten millions of the earth was buried there. Every vestige that we ever lived upon the earth will have vanished away. All the little memorials of our remembrance; the lock of hair encased in gold or the portrait hung in our dwelling will cease to have the slightest interest to any living being. We need but look into the cemetery and see the ten thousand tearful faces; ten thousand breathless lessons. There was a time when we flashed through these vacant orbs; when warm ambitions, hopes, joys, and the loving life pulsed in these bosoms. Dreams of fame and power once haunted those empty skulls.

"The little piles of bones, that once were feet, ran swiftly and determinedly through twenty, forty, sixty, seventy years of life, but where are the prints they left? He lived, he died, he was buried, is all that the headstone tells us. We move among the monuments, we see the sculpturing, but no voice comes to us to say that the sleepers are remembered for anything they have done.

"A generation passes by. The stones turn gray, and the man has ceased to be, and is to the world, as if he had never lived. Thus is life. Only a few years do we journey here and we come to that bridge, Death transports us as the road we have traveled, either virtue, happiness and joy to a happy paradise of love, or the road of passion, lust and vice to destructive wretchedness.

"Since our last memorial services, the grim reaper has visited our ranks many times and taken from us many active workers, many who will be sadly missed, not only in the homes where they were fondly loved, but we shall miss them in our councils in the subordinate lodges.

THE DEATH ROLL.

"Your committee on honored dead submits the following report in memory of our deceased members: "Such are the thoughts and emotions that control our speech that we keenly feel our inability to give proper expression to the loss our order has sustained by the death of the following members, who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above:—

Bro. Frank Lockwood, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, July 9, 1904.

Bro. John G. Hewson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7196, July 12, 1904.

Bro. Henry Kimball, Integrity lodge, No. 6630, Sept. 23, 1904.

Bro. Millage B. Nichols, Wamesit lodge, No. 4106, Nov. 29, 1904.

Bro. Robert H. Swift, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Dec. 29, 1904.

Bro. Wm. Cochrane, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Jan. 11, 1905.

Bro. James Wilson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7196, May 3, 1905.

Your committee are pleased to report that the membership of Excelsior lodge and Asa Pollard lodge, also Viceforis lodge, No. 1, I. L. O. O. Ladies, have not been invaded by death during the past year.

List of members' wives deceased:—

Sarah H. Garner, wife of Bro. Geo. Garner of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died Oct. 26, 1904.

Nellie May Huntley, wife of P. G. Nelson E. Huntley of Excelsior lodge, No. 6303, died Jan. 4, 1905.

Elizabeth G. Dawson, wife of P. G. James Dawson of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died April 6, 1905.

"If, as we are told, 'the brightest niche on the wall of fame is awarded to those whose unwavering devotion to principle and duty have become a cardinal virtue' then, as we read the resolutions adopted by the lodges, in loving memory of their deceased members, we must feel that they represent in the highest sense, that splendid type of high and noble living, the outgrowth of true fraternity, and that our order is poorer even as Heaven is richer, because they have gone from us. We are reminded as we read the list of the year that

"Thus from life to death, from death to life,
We hurry round to God,
And leave behind us nothing
But the path that we have trod."

True to the principles and the spirit of our order these members have left behind a record of service in the green fields of humanity. The memory of our departed members should ever be an incentive to us, to emulate their most worthy acts, to strive to so perform our duty that when "Life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labors ended, we may be received into and dwell forever in the Grand Lodge above."

Let us not look upon our members as dead, rather let us take the Scripture assurance as our guide: "In My Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would have told you; I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

Good men have fallen, noble and true brothers have crossed the shining river, they have left indelible footprints on the sands of time. We will cherish their memory, and strive to emulate their manly virtues. Kind friends, gentle companions, noble sons, true husbands, loved brothers, beloved sisters and wives, farewell.

Thus, pass away the men of might,
Whose noiseless footprints stamped the age.
Their thoughts that filled the earth with light
Still glow and blaze on memory's page.

There is no death; the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forever more.

Thus we part from them; their lives will be a constant inspiration, and their good deeds will shine as bright stars in the firmament, examples by which we may guide our own lives and shape the course of our own service.

May we so live, that when the summons comes to us to pass at God's command through the shadowy gates to reach the sunlight of the eternal hills, we, too, may receive the welcome salutation: "Well done, thou good and faithful servants" and may the victors crown be placed on our brow, that crown sparkling with gems of glory, unfading and eternal.

Sincerely and fraternally submitted, Fred G. Humphriss, chairman; P. P. G. M. Geo. Emsley, P. G. John S. Jackson, P. G. Walter Killerby, P. G. Robert Tivey, committee on honored dead.

The brothers and friends adopted the report and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

A retreat for children making their first communion next Sunday will commence this afternoon at St. Jean Baptiste church.

HEAVY RIDING

ON THE CARS YESTERDAY ON ALL LINES.

Yesterday's fine weather proved a great day for trolley riding and the local division of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. is quite a number of dollars richer this morning. Everyone who could find the time, enjoyed a trip on the trolleys to some place.

Lakeview seemed to be the objective point for the majority of people and all of the available open cars were pushed on this line in order to accommodate the traffic, and there was not enough, but everything went along nicely, there being no accidents and the cars made good time.

Many of the suburban points were patronized by people who wanted to enjoy the ride and not be too crowded in the cars, but all of the cars were crowded from ten o'clock in the morning until late at night. Many people made the Boston trip, while Canobie Lake park was also well patronized.

At Willow Dale there was a large gathering and the new skating rink was crowded all the afternoon and evening.

The marriage of Mr. Ovide Fortin and Miss Emma Gallien was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, Rev. Fr. Audibert, O. M. I., officiating at the ceremony. Miss Fortunate Tellier was bridesmaid, and Mr. Antoine Fortin best man.

CAMPHOR BALLS

NOT NEEDED FOR MOTHS AT OPERA HOUSE.

There are Moths at the Opera House tonight and they will not be driven away for a week. They are not of the species that can be removed by camphor balls. They are the men and women Moths of society, those human insects that prey upon the delicate ermine of reputation and eat it away until the whole beautiful fabric falls to dust.

Ouida's beautiful story of "Moths" has been for many years the standard of all parlor melodramas. It is essentially a society play of modern Russia where intrigue holds sway day and night, but its characters are all finely drawn, and its human interest is greater than half the so-called successes of today. It started the fortune of the elder Wallack in New York, who ran it for nearly two years with such people as Herbert Kelley, Osmond Tearle, Rose Coghlan and Rose Eytinge. Scenically it will o'ertop any production of the Huntington, DeDeyn Stock company seen in our city and the new gowns will be a revelation to the feminine portion of the audience. Mr. Huntington will again head the bill in his favorite role of Lord Jura ,and Miss Fleicher will be seen at Vera.

NEW LAW

IN RELATION TO FINES FOR DRUNKENNESS.

The new law in relation to drunkenness, recently passed and which becomes operative July 1 is as follows:

"When a person convicted before a municipal, police or district court is sentenced to imprisonment or to pay a fine and to stand committed until the same has been paid, the court may direct that the execution of said sentence be suspended and that he be placed on probation for such time and on such terms and conditions as it shall fix. In case the sentence is to pay a fine not exceeding $10 and to stand committed until the same be paid, if the court finds that the defendant is unable to pay the fine when it is imposed and will not probably default and that it will not be detrimental to the interests of the public, the execution of the sentence shall be so suspended and he shall be placed on probation.

"When the execution of a sentence to pay a fine has been suspended as aforesaid, one of the conditions of the probation shall be that the fine shall be paid during the period of probation. Said fine shall be paid to the probation officer, whereupon the order of commitment shall be void. The probation officer shall give a receipt of every fine so paid, shall pay the fine to the clerk of the court at its next session, and shall keep on file the clerk's receipt therefore. If at the end of said period the probation officer shall report to the court that the fine is unpaid, and that the person is unable to pay the same, the court may either extend said period, place the case on file, or revoke the suspension of the execution of the sentence.

FOOT CRUSHED

Paul R. Burtt Meets With Accident

HIS FOOT RUN OVER BY CAR

Knocked From Running Board by Wagon

Paul R. Burtt, the well-known local florist, had his right foot crushed by an electric car in Gorham street last night. His injuries consisted of a laceration between the fourth and fifth toes which required ten stitches to close. The nails of the first and second toes were torn off and he sustained abrasions and small lacerations on the right foot and left leg.

He was boarding an outbound Gorham street car near the corner of Middlesex and Central streets. He was on the running board of the car when a wagon passed and knocked him off.

In falling his feet fell across the rails, but he pulled them partly off before the car wheels reached him. His right foot was caught in the flange and drawn some little distance before the car was brought to a stop.

He was taken to a nearby store and later removed to the Emergency hospital, where his injuries were treated.

He had a narrow escape from being killed.

Administrator's Sale

SALE OF A VERY BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE. HOUSE, BARN AND ABOUT 8750 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, KNOWN AS THE C. H. LATHAM ESTATE AT 73 THIRD STREET, CENTRALVILLE.

As administrator of the above estate, I will offer by public sale this fine piece of residential property. The buildings are in perfect condition, receiving that care and attention, given by the old timed custom of "taking well care of that which shields you from storm and wind." The house contains ten large, high studded rooms, bath, pantry and an exceedingly fine cellar. It is heated by furnace, has gas lighting, good sewerage, slated roof and is perfect in description. It sets on the highest part of the lot, which has a decidedly high elevation on the street side; there is a door leading from the basement in the rear which is on a level with that part of the lot, showing the high elevation on which the house proper sets. The basement is very convenient and well kept, having a well lighted workroom, wash room, and storage for coal and fruit, all having cemented floorings. The barn has two stalls, a box stall, a fine carriage room, harness room, and a good loft. Wednesday, June 7, at 4.30 o'clock

Absolute sale by auction of a parcel of property, consisting of buildings and about 4600 square feet of land situated at 122, 124 and 126 Fletcher street.

Promptly at 4.30 in the afternoon on date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public sale, this parcel of property, consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The building at 122 and 124 is a two-story building, used as a blacksmith shop, and is adapted for almost any kind of light manufacturing; the floor above, or second story, is used at present for storage. The building at 124 is a 2½-story structure, and is occupied by a junk shop in front and a wheelwright in the rear. The above two buildings could, at very little expense be converted into quite a building for manufacturing purposes. The lot contains about 4600 square feet, with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway which must be forever left open, 84 feet, giving fine frontages, and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets, as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an exceptionally fine site for manufacturing, and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. This sale will be an absolute one, to the highest bidder, on that day.

Terms: $400 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale; other terms at sale. C. F. KEYES in charge.

Thursday, June 8, 1905, at 3.30 o'clock

A VERY FINE RESIDENCE: HOUSE, BARN, AND ABOUT 13,500 SQ. FEET OF LAND AT THE CORNER OF PINE STREET AND HIGHLAND AVENUE NUMBERING 238 PINE STREET.

Resolved am I to place my residence before you at public competition, and though it may seem singular for me in so doing, I feel that in justice to myself, I should live nearer my business, therefore I will make a positive sale to the one bidding the most on that day set apart. The buildings are of good styled architecture, they have slated roofs, set well back on the lot and make an attractive and beautiful dwelling.

The house has vestibule front with leaded glass doors, entering into a large reception hall finished in quartered oak, and lighted by leaded glass windows; from the reception hall is a large drawing room, living room with open fireplace and cherry mantle, and a beautiful dining-room finished in quartered oak; a very convenient kitchen, pantry, wash room with set boiler and soap-stone trays and a summer kitchen in the rear. The second floor has six large, well lighted, ventilated chambers and bath; and a finished room on next floor for servant. It is heated throughout by steam, a Scannell & Wholey boiler which I had put in new last year, supplying the same; it has gas lighting, electric bells, cemented cellar and every modern convenience used for residential purposes.

The barn has two stalls and a box stall, a fine carriage room with concrete flooring, a small room for man, a harness room and a good loft running the entire length. The whole first story is sheathed with Georgia Pine, finished natural.

The grounds, containing about 13,500 square feet, is graded to a beautiful lawn, is bordered on both streets by a pretty evergreen hedge, has concrete walks and driveway, and concrete around the entire buildings; there are also a dozen or more full grown fruit trees and shrubberies on the lot. The large frontages on both streets give this an excellent situation. It is but a few minutes' walk to the car service on Westford or Stevens streets, and is clustered with some of our best city residences. Now I am determined to sell and I am fully aware of the sacrifice I will have to make, so if you are in the market for an up-to-date, perfect residence, this is your chance.

Terms: $750 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale.

HIS NATIVE TOWN

Plaistow N. H. Remembered by A. G. Pollard

A. G. POLLARD.

Touching Tributes to Honored Son—Lowell Roasted by Messrs Marden and Pickman

Mr. Arthur G. Pollard of this city paid a visit in memory of his boyhood days to Plaistow, N. H., Saturday afternoon, and the little New Hampshire town turned out en masse to honor its distinguished son. From many other cities and towns, to which they have removed, sons and daughters of Plaistow assembled, and at a flag-raising on a beautifully graded lot adjacent to the town hall otver 1500 persons were present.

The flag pole, which is one of the longest in the country, standing 125 feet in height, is a gift to the Village Improvement association, as well as is the flag, a handsome silk banner, 25x18 feet. While the flag-raising celebration was primarily the purpose of the gathering, the occasion developed into a genuine old home affair, and it will be a long time ere the residents of Plaistow will forget the series of events that took place.

On every hand Mr. Pollard, the town's benefactor, was greeted cordially, and it was a pleasant spectacle to witness the hearty hand-shaking and remembrance of old family names among those who had not met in many years. The town hall was gaily dressed in festoons of the national colors and nearly all of the surrounding houses were profusely decorated. From every window of the town hall there hung the folds of American banners, and within the building evergreens and palms and cut flowers were in prominence everywhere. The stairway to the assembly hall was converted into a floral bower and from balcony to platform streamers of red, white and blue were stretched and attractively intertwined.

Literary exercises accompanied the flag-raising, and the speakers included George A. Marden, United States subtreasurer in Boston; Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the Lowell park commission; Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell and District Attorney W. S. Peters of Haverhill.

Upon the village square from 1 to 2 o'clock Quimby's band of Haverhill, seated in an elaborately decorated band stand, gave a concert which was listened to by a large gathering.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the flag was slowly hauled upward, the rope being in the hands of Miss Cora Pollard of Plaistow, cousin of the donor, while Mr. Pollard himself stood close by. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the children of the public schools, grouped near the band stand, sang the national anthem.

Orchestral music was filling the town hall as the spectators at the flag-raising began to disperse, and while the assembly hall was being filled by those who gathered to listen to the patriotic exercises a splendid program was rendered by Loukee's orchestra of Haverhill.

Mrs. Elbridge H. Lloyd, president of the Village Improvement society, opened the exercises, and when she rose to speak the hall was filled to overflowing and many were obliged to remain downstairs because there was no room for them above. In her address of welcome she paid eloquent tribute to the public-spiritedness of Mr. Pollard and his loyalty to his native town. She enumerated some of the many gifts he has bestowed upon Plaistow, and said that the flag and pole were but the latest of the tokens of his love and remembrance of his own people.

A. G. Pollard, in responding, made a characteristically modest address. He said that he wished only to express his gratitude for the kind words of the president and for the evidences of esteem in which he is held by his townspeople. He said that whatever he had done for Plaistow was prompted purely by love of his native town, and that if what he has given is appreciated, as he feels sure it is, he is satisfied. He thanked the Village Improvement society for electing him to honorary membership, and said he was proud to be associated with an organization whose purposes were so noble as those of Village Improvement societies. "In this simple gift of the hour," said he, "I feel that I am doing but my duty to remember the town that gave me birth, and I cherish the hope that our mutual efforts to conserve the best interests of Plaistow will be attended by grand results."

George A. Denoncour was then introduced as master of ceremonies and in opening he congratulated the Village Improvement association upon the good work it is performing. "This day," said he, "is a banner one for Plaistow; one that should be remembered by its citizens for years to come. Regardless of creed, color or station in life we assemble to do honor to a generous townsman, who, though he has gone from our midst these many years to assume a place of prominence in a great city, never forgets the little town from out of which he went in youth to engage in the battle of commercial life."

Mrs. George Cox of Laconia, N. H., sang "The Homeland," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Fred Dunn, and was followed by Rev. Charles A. Towne pastor of the Baptist church, who spoke eloquently.

Hon. George A. Marden of Lowell was introduced as "an honored son of Massachusetts" and he immediately corrected the master of ceremonies by stating that he was born in New Hampshire and proud of his native state.

Mr. Marden after some introductory remarks said:

"It is the duty of every man to vote—and I believe also that the women should be given the same privilege. I care not for whom the ballot might be cast, every citizen should exercise the right of his enfranchisement. Only let me warn you as to the citizens you put up for public office. Do not as we do in Lowell, have some of the worst men in the community for your public officials, choosing them in spite of your knowledge of their unfitness because of a desire to adhere to your respective political parties. That kind of voting is wrong. Over in the city where I live it has been discovered that there are over 700 men who have not paid their poll taxes. Now, to my mind, a man who would refuse to pay his poll tax would steal—perhaps not outright, unequivocally steal, but like Ananias he would 'hold back.'

"Mr. Pollard has put you on the right track," continued the speaker, "and now you surely can keep going straight ahead. If you do not, Mr. Pollard has only his labor for the pains he has taken to help you."

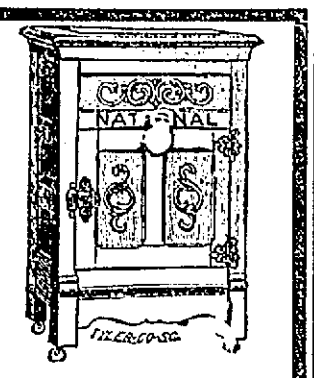

An original poem, entitled "Plaistow, My Native Town," composed by Mary Peaslee Gardner, was read.

Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission in Lowell, among other things said:

"To beautify a town or city is a noble work, and the man engaged in it is entitled to great praise.

"For years we had the opportunities to branch out in this manner in Lowell, but although I do not like to speak ill of my own city, I am forced to admit that it has been in the grasp of politicians who used the department established for keeping our beauty spots in proper condition as a vehicle mere for the securing of jobs for their followers. The only question of the bosses seemed to be, 'How many men can we get work for?' A few years ago, however, a woman's club over there became actively engaged in the betterment of existing affairs and the result of their insistent efforts was the creation of the park commission, and now there appears to be general satisfaction. There was a time when the city and town funds were spent only for the erection of public buildings, the construction of sewers and such like, but that period has passed and we are now starting on a new era. The establishment of parks and public breathing spots enhances real estate values and broadens a city or town. We have a beautiful place known as Fort Hill park in Lowell, and since it was accepted by the city the section of the city in which it is located has been built up from a wilderness to a thickly settled and fashionable suburb."

"A stranger visiting Plaistow," said Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell, "could not help but be favorably impressed. Like Mr. Pollard himself, the place contained force and power and was bound to continue to greater achievements. In small towns can be found the very bulwark of America's best citizenship." He congratulated the Village Improvement association upon having upon its rolls the name of one of Lowell's most distinguished citizens, and said that he knew whereof he spoke when speaking in the highest terms of praise of Plaistow's honored son. "He comes here in the utmost sincerity today," said the speaker, "to lay at your feet some token of his regard. I know that in the midst of his business trials he is always thoughtful of his native town and seeking some new method of advancing its interests. He was prompted in giving the pole and flag by his tender associations here. No selfish motive has entered into any of his numerous benefactions. I congratulate him upon doing what he has done for so appreciative a people, and will remember with pleasure the spectacle of your little children singing the glorious 'Star Spangled Banner' as the flag slowly climbed its way upon the staff."

HIS SON MISSING

Father Fears That Boy Read Dime Novels

John Allen, 15 years old, son of Oliver C. Allen is missing from his home in Marsh street. The boy left home last Thursday evening about 7 o'clock and his father and the police have been unable to obtain any clue to his whereabouts.

His father and sisters are very anxious regarding him. Mr. Allen called at The Sun office this afternoon and asked that the story of the boy's disappearance be made public.

"I'm afraid," said Mr. Allen, "that the boy read too many dime novels. He was employed in the Carpet mills and when he didn't have anything else to do he read dime novels. He had a good home and was well cared for.

"When he came home Thursday he told me they had not paid off at the mill because of the holiday on Tuesday and I told him that was all right. He went upstairs and changed his clothes. He put on the best he had and went out. That was the last we heard of him. I am very anxious about him and thought that by publishing the story of the boy's disappearance it may reach the attention of somebody who had seen the boy or who knows of his whereabouts."

When he left home he wore a coat of dark mixed material and a gray cap with flaps and buttons. He is about medium size, dark complexion and has dark hair.

SUPT. MOFFATT

Talks of His Washington Trip

Supt. Moffatt is back at his desk in the police station again after a most interesting week's trip to Washington, D. C., where he was in attendance at the annual convention of the chiefs of police of the country and learned much concerning police methods and incidentally imparting much valuable information on the finger-print system.

WASHINGTON BIKE POLICE.

"On Wednesday morning we were all out at 9 o'clock to witness a parade and drill by the Washington police bicycle corps which was most interesting. They came along on their wheels, in single file, in twos, fours and finally in platoons wheeling along with the precision of military men. Then we were treated to a chase of an automobile. Way up at the end of the street an auto was started down the smooth-paved road at a terrific rate of speed and a short distance away a bicycle officer stood beside his wheel. As the auto flew by him he jumped on his wheel and started after it at breakneck speed while at each interseeting street another officer joined in the chase.

They wheeled up behind it so as to get the number and then went up abreast of the riders for the purpose of identifying them. Then they abandoned the chase and dismounting made a note of the number of the auto, the identity of the persons in the machine and from the "speedometers" with which each bicycle is equipped they could tell the exact speed at which the auto was going.

SAW THE PRESIDENT.

At noon that day we all had a hand-shake with the president. There was a big gathering at the reception and they actually pushed us through so great was the throng. We passed along in single file and the president shook hands with each in turn, greeting each with a pleasant word.

"On Thursday afternoon we all took a trip down the Potomac to Riverview where we were treated to what is known as a plank shad dinner, one of the finest fish dinners I have ever eaten. Two lines of planks are laid in two rows on an incline and a big fire is built between them. Then the shad are split in halves and laid flat on the plank and allowed to cook. It was amusing to see the chiefs from the interior who never get any fresh fish put away that shad. On Friday we went through the city in observation cars and saw all the sights of the city.

After a short stay in Baltimore I went on to Philadelphia to visit an old friend and there saw where the first American flag was made, viewed the famous old Liberty bell and other places of historic interest and I was much impressed at the manner in which the liquor business is conducted there. On Sunday the city is absolutely dry. Even the legitimate guest of the hotel cannot procure a drink but at midnight the saloons open and remain open continuously until midnight Saturday night. The police authorities informed me that they obtained the best results by this method.

CRAIN RESIGNED

Tenement House Commissioner Gives Up

NEW YORK, June 5.—Tenement house commissioner T. C. Crain resigned his office today, giving ill-health as his reason for doing so. After a fire in Allen street, a few months ago, in which a large number of persons were burned to death and the fire escapes of their tenements were found to have been so obstructed with refuse that their escape was impossible, the conduct of Mr. Crain's department was sharply discussed. Subsequently Mr. Crain asked the board of estimate for $200,000 additional appropriation to employ additional inspectors to keep all fire escapes clear but the request was refused. It was then reported that Mr. Crain would resign.

The train was made up of two vestibule cars, one of them having apartments lined with laurel for the reception of the body. Rev. George S. Montgomery Sears, the widow, J. Montgomery Sears, Jr., and Miss Helen Sears, the son and daughter of the deceased and C. F. Choate, a distant relative.

IN CONVENTION

Stationary Engineers of the State

AT BUILDING LABORERS' HALL

Opening Address by Mr. Barrett of Lowell

The eleventh annual state convention of District No. 1, New England Federation of Stationary Firemen, is being held in this city today. Nearly every city in the state where there is a local union sent delegates, there being about 25 in attendance at the opening of the convention.

The convention is being held in Building Laborers' hall at 32 Middle street, and was called to order shortly after 10.30 o'clock by John Barrett, corresponding secretary-treasurer of Local No. 14, who made the opening address.

Mr. Barret spoke as follows:

"Fellow Craftsmen—We extend to you our greetings and welcome you to the City of Spindles. I would be ungrateful to you if at this time I did not point out to you some of the historic points and old landmarks of this city.

"We have here, on your right, the grand old Concord river, hidden from view by the many mills and factories studded along its banks. Also on your right is one of the great canals with many large mills and machine shops, two of them being the Bigelow Carpet Co. and Lowell machine shop. I believe that these are the two largest corporations of the kind in the country.

BUSY MONDAY

It was stifling in police court this morning for the cage was filled and eight women occupied the "ladies'" seat, while as is usual when anything of a sensational nature comes up the spectators overcrowded the room. Those who were looking for spice were disappointed, for all the spicy cases were continued.

Judge Pickman occupied the bench.

There were 23 drunks and two of them were released while most of them were fined.

SALAM-BANG CASE.

Joseph Salam and Rush Saman were charged with disturbing the peace, but as the trouble if there had been any, was over when the officers got there, the men having been separated by friends, they were discharged.

UNLICENSED DOG.

Officer Maguire testified that Victor Lessard lives at 25 Lakeview avenue and keeps a large St. Bernard dog. On May 27 he saw the dog on the premises having previously warned him to have the animal licensed. Mr. Lessard told him that the dog had been licensed in his son's name last year but the license had not been renewed as he wanted to give the animal away.

Cross-examined by Lawyer Donahue, Officer Maguire said that Lessard had told him that he had given the animal away but it had come back again and would not leave and that he intended to give it away again.

Lieut. Webster said that he had seen the dog three times on the premises since May 1. Judge Pickman and Lawyer Donahue entered into a lengthy argument as to the admissibility of

FOR CITY AUDITOR

Frank W. Hall's Friends Prosago His Election

The common council will meet tomorrow evening and it was reported at city hall today that the lower board would proceed to the election of a city auditor.

The balancing power is said to rest between Messrs. Hall, Sturtevant and Page.

Men who have been very successful as presagers of things political declare that Mr. Frank W. Hall has the pole.

They argue that because of past experiences he is well fitted for the position. Mr. Hall did reportorial work for five years for the Courier and later for the Mail.

He has had experience as a stenographer in commercial work and also in law and court reporting intermittently. He was private secretary to Charles J. Glidden, the late Mayor Bennett and Alfred E. Rose.

As an accountant he has had experience with the Erie Telegraph & Telephone company. For that company he served as cashier, superintendent of supplies and general auditor.

He was bookkeeper and paymaster for Woods, Sherwood & Co., and during the past year he has been assistant treasurer of the H. R. Barker Mfg. Co.

While Mr. Hall possesses qualifications that would fit him for the position of city auditor, the friends of Messrs. Page and Sturtevant are as confident as are the men who presage the election of Mr. Hall.

WILL NOT FIGHT

Thayer Will Not Contest for Nomination

BOSTON, June 5.—The democratic leaders in Boston want John R. Thayer of Worcester for governor and Josiah Quincy of Boston for chairman of the democratic state committee, but Mr. Thayer is said to be willing to take the nomination only if it comes to him without a contest. Under no other consideration, it is said, does he intend to have his name used.

Governor Douglas is said to be favorably inclined towards the Hon Charles S. Hamlin as the candidate, and his candidacy is also backed by ex-Mayor John W. Coughlin of Fall River, Mayor Charles S. Ashley of New Bedford, James E. McConnell of Fitchburg and Major Robert J. Crowley of Lowell.

Mr. Hamlin is unwilling to get into another contest for the nomination after his experience with Colonel Gaston a few years ago, and stands ready to abide by the wishes of the party leaders on the most desirable candidate.

Chairman Flaherty of the state committee intends to have a meeting of the organization called for the coming week to talk matters over, and a strong effort is to be made to induce Governor Douglas to reconsider.

Governor Douglas has said within the past few days that under no consideration would he be a candidate for renomination, but would do all in his power for the success of the ticket.

Colonel Gaston has also said that he would not allow the use of his name in the contest, but preferred ex-Congressman Thayer for the party choice.

Ex-Congressman Thayer is to have a conference with the party leaders within a few days upon the question of accepting a nomination, and before that takes place it is his intention to confer with Governor Douglas and urge him to reconsider.

Governor Douglas and Colonel Gaston have had many conferences recently and several more are scheduled before the democratic situation is fully cleared.

The Boston leaders expect to take a prominent part in the political negotiations that are expected to take place during the present week, and indications point strongly in favor of ex-Congressman John R. Thayer as the democratic candidate for governor.

WHITELAW REID

Received in Audience by King Edward

LONDON, June 5, 12.11 p. m.—Whitelaw Reid, the new American ambassador, had an audience of King Edward at Buckingham palace at noon today and presented his credentials. Three royal carriages were sent to Dorchester house to convey the ambassador and the members of the embassy to the palace.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne drove up to the palace at about the same time as the ambassador whom he introduced to the king. The latter wore a field marshal's uniform and was surrounded by his suite. His majesty's reception of the ambassador was most cordial. While the ambassador was presenting the king with his credentials, Queen Alexandra was receiving Mrs. Reid and Miss Reid.

Secretary Hay paid a formal visit to the American embassy this morning.

The conversation between the king and the ambassador was quite lengthy. His Majesty recalling Mr. Reid's previous visits to London and expressing the greatest pleasure at the good relations between the United States and Great Britain. The king also spoke a few words to each member of the embassy. After the official reception Mr. Reid was ushered up stairs where his wife and daughter were with the queen and the ambassador was presented to Her Majesty. King Edward also came in and Mr. and Mrs. Reid were presented to him. The king and the ambassador thereupon re-engaged in further conversation. The visit altogether lasted 40 minutes, after which the ambassador and his party returned to Dorchester in carriages with coachmen and footmen garbed in long scarlet cloaks.

Mr. Reid had already called at Lansdowne house, the foreign secretary having waived a formal call at the foreign office and requested the ambassador instead to call at his private residence.

The ambassador this afternoon called on all the ambassadors and ministers accredited to the court of St. James. The ambassador has a busy week ahead, as a guest at functions in honor of the king of Spain.

Name of the Cyclist is Not Known

Miss Marie Louise Julien, aged 18 years, and residing in Ward street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon by being run into by a motor cycle at the corner of Moody and Aiken streets.

She was crossing the street with a friend when a motor cycle, being propelled at a high rate of speed, crashed into her and knocked her down, rendering her unconscious.

In falling Miss Julien also sustained a cut on the head, besides bruises on the body. After her removal to the pharmacy nearby, Dr. George E. Caisse was called and administered first aid. The ambulance was sent for when she had sufficiently revived and she was removed in it to her home in Ward street.

The name of the cyclist is not known.

SHOT TO DEATH

Bodies of Three Persons Were Found

HILLSBORO, O., June 5—Nettie Hart, Madge Dines and Geo. Baldwin, all under 18 years of age, were found shot to death in an upper room, in the house of Ed. Dines, father of Madge, near Hillsboro last night.

The man's brains were blown out with a shotgun, which was found in the room. The theory that the young man murdered the two girls with a pistol and then committed suicide is not entertained. A fourth person is suspected, but the identity of the alleged murdered and his motive are withheld.

Geo. Baldwin was a neighbor. He visited the Dines' home last night ostensibly to protect the girls in the absence of Mr. Dines.

THE POWERS

MAY REFUSE TO TAKE UP FRENCH PROPOSALS.

FEZ, Morocco, Friday, June 2.—No doubt is entertained in diplomatic circles that the proposal in behalf of Morocco to submit the French proposals to a conference of the powers signatory of the Madrid convention will be declined by the British, French, Spanish and Russian government. Uncertainty prevails regarding the attitude of the other powers and it is thought in some quarters that Germany may utilize the Moorish proposals as a protest to enter into direct negotiations with France in which case the Moroccan question may possibly be settled in Paris or Berlin.

The fact that the Moorish decision was launched on the evening of the arrival here of the British minister, is much commented upon and is regarded as being a distinct mark of discourtesy to Great Britain.

Count Von Tattenbach-Ashold, head of the German mission, is evidently in high favor at the Palace where he has frequent interviews with the Sultan.

$50,000 REWARD

For Discovery of Man Who Sent Threatening Letters

OSWEGO, N. Y., June 5.—Driven almost to the point of insanity by numerous letters threatening to kidnap or murder his daughter Rossamond, John Jay Tonkin, a wealthy and prominent citizen has announced the offer of a reward of $50,000 for the discovery of the person who has for two years been writing letters to him demanding large sums of money or dire results. The offer of the reward reveals a story of months of haunting fear which have made life unbearable for the members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin had three daughters. One, Virginia, died three years ago. The shock affected the parents greatly. It is said the body was embalmed and kept in the house for nearly eight months when the authorities interfered and it was buried.

Soon after this came the first letter demanding money or threatening harm to Rossamond. Since then the missives have arrived at frequent intervals. The child has been so strictly guarded that she has grown morose and sickly.

Mr. Tonkin showed the letter to the Oswego police and employed detectives but no clew to the writer could be obtained. With nerves shattered by the strain, Mrs. Tonkin took Rossamond to New York six months ago, where apartments were engaged, but the letters followed Mrs. Tonkin. Finally, broken in health and spirit, Mrs. Tonkin returned to Oswego, with the child. Armed coachmen and detectives always accompanied Rossamond when she left the house.

On May 28, near here, Cora Sweet, a child, was dragged into a lonely field by a farm-hand and murdered. The crime stirred the whole city and the farm-hand who confessed was protected with difficulty. The murder so alarmed Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin, that they offered the reward in the belief that it would stimulate search for the writer. The last letter received demanded $50,000, threatening the death of the daughter if it was refused.

NEARLY DROWNED

Diver Was Almost Dead When Rescued

CANTON, O., June 5—After being imprisoned for 24 hours loaded down by a diver's armor and under 15 feet of water, Daniel Hayes has been brought to the surface in an unconscious and almost dying condition.

He is a professional diver and had been employed to remove the brush and debris from the immense pipe which serves at times of low water to drain Lima Lake and transfer its refuse to the Mississippi river. While at work Hayes was sucked under the pile of refuse and over against a boulder in a way which prevented him from loosing himself from the hose which held him down.

Major Meigs, engineer in charge of the river improvements secured the country for a diver to go to the rescue of Hayes but was unable to find one until nearly 2½ hours had elapsed.

When after an hour's hard labor the imprisoned diver was released his suit was found to be leaking and he would have been drowned had the ordeal lasted another half hour.

DIVORCES

REV. MINOT SAVAGE SAYS LARGE NUMBER ARE TO BE WELCOMED.

NEW YORK, June 5.—In a sermon at the church of the Messiah, Rev. Minot J. Savage has expressed the belief that on the whole a large number of divorces at the present time are altogether to be welcomed.

"They are," he said, "nearly always in the interest of oppressed women, giving them another opportunity for a free, sweet, wholesome life. There are cases where the divorce laws are abused but not nearly so many as the frightened ministers of a great many of our churches seem to imagine.

"Law does not make marriages. The church does not make marriages. Men and women, if they are ever married, marry themselves. All the law can do is to make a clumsy attempt to protect; all the churches can do is to recognize and try to consecrate a fact which already exists. But if there is no marriage, then it is desretion to keep up the sham."

MAYOR DUNNE

REPLIES TO CRITICISMS OF GRAND JURY.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Mayor Dunne has replied to criticisms of himself contained in a report from the informal statement of the grand jury. He asserts that the report is grossly unfair and unjust.

Denial is made to the charge that the mayor failed to exert full authority in which he says:

"If the grand jury means that I have failed to call in the militia, I answer that until I fail to get wagons through the streets and maintain law and order with the police, I have no right, legally or morally, to call for the assistance of the militia. I do not intend to until it becomes necessary to protect Chicago and its business interests from a hurtful blow. Over three weeks ago certain interests in this city demanded that I call in the militia. A situation under the law warranting such a call did not then and has not since existed. I refuse to do so and I will refuse until it appears that such a step is necessary."

After his refusal to call for the militia, the mayor asserts he was attacked "in the most virulent manner."

He adds:

"During the whole of this strike I have decided and acted upon all questions arising during the controversy as though I was still sitting on the bench giving to each side what was its legal right—no more and no less—and my action in this regard I submit to the candid and impartial consideration of my fellow citizens having at heart the interests of the whole people who being swerved from my course by the clamor from either side."

IS STILL MISSING

B. F. Williams is Still Seeking His Wife

WAS INFORMED SHE HAD BEEN SEEN

Has Searched Hopelessly for Nine Months

Benjamin F. Williams of Providence, R. I., whose wife mysteriously disappeared on September 20 last while the couple were rooming at 37 Church street, this city, came to Lowell yesterday and received the startling information that his wife has been seen several times since last September.

Mr. Williams since leaving Lowell has spent $600 going from place to place in search of his wife without finding any trace of her and had come to the conclusion that she was either dead or living in the vicinity of Lowell.

He immediately went to the police station but no one there could give him any information. He also heard since his arival in Lowell that his wife has been seen in Boston and in Manchester, N. H., but can obtain no verification of the report.

The suspense he says is terrible to bear owing to the knowledge of the fact that his wife has periodical mental troubles. If she were dead and buried his mind would be at ease and he will spend every cent he can earn to find her dead or alive.

Mrs. Williams is about 5 feet, 6 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. She is of dark complexion and has dark brown hair and rosy cheeks. She has a mole on the right side of her face near the nose. She had a gold filled tooth on the right upper set. She had a very peculiar walk. Any information concerning the whereabouts of the missing woman will be received at this office.

THE HOTELS

REPORT A LARGE INFLUX OF FOREIGN VISITORS IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 5—Hotel keepers of this city report that never in their experience has there been such an influx of foreign visitors to the Metropolis. Cursory examination shows that there is hardly a hotel lobby where one may not hear several foreign languages nor a register which bears names of less than four or five nationalities.

Many of the visitors are Frenchmen.

IN CHICAGO

MASTER BOILER MAKERS OPENED ANNUAL CONVENTION.

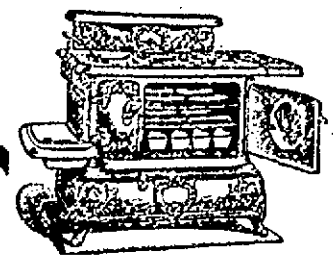

CHICAGO, June 5.—Master Boiler Makers from all parts of the world met here today at the opening of the fourth annual convention of the Master Boiler Makers' society. The principal question to be discussed will be the adoption of uniform rules as to the safe working pressure of steam boilers.

Another subject which will demand the attention of the delegates is that of securing the passage of a law making it compulsory for all boiler makers to secure licenses, thus to protect the purchasers from many "mysterious" boiler explosions that might otherwise be traced to carelessness in the manufacture of the boiler.

AUBURNDALE, June 5.—Nine people were rescued from drowning by metropolitan park police stationed along the Charles here yesterday. Eight were capsized from canoes, and in the ninth case a youngster fell into the water from the float near the Wabe-wa-wa boathouse.

All were taken into the station, were resuscitated, had their clothing dried, and then left for home. Save for the boy, the others were young men, and the accidents were due to lack of knowledge regarding the use of canoes.

Their names are said to be J. D. Vincent, Boston; Alexander O. Kane, Roxbury; John Dolan, William Fletcher, Henry Sullivan, all of Somerville, and Arthur Fowle, James Smith, J. W. Sherman and Frank Robinson of Cambridge.

PROTECT LIVES

Of Inmates, Says the Mayor to Overseers

IN REPLY TO COMMITTEE'S REQUEST

For More Insurance on the Buildings

The following is a copy of the letter sent to the committee on insurance of the board of overseers of the poor:

Lowell, Mass., June 2, 1905.

William Shields, John McManus and Edwin S. Eastman,

Committee on Insurance of Board of Overseers of the Poor.

Gentlemen:—In pursuance to your request that I formulate a recommendation relative to the advisability of placing additional insurance on the City Hospital building, would say that I made an inspection of the institution, and suggest that you give consideration to providing more adequate protection against fire, and safeguard the lives of the inmates intrusted to your care rather than how much more insurance money the city would obtain in case of fire.

As I unerstand the situation, you desire to spend about $1600 for additional insurance. If you have this amount to spend it would seem preferable to use it for the purpose of installing, in part at least, a sprinkler system which would lessen the risk of a serious fire, and secure a lower rate for insurance that might be placed later.

If fire were to break out in the women's ward a terrible loss of life would probably result. There is but one means of egress, and that only serviceable for those on the first floor. The inmates confined on the floors above would be cut off and obliged to use a fire escape at the other end of the building. A fire escape, however, is of but little service for old and infirm women trying to escape from a burning building. It would seem more practicable to build out from this end of the building a stairway that would provide an egress from all floors.

Under existing circumstances I can not recommend that a part of your appropriation be expended for additional insurance. It would seem that your first duty is to protect, as far as possible, the lives of those intrusted to your care.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES B. CASEY, Mayor.

BOSTON, June 5.—While patrolling the harbor late yesterday afternoon, the crew of the police boat Watchman came across the badly decomposed body of a man floating near the slip of the South ferry on the East Boston side. The body had been in the water a long time. Head, arms and the lower portions of the legs are missing. The trunk was covered by a cardigan jacket and a yellow undershirt.

APACHE CREW

SPENT SOME TIME IN FISHING FOR COD.

FALMOUTH, Eng., June 5.—The American yacht Apache arrived here today. Her extraordinary delay was due to her going too far north and experiencing a series of calms on the Banks of Nowfoundland. The yacht's movements were so slow that the crew indulged in cod fishing. Subsequently the Apache entered four heavy gales. She was obliged to heave to for 18 hours when off Cape Race. All on board the Apache are in good health.

PERSONAL FIGHT

The Cause of a Log Driving Dispute

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 5.—The situation along the St. John river in the vicinity of St. Leonards and Van Buren, due to the log driving dispute is not regarded here as being especially critical. Levi W. Pond, the aged log driving contractor, who has charge of bringing down the logs for New Brunswick mills, and when it is alleged destroyed a boom belonging to the Van Buren Lumber company a week ago yesterday, left for the up-river country today. He had been in St. John interviewing Attorney General Wm. Pugsley and some of the mill owners there. All concerned advise Mr. Pond to conduct himself within international law. It is understood that the Van Buren company has ordered some of the booms changed to allow more room in the river.

Allan Hammond, manager of the Van Buren Lumber company, maintains that Pond's grievance is entirely a personal one. Hammond declares that since a disagreement between Treasurer Stevens of the company and Pond, the latter has been unfriendly. Manager Hammond says that an attempt will be made to summon a special session of the Maine legislature to consider a bill to repeal the charter of the Madawaska log driving company and of the Pond Boom company, both of which are represented by Contractor Pond. Those directly concerned in the difficulty say that the dispute is not one between Maine and New Brunswick mill owners.

It is held that the matter is largely personal between Pond and the Van Buren company. The Van Buren company is a Maine corporation but it has close relations with this province, two of the officers residing at Edmundston. Many of the employes are Canadians. Pond is an American, although for years he has had charge of the driving operations for New Brunswick mills, some of which are owned by United States citizens.

The main question which has been over-shadowed since the Van Buren dispute has to do more with the St. John Lumber company, also a Maine corporation, against which Attorney General Pugsley has filed information in the equity court of this province to determine the question of whether alleged obstructions placed in the St. John river by that concern constitutes a violation of the Ashburton treaty. In the Van Buren case the attorney general has stated that no one will be justified in taking the law into his own hands and removing obstructions by force. In addition to instituting court proceedings against the St. John company, the provincial government forwarded to the Canadian government at Ottawa some time ago, a strong protest against the reported action of this corporation in obstructing navigation. It is this phase of the case that is now before the Washington and Imperial authorities.

AN INJUNCTION

Against National Baseball League Officials

BOSTON, June 5—A temporary injunction against President Harry C. Pulliam, of the National league of baseball clubs, restraining him from suspending or fining John J. McGraw, the playing manager of the New York team of that league, was issued today by Justice Sheldon of the superior court.

The injunction also restrained the various umpires of the National league from preventing McGraw from going on the field in the capacity of a playing manager.

Manager McGraw was suspended for 15 days and fined $100 for alleged misconduct during a game in New York City between the Pittsburg and New York teams. At a recent meeting of the National league directors here an attempt was made to have the action of President Pulliam nullified, but it was not successful. Thereupon McGraw carried the matter to the court and petitioned for an injunction, which today was issued in a temporary form. The restraining order will be in force until such time as the court orders its removal.

A hearing on the merits of the case will be held at a latter date. The court's action was interpreted by Manager McGraw as giving him permission to appear on the grounds in today's game in this city with the Boston nine.

In issuing the injunction, Judge Sheldon announced that under rule 28 of the National league by-laws, Pulliam had no right to suspend McGraw without proper proof. "Unless Pulliam had seen the misconduct himself, which he did not," said Judge Sheldon, "he should have given McGraw notice of charges against him, which he did not, and consequently the court renders null and void the action of Pulliam."

It is understood that a further hearing may be deferred until the New York club returns in September, according to the schedule.

While the action of the court is not binding beyond Massachusetts, McGraw claims that it will furnish an important precedent in legal steps which he may take in other states.

Lobley had pleaded guilty and declared that his share of the $55,000 was only $10,000.

COOLIDGE OUT

Boston Man Quits the Equitable Life

BOSTON, May 5.—T. Jefferson Coolidge of this city today resigned as a member of the board of directors and from the Equitable Life Assurance society, as well as from the committee of seven which was named to select a chairman of the Equitable society board.

The following statement was issued from Mr. Coolidge's office:

"Mr. Coolidge has declined to serve on the committee of seven named to select a chairman of the board of the Equitable society. He has also resigned from the board of directors."

Mr. Coolidge has been weighing the question of his appointment to the special committee since the announcement was made that he was selected to be one of the seven. It has also been known that he has been considering the advisability of resigning from the board of directors since the meeting of the board when the Frick report was read. It was known that he favored strongly the acceptance of that report.

400 MEMBERS

IN ANNUAL PARADE OF A. & H. COMPANY.

BOSTON, June 5.—Well-known men participated today in the celebration of the 267th anniversary of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of this city, the oldest military company in the United States. About 400 members of the organization and guests assembled at Faneuil hall at noon and marched to the state house where Gov. Wm. L. Douglas, Gen. Nelson A. Miles and members of the governor's staff, joined the line. From Beacon Hill, the company marched through the business district to the new Old South church, where the annual sermon was preached by Rev. Alan Hudson. Among the guests were officers representing the Old Guard of New York, the Veteran Artillery Corps of New York, Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, N. H., Worcester Continentals, the Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, and the Providence Light Infantry.

After the church services, the company went to the common where the annual drum-head election was held and a salute fired by a battery.

WADE CHANCE

TESTIFIED IN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY CASE AGAINST CRAWFORD.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The government practically has concluded the introduction of testimony in the case of Wm. G. Crawford on trial on charge of having conspired with August W. Machen and George E. Lorenz to defraud the government in connection with a contract to furnish letter carriers' satchels to the postoffice department. Wade Chance, formerly president of the Postal Lock and Device company, of which Crawford was manager, testified that his title of president was only nominal and that Crawford had full charge of the company's affairs. On cross-examination, A. S. Worthington of counsel for the defence, offered correspondence between Crawford and Chance to show that all important business matters were submitted to Mr. Chance and that many of them were in turn approved by Spencer Trask, who financed the postal company. Mr. Chance at the time was secretary to Mr. Trask and represented his employer's interest in the postal company.

PROMISES TO CORRECT ANY INSURANCE EVILS.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6—Before leaving for the west today Governor Higgins discussed the Equitable Life Assurance society matter. "I don't anticipate that a legislative investigation of the society's affairs will be necessary," he said. "It is possible that legislative action may seem desirable; but no legislative committee could gather information relating to the Equitable which the superintendent of insurance is not able to get. Conditions will be probed to the bottom; and in so far as lies in my power, any evils that exist will be corrected." The governor discussed the Equitable matter with Supt. Hendricks yesterday when the latter stopped here on his way to New York.

"I expect that the superintendent will report on his investigation," said the governor, "by June 15, and by that time I hope to be back."

Asked whether his remarks regarding the desirability of legislative action referred to the entire insurance situation, Governor Higgins said:

"Insurance within the state of New York, ought to be put beyond a question, so far as the honesty and reliability of the corporations authorized to do business is concerned."

KING OF SPAIN

Given Great Welcome to England

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 5—The King of Spain arrived here this afternoon from Cherbourg on board the British Royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The yacht was accompanied across the channel by a strong escort of British cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The royal visitor was welcomed at the British naval headquarters by an imposing array of warships, a score of which fired a royal salute as the Victoria and Albert passed through their lines. The young king who wore the uniform of a British general with the ribbon of the Order of the Garter stood on deck, evidently keenly enjoying the spectacle in spite of the fact that it was pouring rain. The Prince of Wales, representing King Edward awaited the yacht at the quay side and immediately after the gangway was run up, he went on board the Victoria and Albert and warmly welcomed the Spanish ruler. Their respective suites were then introduced and subsequently the mayor and corporation of Portsmouth presented his majesty with an address of welcome.

The two monarchs entered a state carriage with the Prince of Wales and Duke of Connaught and amidst cheering from the big crowds assembled started for Buckingham palace followed by half a dozen coaches with the officers of state and suite. Above the archway through which the two kings passed off leaving the station was the motto:

"Viva Alfonso XIII"

The streets were lined with troops. The Spanish king everywhere met with the heartiest reception.

The route from Victoria station to Buckingham palace was flanked by arched streamers, lamp-posts bedecked with yellow and red artificial flowers and frequent elaborately decorated grandstands. The Spanish legation at Grosvenor Gardens was decked with the Spanish colors and immediately opposite was a stand for the Spanish residents of London who gave the king a native welcome to his evident pleasure. But the labors of the army of decorators who transformed the streets into a triumphal archway of various colored flags, bunting and artificial flowers in which the yellow and red of Spain predominated, were rendered almost futile by the down pour of rain, which, starting early this morning continued all day long.

The police arrangements were extraordinarily minute. In fact they were such as never before had been witnessed in London. Everybody with the exception of those officially connected with the reception was cleared out of the station and its precincts. Policemen in plain clothes and secret service men were scattered along the whole route.

King Alfonso, who was the first King of Spain who has ever landed in England, disembarked at 2.20 p. m. Accompanied by the Prince of Wales, he took a train for London amidst the firing of royal salutes.

IN LONDON

YOUNG KING WAS RECEIVED BY KING EDWARD.

LONDON, June 5.—4.33 p. m.—The King of Spain arrived in London this afternoon. He was welcomed at the railroad station by King Edward. Their majesties arrived at Buckingham Palace at 4.58 p.m. The royal visitor was accorded the heartiest reception the whole length of the route. No untoward incident marred the event.

King Edward in the uniform of a Spanish admiral, had driven up to Victoria station just before the arrival of King Alfonso and as the train drew up at the platform, King Edward advanced to receive his young guest, whom he cordially embraced. The platform was crowded with uniformed cabinet ministers, diplomats and military officeres.

The station was gaily decorated. Opposite the spot where King Alfonso descended from the royal train appeared the motto:

Continued.

"On your left, gentlemen, flows the majestic Merrimack river, which in the early days played a very prominent part in supplying water for power to run the mills, steam not being used in those days.

"Not until around the '50's did the firemen play a very prominent part in connection with manufacturing. It was then that the steam boilers and engines proved that they could be used in an economical manner, and as a result of this, today we have some 400 firemen working around our city, which only goes to show that steam power is used to a great extent at the present time.

"Allow me at this time to point out to you, gentlemen, some of the places I would invite you to see before your return home. First, there is our city hall, one which compares with any municipal building in New England; also our city library and Memorial hall, and the monument in front of the city hall, which is a memorial to those who left this city in 1861 and shed their blood for the honor of their country. The monument is in the shadow of city hall and marks the graves of Ladd and Whitney of this city, the two first men who fell in Baltimore in April, 1861.

"From the monument you can see the mills which are lined up on the banks of the river. I would also like to have you, gentlemen, visit our Textile school and many other places, including our schools, churches, fire stations, court house and the many manufacturing plants.

JOHN BARRETT,
Chairman of Local Committee.

"We hope that your stay with us will be a pleasant one to you all and that this convention will have good results, and that when you return to your homes you will have pleasant memories of this city, the City of Spindles."

The convention was then turned over to District President Milo Shumway and the following committees were appointed:

Committee on credentials, Messrs. Flannagan, Mahoney and Johnson.

Press, Messrs. Ryan, Shumway and Barrett.

The committee on credentials then retired to examine the credentials of the different delegates.

A committee on rules also held an executive meeting and the convention adjourned at 12 o'clock.

This evening an open meeting will be held.

MICHAEL P. FLANNIGAN,
Secretary State License Committee.

President, Milo Shumway, West Bridgewater; first vice president, Michael Mahoney, Lawrence; second vice president, Hugh J. Gallagher, Lowell; third vice president, M. J. Shea, Lee; secretary-treasurer, Matthew P. Ryan, Springfield; executive board, John Barrett, Lowell, Gustave Kohler, Turner Falls and William Wall of Huntington.

The officers of the local union are:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The session was reopened at two o'clock this afternoon and the minutes of the morning session were read by the secretary, after which the committee on rules reported that the hours for the convention tomorrow would be from 8.30 in the morning till noon and from 1.30 until the business of the convention had been transacted.

The following members were appointed on the finance committee: M. F. Connelley of Lowell, Thomas Shea of Lee, and M. Mahoney of Lawrence.

the evidence of Lieut. Webster on the ground that the complaint specified May 27 and that evidence as to day other day was incompetent. Lieut. Webster didn't know anything about the dog being given away.

Assistant City Clerk McCarthy produced his records and stated that no one named Lessard had taken out a dog license this year. Lawyer Donahue objected on the ground that Mr. McCarthy was not the city clerk but his assistant and not the custodian of the records. He also objected because the records were in different handwriting. The evidence was admitted.

Lessard said he gave the dog to one Tully of Dracut over a month ago and Tully owns it now. The dog came back and each time witness put the animal out because he didn't want it there any longer. The animal came back from Tully three times and each time he notified Tully to take the animal away.

The night the officers went to arrest Lessard he failed to return home all night and Deputy Welch asked "Why did you remain away from home that night?"

"Because I didn't want to get pinched," promptly replied the witness. Lawyer Donahue argued on the ground that the defendant had given the dog away and did not want the animal there. Lessard was fined $15 and he appealed and was held in $100 for the superior court.

A NEGLECTFUL WIFE.

Patrick F. and Mary Carney were in for drunkenness, and Officer Maguire and Agent Richardson testified that while the husband is not a bad sort of a fellow the mother keeps a dirty house and is improperly rearing her two small children. Mr. Richardson said that the children were living in filth.

Judge Pickman read a lecture to the woman on cleanliness and said: "Persons may get drunk but they must keep clean. Don't you know how to use soap?" It was decided to place the man on probation and send the woman to jail for one month to get her a good wash and get the liquor out of her system.

SHOOTING CASE CONTINUED.

The case of Avidas Maranian and Charles Kagaglan, charged with assault with intent to commit murder on Oscar Ohanglan, was called this morning. The counsel for the defendants asked for a continuance until June 14, as the injured man is still at the Emergency hospital, and asked for a reduction of bail in the case of Maranian. Dr. Dugdale of the hospital testified that the patient is doing very well and indications are that he will recover, although he would not state it positively. Judge Pickman reduced Maranian's bail from $3000 to $2000 and the case was continued until June 14. The other defendant is already under bail.

COMPLAINANT MISSING.

Francis W. Devine was in for drunkenness and larceny in 1901 of a watch and $4.65 from Annie Arnold. The police were unable to locate the complainant and the larceny complaint was placed on file while Devine was fined $6 for drunkenness.

MUCH ADO, ETC.

Michael Luchin pleaded not guilty of drunkenness and took up about an hour of the court's valuable time, with the usual result, a $2 fine.

BACK TO FARM.

Matthew Connolly was in for the fourth time and his suspended sentence to the state farm was revoked and Matthews goes back. Frank Canole, a parole man from the state farm, was in again and he will go back tomorrow.

SENT TO JAIL.

James McQuade kept his folks up all night with his ravings and he was sent to jail for 14 days to get the liquor out of him.

A SERIOUS CASE.

John J. Devaney, a clean-looking young man was charged with assault with intent to rape Henrietta Dane, aged 22 years and married.

They met on the street, last evening and as the result of a flirtation took a walk up to Pawtucket street. When the vicinity of Moody street was reached Young Devaney, the complainant alleges, proposed that they take the river path in the rear of the Textile school and she being a comparative stranger in the city assented. When she got some distance from the street she claims that Devaney suddenly threw her down and attempted a felonious assault. Devaney was arrested by Officer Grady and in court this morning pleaded not guilty. The case was continued until tomorrow and Devaney was held in $200.

TOUCHED HER "FRIEND."

The prettiest girl who has been a prisoner in police court in a long time was 20 year old Emma Reynolds who with Della Savard, aged 27 years was arrested from a local hotel about 5 o'clock this morning on a charge of larceny of $132 from Hermilas Meunier, $92 in cash and a check for $1.15 being recovered it is alleged from the defendants or one of them. Meunier it seems was entertaining the two fair charmers at a suburban resort yesterday and last evening, and during the good time displayed his roll. Then it is alleged their fingers became cold and froze to the roll. As soon as Meunier discovered his loss he made a wise move for instead of making an outcry right then he suggested to the girls that they all take a hack and go into Lowell for the remainder of the night. They gladly assented and all came to town and put up at a local hotel when Meunier after locking the door told them to give up or he'd have them arrested. The girls pleaded ignorance of any knowledge of the roll, whereupon Meunier sent for the police and all were taken to the police station together with Joseph Blood a young man, who was with the party when the hack was engaged. Blood was discharged from custody as he had nothing to do with the case, while the girls pleaded not guilty and were continued until Thursday.

NOVEL SERVICE

The Water Was Strown With Flowers

Garfield Relief Corps Directed Service

James A. Garfield Relief Corps held a service on the bank of the Merrimack river, yesterday afternoon, in memory of the soldier-sailor dead.

The meeting was well attended and the services were unique as well as impressive. Indian Orchard at the bend of the Merrimack river on the Centralville side below the Centralville bridge was the scene of the observance which without doubt will become annual.

At four o'clock a procession was formed, headed by color bearers one and two, Mrs. Mary E. Offutt and Mrs. Juliette Blood, who were followed by the corps officers, President Mrs. Louisa Blood; senior vice-president, Mrs. Jennie Connell; junior vice-president, Mrs. Martha Pife; press correspondent, Mrs. Martha Smiley; chaplain, Mrs. Catherine Robbins; treasurer, Mrs. Annie E. Tuttle; conductor, Mrs. Pauline Crawford; guard, Mrs. Helen Talbot; assistant conductor, Mrs. Carrie Storm. Third and fourth color bearers, Mrs. Josephine Worden and Mrs. Mary Shirley came next in the procession, and the other corps members fell in, two by two, and accompanied by Rev. Asa Reed Dills, children and a large number of spectators.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee," was sung. In answer to questions by the president as to the significance of the service the senior vice-president said: "To honor the memory of the Union sailors and marines who sleep beneath the ocean wave, that the Union might live." In answer to the question: "Have you a record of their services in the cause of their country?" the secretary answered: "Their deeds and sacrifices have been recorded on the pages of their country's history, and emblazoned on the Book of Life by the Great Commander."

Mrs. E. B. Berry, department press correspondent, read an original poem and cast a flag upon the water. A quartet composed of Percy Arnold, Bert Cheney, Victor Storm and Arthur Culley sang "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers." Rev. Asa Reed Dills offered prayer, and the corps officers advanced to the river and cast in bouquets of flowers, repeating in unison:

"Float on above them O flag for which they died;
Emblem of their courage and purity and love."

Col. Royal S. Ripley of Chelmsford, commander of Post 185, cast upon the river a wreath and flag, saying, "Comrades, in the name of countless thousands of the land and sea, who have shared your dangers, and endured your sacrifices, this wreath is cast upon the waters that roll above you."

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow gave a patriotic address. The quartet sang "There Will Be One Vacant Chair." The flag salute was given, America was sung, and Rev. Asa Reed Dills pronounced the benediction.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST.

Missionary Sunday at the Immanuel Baptist church yesterday brought out a large attendance. In the morning Miss Frances Bennett, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, gave a general talk on missionary work. She also sang twice. In the evening Rev. A. W. Moore gave an address out of his personal experience as missionary in India.

CHELMSFORD STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. A. E. Kenyon preached an anniversary sermon yesterday morning, this being the beginning of his seventh year as pastor of the church. His text was "Now brethren, I commend you to God," Acts 20:32. He spoke in a reminiscent vein, of the work done by the church and societies connected with it and said in part: It is necessary to commend all callings to God, the mother, the teacher, the professional man should commend their work to God so their influence shall be for the highest good to those around them. Why do men not take this attitude, which is the most reasonable one? Because they do not recognize their responsibility to God and their fellow men, and because sin blinds them to the truth. The pastor in closing said it was his desire to commend the church and all its branches to God for the coming years, as he had endeavored to do in the past.

The church and society is in a very flourishing condition, many additions to the membership having been made recently, and the church has been renovated and repaired, both inside and out. The society is planning for a lawn party, and the following members of the Sunday school were appointed on a committee to represent the school: Messrs. Wills and Woodman and Miss Ida Cook.

The music yesterday was unusually good, the anthem "Awake Thou," being rendered by the choir, also "Let the words of My Mouth." Miss Maud Black and Choir Master Thomas sang "Pleasant Are Thy Courts."

MISSION OPENED

Large Congregations at St. Michael's

Three Dominican Fathers from New York opened a two weeks mission at St. Michaels' church yesterday. At each mass one of the missionaries explained the order of exercises for the mission and gave brief instruction. At high mass the celebrant was Rev. Francis J. Mullin; Rev. Eugene A. Carney, deacon, and Rev. Dennis F. Murphy, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., delivered a strong sermon on "Salvation," during which he warned his congregation of the terrible punishment in store for the unrepentent sinner. He appealed to all to accept the opportunity offered during the mission to make their peace with God that they may enjoy the blessings and happiness promised the faithful. He reminded his auditors that in the struggle for riches and position in this world they must not neglect their spiritual welfare which is of the greatest importance.

In the evening Rev. Fr. Conlin, O. P., conducted the services, which were for women exclusively. He gave brief instruction in the rosary, and then followed recitation of the beads.

Fr. Conlin also preached the sermon, explaining the object of missions and the aim of the missionaries to reach all regardless of creed. The service ended with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

MISSION CLOSED.

In the little church at Collinsville the mission for the members of St. Mary's parish was brought to a close yesterday. It was conducted by the same priests who are preaching the retreat at St. Michael's church. During the four days of the mission the church was packed at each service, while yesterday morning several hundred received holy communion.

At 9.30 o'clock mass celebrated by Rev. John Shaw, the preacher was Rev. John Dominick, O. P.

In the afternoon at 3.30 the mission for women was brought to a close. Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., officiated and spoke to the women on "Perseverance," urging them to remain loyal to the promises made by them during the retreat and to be faithful in the performance of their church duties.

He gave the papal benediction to those who had complied with the conditions of the mission.

At 7 o'clock in the evening the men's mission ended with a sermon by Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., who also gave the papal benediction.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday about 70 boys and 92 girls made their first communion at the 7.30 o'clock mass. The altars were beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion. The girls were attired in white with white veils and floral wreaths. The boys were dressed in dark knickerbocker suits, black stockings and low shoes and wore a white ribbon on the sleeve and a white carnation.

Rev. Fr. Dorgan, O. M. I., at the 10.30 o'clock mass read an encyclical from Pope Pius X upon Christian Doctrine and the teaching catechism.

It was announced that confirmation would be administered on Wednesday evening by Bishop Brady.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

Over three hundred children received their first communion at the 8 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart church yesterday morning.

Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I., was the celebrant of the mass and he was assisted in giving communion by Rev. Fr Reynolds, O. M. I. The latter had charge of the children in their preparation for yesterday's event.

Wednesday morning at the 10 o'clock mass confirmation will be administered by Bishop Brady of Boston.

RECEIVED HOLY COMMUNION.

The annual communion of Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was held yesterday morning at seven o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church, to which the court marched in a body from St. Joseph's college hall where the line was formed.

Over 400 members were in line, wearing the full insignia. The court banner and flags were also borne in the march.

Rev. Fr. Dias, O. M. I., officiated at the mass, and delivered the sermon. After the service, Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I., chaplain of the court, also addressed the congregation.

Going to Make a Wedding Present of a

Cooking Range?

Well, don't impose upon the bride a stove that she won't like. Time and again young couples come into our store to buy their furniture, carpets, etc., and when we ask them if they want a range the answer is, no, we had a present of a range, but I wish they had given me a

CRAWFORD

Remember, they have to use it and buy the fuel it will consume for many years, and you are not doing them a kindness by giving them a range that will cost more to run than the Crawford. It does not matter how good a range you've got, the Crawford is as good every way and the wonderful patented Single Damper makes it more simple to handle and makes it do better work with less coal or wood. Not because we say so but because reason tells you it will.

OFFER OF PEACE

Has Been Well Received in Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5, 2.10 a. m.—President Roosevelt's tender of his good offices to bring about peace is received with general favor in the press and by the public and a desire that some steps should be taken towards securing an honorable peace is increasingly manifest.

The Russ declares that the president's offer should be commended as an act of friendship tending to bring out Japan's terms of peace and Russia's acceptance of an offer which would not mean surrender on humiliating terms. The paper maintains at the same time that negotiations if begun must be direct and that there must be no intervention by other powers.

Baron Rosen, the new ambassador to Washington, does not seem to be accelerating his departure on account of developments in the United States. He will sail on July 27.

THE FIRST DAY OF NAVAL BATTLE

On the morning of May 27, when the Russian fleet found itself 120 miles south of Tsu Island it was heading for the straits in three columns, the battleships and five cruisers on the left, the light cruisers on the right and the transports and torpedo boats between. The weather was foggy and the view therefore difficult.

At 5.20 o'clock in the morning the Russian fleet was discovered by the Japanese cruiser Idzumo, which blundered upon it in the fog and narrowly escaped capture.

At 10.30 o'clock four Japanese cruisers, the Chotose, Kasuga, Tsushima and Nitaka, were discovered to the northeast of the fleet and were fired on by the battleships. The Japanese cruisers disappeared and the Russian fleet proceeded through the strait.

Suddenly at 1.20 o'clock in the afternoon, a gaunt silhouette of Japanese vessels, their greenish blue paint making them scarcely visible in the fog, loomed up to the westward of the Russian vessels. These Japanese vessels consisted of four battleships and the armored cruisers Tokiwa, Nisshin, Kazuga, Iwate and Idzumo. They immediately opened a heavy fire which was especially directed against the flagships of the various squadrons of the Russian fleet.

Admiral Rojestvensky signalled to the transports to place themselves on the right of the squadron of light cruisers so as to increase their distance from the fighting portion of the fleet, which was now hotly engaged and suffering under the well aimed fire of the Japanese.

Thanks to the precision of the Japanese gunners and the concentration of their fire on the flagships, within an hour and a half the Kniaz Suvaroff and the Oslabya were reduced to wrecks, and soon sank.

Almost at the same time as the opening of the engagement between the battleship divisions a column of light Japanese cruisers appeared from the eastward and fell upon the retiring Russian transports and the light cruisers. The cruisers Vladimir, Monomach and Dmitri Donskoi were released from the left column and sent to the aid. They were repulsed by the Japanese cruisers but not before the Ural had been brought to a sinking condition.

The battle continued until 5 o'clock without any further noticeable change in the situation.

Soon thereafter the battleship Alexander III. began to list badly and dropped out of the line, but was quickly repaired, resuming her place and reopening fire. The battleship Borodino was then heading the line. The Japanese noticing the condition of the Alexander III. concentrated their fire upon her and she again dropped out of the line, this time finally and disappeared.

Such a heavy fire from the Japanese 12-inch guns was then directed against the Borodino that she was disabled and sunk. This was at 7.30 o'clock in the evening.

The battleship Sissoi Veliky was now ablaze but was firing every available gun. At this hour the onslaught of torpedo boats from the coast of Japan and the closing in of the battleships from the left broke up the Russian fleet, all of which except four battleships and the converted cruiser Ural were still holding together.

During the night the Japanese torpedo attacks continued the result of which was not known here until the report of the commander of the cruiser Izumrud was received from Vladimir bay.

During the battle a mass of Japanese junks is said to have obstructed the movements of the Russian fleet. The Russian officers assert that these junks scattered mines in the paths of their vessels.

The bodies of Lieut. Machilis of the cruiser Almaz, and of other officers and sailors brought here by the Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyers were buried today.

Captain Reiff of the destroyer Grozny, describing the capture of Admiral Rojestvensky said that his vessel in company with the destroyer Bedovi on which Admiral Rojestvensky were steaming northward when they encountered the Japanese destroyers. The Bedovi signalled the Grozny, "How many knots can you make?" and on receiving the reply "twenty-three," ordered "full speed for Vladivostok."

The Grozny instead of obeying this signal engaged one of the Japanese destroyers, but the Bedovi raised the white flag and the Red Cross flag. While doing battle with her opponent the Grozny was unable to go to the aid of her consort, which was taken in tow by the other Japanese destroyers. The Grozny succeeded in shaking off her opponent but later encountered another Japanese destroyer which she sank in a running fight.

SCOUTS ATTACKED THE CAVALRY

TOKIO, June 5.—It is announced at Imperial headquarters that the following has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian army:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of June 2, the enemy's cavalry, numbering about 30, came to Shashahotzu, nine miles east of Changtu. On the same day at noon cavalrymen of a like number appeared at Nanchengtzu, six miles northeast of Whyunpaomen, but were repulsed.

"On the same day also our scouts attacked the enemy's cavalry five miles north of Changtu railway station, killing one man and two horses and capturing one saddle horse.

"Otherwise there has been no change."

JEALOUS HUSBAND

Both Are at Hospital and May Recover

BOSTON, June 5—Excited by jealousy, George A. Murree, alias Cook, a laborer, went to the house at 35 Elmer street, Cambridgeport, where his wife, Jane, was staying, yesterday noon, and after she had refused to return to their home with him he stabbed her twice—possibly mortal wounds—in the back, and viciously assaulted her with his foot. On the way from the house he rushed at Allen Terrill, a colored boxer of some local reputation, who sat in the back yard being shaved, and during the struggle stabbed him five times in the back. Terrill's wounds are superficial.

Murree then swallowed half a pint of hydrochloric acid and after running a short distance fell in the street, writhing in pain. The police hurried Mrs. Murree and her husband to the Cambridge hospital, where the woman's wounds were dressed and the man relieved of the acid in his stomach.

Mrs. Murree's condition is serious, as the jackknife was plunged twice into her back just below the left shoulder blade and her left lung punctured by both wounds. The woman's vitality was materially reduced by the hemorrhage and the hospital physicians believe she may not recover.

Murree is also on the dangerous list as he drank so much acid it is impossible to tell how serious his internal injury is.

The police took the precaution to obtain an antemortem statement from Mrs. Murree, which she signed. The assault was witnessed by Mrs. Mary Murree and her 13-year-old daughter Laura, so if Murree should recover and his wife die there is abundant testimony against him.

Terrill did not have to go to the hospital. After Dr. Frank M. Gilman and Dr. Joseph Cunningham dressed his wounds he appeared as agile as ever.

HAD MANY QUARRELS.

The attempted murder was the culmination of a series of violent quarrels between Murree and his wife. She asserted that he had been so brutal that she was obliged to leave him and seek a separation. A week ago, after he was arrested while discharging a revolver on Portland street, Cambridge, she went to court and declared her husband threatened to shoot her before he went into the street to practice.

During the year they have lived in Cambridge Mrs. Murree has left her husband several times, in each instance taking refuge with her child at the home of her husband's cousin, Frank R. Murree of 35 Elmer street. Several days ago, being frightened by the revolver incident of a week ago Saturday night, she went to Mr. Murree's home.

On previous occasions George Murree has sought her there and persuaded her to return with him. Yesterday he came in doubt that he could induce her to go back, evidently, for he said only a few words before he attacked her, and the testimony indicates that he contemplated murder and suicide.

PRISONERS GONE

They Overpowered the Jailer and Escaped

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 5.—"Jimmy" Burns, the alleged negro postoffice money order forger, who is charged with operating extensively in this state, Georgia and Tennessee, and who was brought here recently from Savannah, Ga., to be tried in the federal court, was one of 12 prisoners who escaped from the county jail early today. The prisoners were confined in a cell and during the night one of them feigned illness, calling up the jailer who opened the cell door to hand the sick man some medicine. The prisoners, all negroes, overpowered the jailer and rushed through the residential portion of the building and out to the street.

SPIRITUALISTS' SUPPER.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Spiritualist society held its last monthly supper of the season Saturday night in its hall in Merrimack street. Salads and cold meats with the other fixings were served from 5 till 7.30 o'clock and about 300 sat down to the tables to enjoy the good things.

At 8 o'clock the followng entertainment was given, after which dancing and games were enjoyed until a late hour:

Piano solo, Mrs. Wiley; song, Miss Eva Lord; reading, Marguerite Jordan; piano solo, Ralph Lord; song, Miss Inez George; piano solo, Miss Bessie Carron; reading, Dorothy Jordan; song, Mr. Taylor.

Mrs. Wiley acted as accompanist.

The committee was as follows: Mrs. Hattie Fletcher ,manager; Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. French, Mrs. Chamberlain in the kitchen; Mrs. E. E. Harvey with corps of aids in the dining room, and Mrs. Ada George chairman of entertainment.

A BIG OBSTACLE

Garment Workers Must be Recognized

IN CHICAGO STRIKE AFFAIRS

A Walkout of 10,000 Men Threatened

CHICAGO, June 5.—The garment workers' strike, which practically has been regarded as a dead issue, now unexpectedly threatens to become an obstacle in future negotiations looking toward the settlement of the teamsters' war.

In the Chicago Federation of Labor meeting delegates from the Tailors' Union attacked the strike committee for "slighting" the 4,000 garment workers, out of sympathy for whom the teamsters went on strike. The federation in the end was forced to acknowledge that the two strikes were inseparable and that one could not be settled without the other. For half an hour the delegates wrangled over accepting the report of the strike committee. Charges were made that thousands of dollars contributed weekly by labor unions are being spent for the teamsters' fight, while the garment workers according to statements, are "starving." Teamsters who were present vigorously denied the assertions and succeeded finally in having the strike report adopted.

TEAM MUST BRACE UP

Only Two Men Are Doing Any Batting—Manager Mack Has Lost All Patience and Will Get Some New Players

Now that the other teams in the league and the financial aspect as well, have taken on a much needed brace it is up to Lowell to get into the game and beat out its pacemakers. For three weeks Lowell has steadily gone down the line but as they had much to contend with criticism will be suspended if they show any prospect this week of getting a move on. Lowell really has had some tough luck. Merritt split his finger, necessitating a change in the line-up. Anderberg has been gamely catching with a bad right hand while J. Connors was a misfit on third base and Barney McLaughlin, up to Memorial day, played shortstop like a wooden man. Manager Mack wants a winning team and is willing to pay the money to get one. He has sent for Young Jackson, who is reputed to have the goods, and has his eye open for others. He has one of the highest paid teams in the league and rightfully believes that with such a team he deserves something better than a place in the second division. The team isn't batting and that is its principal trouble. Jackson and Bigbie can hardly be criticized adversely as both are over .300 but they should not be content to remain bordering on the .300 mark but should keep plugging away. Two men doing the batting for a dozen will never win and outside of Jackson and Bigbie no one on the team is anywhere near the .300 mark while the batting averages of Merritt, .163, and McLaughlin, .115, are ridiculously low for two such good players.

About every other team in the circuit has shown a marked improvement and it is up to Lowell to do likewise right away. The averages:

MOHAIRS AGAIN

THE VICTORS OVER EAST BOSTON.

The Mohairs defeated the East Boston cricketers at Wood Island Saturday afternoon by a score of 100 to 93. The weather conditions were excellent and the players on both teams were on their mettle, but the locals were out to win and they did the trick all right, but only after a very close and exciting contest.

Shaw and Shuttleworth did the best batting for the home team, while Shaw was the star performer for the visitors. The score:

THEY LOST AGAIN

3200 PEOPLE WERE AT THE GAME

J. Connors Jumps the Lowell Team

Lowell held the lead over Lynn, Saturday for eight innings and then lost the game, Murphy and Pastor getting singles that won the game.

As usual a home run was made, Lovell was the lucky man. Grant showed them how to field and run bases and the 3200 spectators present were "stuck" on his work.

McLaughlin had 10 chances at short and missed three of them. J. Connors made the best play he has made all season by jumping the team after the game to join the Murray Hill Independents.

Four games in Lowell this week.

Merritt's finger is on the mend.

Blatchford and Carrier have been released by Doc.

The chances are there'll be other changes in the team ere long.

Things are looking up some in point of attendance along the circuit since the ice went out of the rivers.

Jake Volz is to return to Manchester and soon there'll be more pitchers on the team than would stock a small league.

Lake had 3200 at Saturday's game while the Lynn Independents had 1800. Hurrah for Lake and twice hurrah for Lynn as a baseball town.

Owen Jackson, a brother of Jimmy Jackson, the Frostburg, Md., star on the team, arrived in town last night and will probably open up with the team today. Young Jackson has been catching for the Cumberland, Md., team and batted in .400. He is said to be a crackerjack. If he does as well as his brother he will be all right a couple of times.

When the firm of Mack and Connors learned "for a fact" that J. Connors had jumped the team they got together and shook hands with each other for Connors had relieved them of a painful duty that they were about to perform. Both hated to do it because "J." was such a nice fellow. He couldn't get close enough to the ground in fast hit grounders to make a successful third baseman.

Letter to PATRICK QUINN, Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sir: If it took 10 gallons to paint your house last time with somebody's else's paint, and takes 8 with Devoe, we save you $5 or $10; for painting costs two or three times as much as paint.

Mr. Ezra Rathmell, Williamsport, Pa., always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house; Devoe took 6.

But that isn't all; that's only first cost; how long will it wear?

The paint that goes furthest in covering, wears best too.

All paint, true paint, and full measure are on one side; part paint, false paint, and short-measure are on the other. What can you expect? expect?

Yours truly,

THE REVERE FIRE

Several Buildings at Beach Destroyed

Cause of the Fire Is Not Known

BOSTON, June 5.—Fire devastated about two acres of the most crowded territory of Revere Beach about midnight Saturday, and in less than 30 minutes destroyed real estate valued at $50,000 and personal property worth $17,000. Despite inadequate fire fighting facilities, however, the general destruction of Revere Beach, which is so much feared by those most familiar with the inflammable character of the buildings there and the carelessness of the Revere town authorities regarding precautions against fire along the beach, was again postponed.

Seven families were turned out by the fierce blaze, which swept over the area with remarkable rapidity. Without exception all these people lost practically all their personal property. The wonder is that some of them did not lose their lives. Beyond a few minor burns about the hands while attempting the hopeless task of saving some smaller and more valuable articles, none was injured.

The cause of the fire is not known to the authorities, nor is it agreed as to where it started. Some who were early at the scene declare that it began in the long wooden building known as the Dawson City show, while others, equally as well qualified to testify on the subject, declare that it originated in the four-story wooden building known as the Nickel Palace Theatre. The preponderance of testimony would seem to indicate that it began in the latter structure, and if it did start there the fire was doubtless of incendiary origin.

Because of the almost prohibitive insurance rates that prevail at Revere Beach, less than half the loss was covered by insurance. On the $17,000 loss on personal property there was insurance of only $1125. On account of the lack of sufficient fire-fighting facilities at the beach and of the character of the wooden structures there, the insurance underwriters demand a 5 per cent. premium, and this the property holders there feel that they cannot afford to pay.

The fire was first seen about 11.45 o'clock. Reserve Officer Hardenbrook of the metropolitan park police force was walking down Ocean avenue at that time with an acquaintance, when the latter called the officer's attention to sparks rising from somewhere in the rear of buildings that were soon afterward laid flat by the fire. Hardenbrook ran to box 36, about 300 feet away, and pulled in an alarm. He then ran to the two-story wooden block at the corner of Ocean avenue and Sagamore street, and pounded upon the door to arouse the sleeping inmates. From there he went to the three-story wooden block at the corner of Sagamore avenue and the boulevard and awakened the people there.

Meanwhile the blaze was spreading in all directions with lightning-like speed, and the warning had been given none too quickly. Hardenbrook feels sure that the fire started in the Dawson City building.

William E. McGinness was sitting on the steps of the Ocean avenue front of the big Johnstown flood building with a young woman. A passing boy spoke to him, saying that it looked as if there was a fire in the Nickel Palace building. Young McGinness ran to the front of that building and through a canvas stretched across one of the large windows of the unused structure, he saw a dull red glare. People who live at Revere beach fear fire more than anything else, and McGinness lost no time in running to the park police station, 700 feet away, and notifying Patrolman Holmes, who was in charge of the station, that the building was on fire. Holmes got busy and young McGinness and his girl companion ran to the Nicolini block at the corner of Ocean avenue and Sagamore street and did good work helping the women and children there to the street. McGinness is very emphatic in his declaration that the fire started in the Palace Theatre building.

The losses were as follows:

We know you will take our advice when we tell you to eat the best candy that is made. Now don't think the best candy is the kind that costs the most money, because that is not the case. It's not the cost, it's the purity you must consider.

Ever imagine how many people in Lowell are eating our Molasses Kisses? We wont say how many but we will say that they eat them about as fast as we can make them. That means that there is something about them that appeals to the taste. Made just as pure as molasses will make them, boiled just right, pulled just right, taste just right. Try some?

DEATH BLOW TO PHILADELPHIA CORRUPTIONISTS.

It would appear that political corruption in Philadelphia has received its death blow in the overthrow of the boldest attempt at public pillage ever projected by the organization that for seventy years has maintained a dominating sway over the politics of the state and the state capital.

More than seventy years ago the spoils system was fastened on Philadelphia by an astute politician named Simon Cameron, who secured from President Jackson the patronage of the state in lieu of his success in securing the nomination of Van Buren for vice president.

The Cameron machine was operated by various parties but always with one end in view, the plunder of the state for the benefit of the members, the bosses and the office holders.

The mantle of Simon Cameron fell with peculiar fitness on the shoulders of Mathew Stanley Quay, a man whom a Philadelphia paper describes as "the transcendent apostle of political unrighteousness, who obliterated first of all by his own example the doctrine that public office is a public trust."

Under Quay the spoils system attained its greatest power and every channel of authority was used for the purpose of public plunder. Rights were bartered away, franchises were sold, offices were created, salaries and fees were increased, contracts were awarded and sinecures provided at the public expense for the members of this oligarchy of corruption; and so the villainous work went on until the climax was reached in an effort to effect a deal by which the bosses would secure perhaps $10,000,000 in one haul while perfecting a deal by which the city of Philadelphia would lose about $100,000,000.

The people arose in their might and under the leadership of Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia this whole gigantic scheme of public pillage has been abandoned. The bosses of the organization have been routed and the city is saved. The people who did this should also prevent the erection of a public statue of Mathew Stanley Quay in a public square in Philadelphia as is now proposed by his surviving disciples. It would be an outrage to the rising generation and an insult to posterity to dignify the memory of such a man by a statue in a public square.

Now that popular sentiment is fully aroused, let the Quay statue project be overthrown, let it go down into deserved oblivion with the exploded gas robbery and the malign memory of Boss Durham, Simon Cameron and their lieutenants, cohorts and legion of grafters, boodlers and blacklegs.

FAR REACHING DECISION ON TAXATION.

The supreme court of the United States has rendered a far reaching decision to the effect that the value of franchises is taxable by the state same as land.

The decision was given in a New York tax case as it appears that the point at issue was the taxing of franchise values in corporations, values that in New York and other states had escaped taxation.

Heretofore the franchise giving a corporation the right to use the public streets was regarded as a contract not subject to taxation but the recent decision puts this view aside and treats a public franchise as a license having a definite and ascertainable money value which is to be the basis of taxation.

Under this decision every monopoly franchise in the United States is brought within range of that power of taxation which according to the same court has the power to destroy.

Massachusetts does not tax franchises but taxes corporations for what they are worth. It is plain that a franchise might be worthless or its value might be undeveloped, but in spite of this the right to tax franchises gives the state a power to grapple with monopoly that has not heretofore been applied.

The federal court unanimously holds that the conditions upon which a franchise is granted, whether the payment of money or the bearing of some burden are in the nature of purchase money and that the property thus conveyed is thereafter subject to taxation by the state "the same as land granted or leased by the state. If this be true in reference to a grant of tangible property, it is equally true in respect to a grant of a franchise, for a franchise, though intangible, is none the less property, and oftentimes property of great value. The exception of this intangible property is to eliminate from the reach of the taxing power a large portion of the wealth of the country."

Furthermore, it appears from this decision that the franchise, intangible though it be, is taxable regardless of the taxes that may be levied upon the results of the corporate operations. This will undoubtedly bring about a new system of taxing quasi-public corporations, most of which received their franchises free of charge, the assumption being that the granting power would be amply paid by taxing the corporation for its capital stock, its buildings and effects. The decision rests on the claim that a franchise is a proprietary entity, the value of which can be ascertained same as a piece of real estate.

SEEN AND HEARD

The graceful woman has the poetic girl beaten a whole lot of miles.

Japan seems to be full of those "knock-your-block-off" fellows.

There is no time in her life that a girl is so bewitchingly sweet as on the day she graduates.

"Ohio" is the Japanese word for "Good Morning." When the Jap meets the Russian, however, it is "O" something else.

The man who is slow in making promises and quick in keeping those he makes generally gets along the best.

One meets with some beautiful heads of hair in the Greek colony in Market street. Some men lost sight of the fact that it is just as bad to owe the barber as it is to owe the butcher.

This is the one season of the year when the motorman and the conductor whose daily route is through the woods and the meadows are to be envied.

The increased state tax this year means an increased tax rate in every town and city in the state, and Lowell's burden is a heavy one. What is the good of municipal economy after all? It is something like the little fellow who saves his pennies only to have his bank broken open and robbed by an older brother.

The matter of the Gregorian chant is agitating all Catholic choristers in the country, and, especially in Manchester, it will be interesting to note what Lacey Baker, the organist and choir master of New York's Calvary Episcopal church, has to say on the subject. He uses the following picturesque language:

"I have no patience with the melancholy meanderings of the Gregorian leviathan, which has dragged its lugubrious length across the dead epochs of pagan and philistine progress, with groanings that cannot be uttered externally, mourning like a pre-Adamite turtle dove, the loss of its mates, the sinosaurus and the dodo. It is unique. So is the three toed horse of the miocene period and the megatherium, and the bat with thumbs in its hind feet. Why struggle to perpetuate the nativity of Adam—why parade the fossilized relics of Noah's ark, the lime gaited shadows, these Gregorian skeletons?"

The war declared against waistcoats by E. N. Marshall, headmaster of Kingston grammar school, is generally but conditionally approved by hygienic experts.

A representative found several hygiene experts at the office of the Incorporated Society of Medical Officers of Health willing to express their opinions on the matter, and with one accord they were in favor of reforming the waistcoat, but not of abolishing it.

They agreed that the waistcoat, thick in front and with only thin lining at the back, was a death trap. "In winter every boy and man should have his waistcoat lined at the back with flannel," said one expert, "and all the year round it should be of uniform thickness."

"Too much care cannot be taken of the back," said another authority. "The spinal cord, which is a continuation of the brain, dominates every vital organ."

"The waistcoat as generally made is the most absurd garment conceivable, from a hygienic point of view," was the dictum of another medical man. "Either abolish it for a cardigan jacket, which is really thicker at the back than in front, or for some similar garment, or else insist upon having all waistcoats made of a uniform thickness."

The manager of a large outfitting firm said that not one in 1000 orders for clothing stipulate for a flannel-lined waistcoat.

"I think," he said, "schoolboys themselves would revolt at the suggested abolition of collars. My experience is that boys are growing increasingly fond of looking smart about the neck.

"Some school prospectuses require that the boys have 6 linen shirts or 4 flannel ones, and the latter alternative is very largely chosen."

CHEATED

The merchant who pays for advertising and doesn't get it, cries out that advertising doesn't pay. He is wrong. Advertising pays if you get it. If you pay for any commodity that is never delivered, you lose money on it, just the same as you lose on advertising that you pay for but never get.

When merchants learn to buy their advertising space in the newspapers as they buy their merchandise—by measure and weight, it will pay them. Buy space by the inch per thousand of circulation and see that you get what you pay for. Then you will never be cheated in advertising and it will pay you. The Sun will give you more advertising for your money than any other paper in Lowell. It is

TOLD OF MISSIONARY WORK IN INDIA.

The Young Women's Christian association held its Sunday afternoon meeting in the First Baptist church, yesterday. The meeting was held in the church in order to accommodate the friends of Miss Jennie L. Mudge, the former general secretary, who is in Lowell after an absence of seven years devoted to missionary work in India.

Miss Frances Bennett presided, the president of the association, Mrs. Francis Carll, read the Scripture lesson, and there were words of welcome by Miss Halley, the vice president. Miss Bigelow, chairman of the missionary committee, gave a report of the missionary work of the association.

There was singing by the congregation, with Mr. A. F. French at the organ and Miss Etta Rutherford leading, with solos and duets by Mrs. E. G. Russell and Miss Ethel Wotton.

When Miss Mudge was presented, the congregation arose and gave her the Chautauqua salute.

She spoke briefly, making little mention of her work in India. She said it has not been her lot to endure the hardships that many other missionaries have endured, and she does not feel a bit of a martyr; yet there have been times, when, if it had not been for the prayers going up at home, and especially in Lowell, she could not have gone on. If she were not a missionary in India, she said, she would rather be in this association than anywhere else. She referred to the need of sympathy and help, here at home, for the work in India, where conditions, while they are changing for the better, especially among the women and girls, are still in great need of more spiritual light.

SHOT HIMSELF

BOSTON MAN A SUICIDE IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., June 5.—About 6 last evening a man who gave the name of T. F. Hale of Boston shot himself through the head in his room at a hotel on Forest avenue.

He died at the hospital at 11.25. He was unconscious from the time he was found until his death. He had apparently destroyed every paper in his possession likely to lead to his identification.

He came from Boston about five days ago on business, he said, but did not tell what it was to any one. It is supposed that he had deliberately decided to take his life, and that he came here to do it. He had no luggage, watch or money, as far as is known. During his stay here he did not get shaved, and it is thought he did not have any money.

GAS WAS ON

MEMBERS OF WARD AND VOKES CO. HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

HAVERHILL, June 5.—Lucille and Tilly Munroe, of the Ward & Vokes company, which closed its season in this city Saturday evening, narrowly escaped asphyxiation by gas in their room at a hotel on How street early yesterday morning.

Tilly Munroe on retiring turned off the gas and accidentally turned it on again. The escaping gas was detected by William Smith, another member of the company, who forced open the door of the room of the Munroe sisters and aroused them. Both women were partially overcome, but revived.

NAN PATTERSON TIRES OF THEATRICAL LIFE.

ALTOONA, Penn., June 5.—Nan Randolph Patterson, discouraged, disheartened and completely broken in spirit, severed her connection with the "Romance of Panama" company, with which she was touring, Saturday night and left early yesterday for her home in Washington.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To clean cane-seated chairs, scrub with salty water and dry slowly.

Straw matting should be cleaned by dipping a large, coarse cloth in salty water, wiping thoroughly and drying.

Beat a carpet on the wrong side first, then on the right side. A bundle of tough switches is an excellent carpet beater.

If a carpet begins to show signs of wear, rip up the lengths apart and transpose, putting the worn widths on the sides.

In nailing down a carpet, be sure that the floor is perfectly dry, else the tacks may rust and injure the carpet. Tinned tacks are best to use.

To remove fly-specks from gilt frames, wash very gently with warm alcohol (heated by setting in a pan of hot water), letting it dry on.

Coal oil will clean smoked copper, nickel, tin or agate ware, which should afterwards be polished with old paper. To clean the wash pan, nothing is better than a few drops of coal oil.

For brightening grates, fronts, fenders, and similar iron substances, mix well one pint of asphaltum with a gill of turpentine, and apply evenly with a paint brush. This quantity is enough for five grates.

To brighten carpets after beating, wipe all over with a soft cloth dipped in ammonia water—one gill of household ammonia to one gallon of water. Remove spots with ox-gall and water—one pint of ox-gall to three gallons of water. Tar or wax may be removed by rubbing with turpentine.

To clean a soiled carpet, make a suds, cream-like in consistence, of good soap and soft water, and apply with a small scrubbing brush, cleaning only a small space at a time, sponging it off at once with clean cold water and rubbing dry with soft clean cloths. A weak solution of alum or soda is used to revive colors.

A pale pink coloring for walls can be made by dissolving whiting or lime in cold water and adding enough permanganate of potash to give it the desired color. Add a little liquid glue and apply as you would whitewash. A pale yellow can be made with a little yellow ochre, and the laundry blueing bag will give a tint of blue.

THE POLICE ROUTED

Troops Threatened to Shoot Down Russian Crowd

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—At a great demonstration last evening in the Pavlovsk garden near Tsarskoe-Selo, the five thousand persons present clamored for a funeral march in memory of the Russian sailors who had lost their lives in the naval disaster in the Sea of Japan. The members of the orchestra became alarmed and fled from the platform when M. Novokoff, former mayor of Baku, arose and said:

"Let us all, by rising, show respect for the victims. Down with the war. We have had enough of blood."

Some eighty policemen entered from either side of the hall and elbowed their way through the crowd towards M. Novokoff whereupon cries were raised of "Let us attack the police." Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword. The policemen fled precipitately.

Order being restored a number of speeches were delivered on the national crisis. Suddenly the police, reinforced to between 200 to 300, again invaded the hall and rushed on the audience with drawn swords. The people defended themselves with chairs and sticks, but after ten minutes were driven from the hall into the garden where there was a battalion of riflemen, who raised their rifles to their shoulders preliminary to the order to fire being given, causing a panic. The public fled toward the exits and finding them closed, smashed the doors and windows of the hall and so gained the street. Many persons were injured, some so seriously that they had to be taken to a hospital.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 5.—In the course of a sermon on Christian morality before the Princeton students yesterday, President Francis Patton of Princeton Theological seminary, said:

GRAND EULOGY

Before the Manchester Unity Odd Fellows

BY CHAIRMAN FRED HUMPHRISS

At the First Primitive Methodist

Impressive services in memory of their dead were held by members of I. O. O. F., Manchester Unity, yesterday. The services were participated in by lodges of Lowell and North Billerica. The grave dedication took place in the morning and, later services were held at the Primitive Methodist church in Gorham street. The church was crowded and the presence of Loyal Victoria lodge of Odd Ladies added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

The line of march was formed at Elks hall, Middle street, at 1 o'clock. Eight officers of various lodges with drawn swords, preceded the National band, R. A. Griffiths leader.

Following was a carriage containing Provincial Grand Master Charles J. Thomas of Worcester; Vice Grand Fred G. Humphriss; Rev. N. W. Mathews and Rev. J. M. Craig.

GEORGE EMSLEY, Grand Master.

lodge being at the right of the line. Integrity, Wamesit and Merrimack Valley lodges of this city, and Asa Pollard lodge of North Billerica, followed in order. The ranks were well filled in all of the contingents.

From Middle street the line went to Palmer, to Merrimack, to Central and direct to the Edson cemetery.

The mound marking the resting place of Alexander Mack, of Wamesit lodge, was the centre of the memorialists. Provincial Grand Master Thomas read the full ritual of the Manchester Unity.

The service began about 3 p. m. and upon the platform were seated beside Chairman F. G. Humphriss and the pastor, Rev. N. W. Mathews, Provincial Grand Master Chas. J. Thomas of Worcester, Past Provincial Grand Masters George Emsley of Lowell and Stuart Mackay of North Chelmsford, Provincial Secretary J. W. Clegg, Rev. J. M. Craig and Rev. George F. Kenngott.

ELOQUENT EULOGY.

The following eulogy was delivered by Chairman Fred Humphriss:

"As each succeeding year passes into history we find our circle of friends has been invaded.

"Once more we are called upon to do honor to the memory of those who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above.

"The memory of our deceased members should ever be an incentive to us to emulate their most worthy acts—to strive to so perform our duty that when life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labor ended, we may be received into, and dwell forever in the heavenly kingdom.

"Our friends may die and leave our hearts and homes desolated for a time—we cannot prevent it—nor would it be best if we could. If we lose them, heaven gains by them. If we mourn, they rejoice. If we hang our harps on the willows, they tune theirs in the eternal orchestra above, rejoicing that we shall soon be with them.

"We may still love the departed. They are ours as ever, and we are theirs. The ties that unite us are not broken. They are too strong for death's stroke. They are made for the joys of eternal friendship. Other friendships on earth will not disturb these bonds that link with dear ones on high. Nor will our duties below interfere with the sacredness of our relations with them. 'The sorrow for the dead,' says Irving, 'is the sorrow from which we refuse to be divorced. Every other wound we seek to heal; every other affliction to forget; but this wound we think it a duty to keep open; this affliction we cherish and brood over in solitude.'

"The love which survives the tomb is one of the noblest attributes of the soul. Though it may sometimes throw a passing cloud over the bright hour of gaiety, or spread a deeper sadness over the hour of gloom, yet who would exchange it, even for the song of pleasure or the burst of revelry? No, there is a voice from the tomb sweeter than song. There is a remembrance of the dead to which we turn even from the charms of the living. The grave buries every error, covers every defect, extinguishes every resentment. From its peaceful bosom spring none but fond regrets and tender recollections. Who can look upon the grave even of an enemy, and not feel a compunctious throb that he should have warred with the poor handful of earth that lies mouldering before him. But the grave of those we love what a place for meditation! There it is, we call up in long review the whole history of virtue and gentleness, and the thousand endearments lavished upon us almost unheeded in the daily intercourse of intimacy.

"Death comes equally to us all and makes us all equal when it comes. No sex is spared, no age exempt. The majestic and courtly roads which monarchs pass over, the way that the men of letters tread, the path the warrior traverses, all lead to the same place, all terminate, however varied in their routes, in that one enormous house which is appointed for all living.

"'It is appointed unto men—unto all men, once to die,' we are all subject to death.

"The ashes of an oak in a chimney are no epitaph of that to tell us how 'high' or 'large' that was; it tells us not what flocks it sheltered when it stood nor what men it hurt when it fell. The dust of great men's graves is speechless too; it says nothing; it distinguishes nothing. Look at the hero as he stands on an eminence and covered with glory. He falls suddenly, forever. His intercourse with the living world is now ended, and those who would hereafter find him must seek him in the grave. There, cold and lifeless, is the heart which just now was the seat of friendship; there dim and sightless, is the eye whose radiant and enlivening orb beamed with intelligence, and thence closed forever, are those lips, on whose persuasive accents we have so often, and so lately hung with transport.

"From the darkness which rests upon his tomb there proceeds, methinks a light, in which it is clearly seen, that those gaudy objects which men pursue are only phantoms. In this light, how dimly shines the splendor of victory; how humble appears the majesty of grandeur! The bubble, which seemed to have so much solidity, has burst, and we again see that all below the sun is vanity.

"True, the funeral eulogy has been pronounced, the sad and solemn procession has moved, the badge of mourning has already been decreed and presently the sculptured marble will lift up its front, proud to perpetuate the name of the hero and rehearse to the passing traveller his virtues; just tributes of respect, and to the living useful but to him, mouldering in his narrow and humble habitation, what are they? how vain; how unavailing! During a life so transitory, what lasting monument, then, can our fondest hopes erect?

"It is true that a few friends will go and bury us; affection will rear a stone and plant a few flowers over our grave; in a brief period the little hillock will be smoothed down, and the stone will fall, and neither friend nor stranger will be concerned to ask which one of the forgotten millions of the earth was buried there. Every vestige that we ever lived upon the earth will have vanished away. All the little memorials of our remembrance; the lock of hair encased in gold or the portrait hung in our dwelling will cease to have the slightest interest to any living being. We need but look into the cemetery and see the ten thousand upturned faces; ten thousand breathless bosoms. There was a time when fire flashed through those vacant orbs; when warm ambitions, hopes, joys, and the loving life pulsed in those bosoms. Dreams of fame and power once haunted those empty skulls.

"The little piles of bones, that once were feet, ran swiftly and determinedly through twenty, forty, sixty, seventy years of life, but where are the prints they left? He lived, he died, he was buried, is all that the headstone tells us. We move among the monuments, we see the sculpturing, but no voice comes to us to say that the sleepers are remembered for anything they have done.

"A generation passes by. The stones turn gray, and the man has ceased to be, and is to the world, as if he had never lived. Thus is life. Only a few years do we journey here and we come to that bridge. Death transports us as the road we have traveled, either virtue, happiness and joy is a happy paradise of love, or the road of passion, lust and vice to destructive wretchedness.

"Since our last memorial services, the grim reaper has visited our ranks many times and taken from us many active workers, many who will be sadly missed, not only in the homes where they were fondly loved, but we shall miss them in our councils in the subordinate lodges.

THE DEATH ROLL.

"Your committee on honored dead submits the following report in memory of our deceased members: "Such are the thoughts and emotions that control our speech that we keenly feel our inability to give proper expression to the loss our order has sustained by the death of the following members, who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above:—

Bro. Frank Lockwood, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, July 9, 1901.

Bro. John G. Hewson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7196, July 12, 1904.

Bro. Henry Kimball, Integrity lodge, No. 6620, Sept. 27, 1904.

Bro. Millage H. Nicholls, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Nov. 29, 1901.

Bro. Robert H. Swift, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Dec. 29, 1904.

Bro. Wm. Cochrane, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Jan. 11, 1905.

Bro. James Wilson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7196, May 3, 1905.

Your committee are pleased to report that the membership of Excelsior lodge and Asa Pollard lodge, also Victoria lodge, No. 1, I. L. O. O. O. Ladies, have not been invaded by death during the past year.

List of members' wives deceased:—

Sarah H. Garner, wife of Bro. Geo. Garner of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died Oct. 26, 1904.

Nellie May Huntley, wife of P. G. Nelson E. Huntley of Excelsior lodge, No. 6303, died Jan. 4, 1905.

Elizabeth G. Dawson, wife of P. G. James Dawson of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died April 6, 1905.

"If, as we are told, 'the brightest niche on the wall of fame is awarded to those whose unswerving devotion to principle and duty have become a cardinal virtue' then, as we read the resolutions adopted by the lodges, in loving memory of their deceased members, we must feel that they represent in the highest sense, that splendid type of high and noble living, the outgrowth of true fraternity, and that our order is poorer even as Heaven is richer, because they have gone from us. We are reminded as we read the list of the year that

"Thus from life to death, from death to life,
We hurry round to God,
And leave behind us nothing
But the path that we have trod."

True to the principles and the spirit of our order these members have left behind a record of service in the green fields of humanity. The memory of our departed members should ever be an incentive to us, to emulate their most worthy acts, to strive to so perform our duty that when "Life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labors ended, we may be received into and dwell forever in the Grand Lodge above."

Let us not look upon our members as dead, rather let us take the Scripture assurance as our guide: "In My Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would have told you; I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

FRED HUMPHRISS, Chairman.

Good men have fallen, noble and true brothers have crossed the shining river, they have left indelible footprints on the sands of time. We will cherish their memory, and strive to emulate their manly virtues. Kind friends, gentle companions, noble sons, true husbands, loved brothers, beloved sisters and wives, farewell.

Thus pass away the men of might,
Whose noiseless footprints stamped the age.
Their thoughts that filled the earth with light
Still glow and blaze on memory's page.

There is no death; the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forever more.

Thus we part from them; their lives will be a constant inspiration, and their good deeds will shine as bright stars in the firmament, examples by which we may guide our own lives and shape the course of our own service.

May we so live, that when the summons comes to us to pass at God's command through the shadowy gates to reach the sunlight of the eternal hills, we, too, may receive the welcome salutation: "Well done, thou good and faithful servants" and may the victors crown be placed on our brow, that crown sparkling with gems of glory, unfading and eternal.

Sincerely and fraternally submitted, Fred G. Humphriss, chairman; P. P. G. M. Geo. Emsley, P. G. John S. Jackson, P. G. Walter Killerby, P. G. Robert Tivey, committee on honored dead.

The brothers and friends adopted the report and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

A retreat for children making their first communion next Sunday will commence this afternoon at St. Jean Baptiste church.

ON THE CARS YESTERDAY ON ALL LINES.

Yesterday's fine weather proved a great day for trolley riding and the local division of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. is quite a number of dollars richer this morning. Everyone who could find the time, enjoyed a trip on the trolleys to some place.

Lakeview seemed to be the objective point for the majority of people and all of the available open cars were pushed on this line in order to accommodate the traffic, and there were not enough, but everything went along nicely, there being no accidents and the cars made good time.

Many of the suburban routes were patronized by people who wanted to enjoy the ride and not be too crowded in the cars, but all of the cars were crowded from ten o'clock in the morning until late at night. Many people made the Boston trip, while Canobie Lake park was also well patronized.

At Willow Dale there was a large gathering and the new skating rink was crowded all the afternoon and evening.

CAMPHOR BALLS

NOT NEEDED FOR MOTHS AT OPERA HOUSE.

There are Moths at the Opera House tonight and they will not be driven away for a week. They are not of the species that can be removed by camphor balls. They are the men and women Moths of society, those human insects that prey upon the delicate cranium of reputation and eat it away until the whole beautiful fabric falls to dust.

Ouida's beautiful story of "Moths" has been for many years the standard of all parlor melodramas. It is essentially a society play of modern Russia where intrigue holds away day and night, but its characters are all finely drawn, and its human interest is greater than half the so-called successes of today. It started the fortune of the elder Wallack in New York, who ran it for nearly two years with such people as Herbert Kelley, Osmond Tearle, Rose Coghlan and Rose Eytinge. Beneath it all it's top any production of the Huntington, DeDeyn Stock company seen in our city and the new gowns will be a revelation to the feminine portion of the audience. Mr. Huntington will again head the bill in his favorite role of Lord Jura and Miss Fletcher will be seen at Vera.

NEW LAW

IN RELATION TO FINES FOR DRUNKENNESS.

The new law in relation to drunkenness, recently passed and which becomes operative July 1 is as follows:

"When a person convicted before a municipal, police or district court is sentenced to imprisonment or to pay a fine and to stand committed until the same has been paid, the court may direct that the execution of said sentence be suspended and that he be placed on probation for such time and on such terms and conditions as it shall fix. In case the sentence is to pay a fine not exceeding $10 and to stand committed until the same be paid, if the court finds that the defendant is unable to pay the fine when it is imposed and will not probably default and that it will not be detrimental to the interests of the public, the execution of the sentence shall be so suspended and he shall be placed on probation.

"When the execution of a sentence to pay a fine has been suspended as aforesaid, one of the conditions of the probation shall be that the fine shall be paid during the period of probation. Said fine shall be paid to the probation officer, whereupon the order of commitment shall be void. The probation officer shall give a receipt of every fine so paid, shall pay the fine to the clerk of the court at its next session, and shall keep on file the clerk's receipt therefore. If at the end of said period the probation officer shall report to the court that the fine is unpaid, and that the person is unable to pay the same, the court may either extend said period, place the case on file, or revoke the suspension of the execution of the sentence.

FOOT CRUSHED

Knocked From Running Board by Wagon

Paul R. Burtt, the well-known local florist, had his right foot crushed by an electric car in Gorham street last night. His injuries consisted of a laceration between the fourth and fifth toes which required ten stitches to close. The nails of the first and second toes were torn off and hesustained abrasions and small lacerations on the right foot and left leg.

He was boarding an outbound Gorham street car near the corner of Middlesex and Central streets. He was on the running board of the car when a wagon passed and knocked him off.

In falling his feet fell across the rails, but he pulled them partly off before the car wheels reached him. His right foot was caught in the flange and drawn some little distance before the car was brought to a stop.

He was taken to a nearby store and later removed to the Emergency hospital, where his injuries were treated.

He had a narrow escape from being killed.

HIS NATIVE TOWN

Plaistow N. H. Remembered by A. G. Pollard

A. G. POLLARD.

Touching Tributes to Honored Son—Lowell Roasted by Messrs Marden and Pickman

Mr. Arthur G. Pollard of this city paid a visit in memory of his boyhood days to Plaistow, N. H., Saturday afternoon, and the little New Hampshire town turned out en masse to honor its distinguished son. From many other cities and towns, to which they have removed, sons and daughters of Plaistow assembled, and at a flag-raising on a beautifully graded lot adjacent to the own hall atver 1500 persons were present.

The flag pole, which is one of the longest in the country, standing 125 feet in height, is a gift to the Village Improvement association, as well as is the flag, a handsome silk banner, 25x18 feet. While the flag-raising celebration was primarily the purpose of the gathering, the occasion developed into a genuine old home affair, and it will be a long time ere the residents of Plaistow will forget the series of events that took place.

On every hand Mr. Pollard, the town's benefactor, was greeted cordially, and it was a pleasant spectacle to witness the hearty hand-shaking and remembrance of old family names among those who had not met in many years. The town hall was gaily dressed in festoons of the national colors and nearly all of the surrounding houses were profusely decorated. From every window of the town hall there hung the folds of American banners, and within the building evergreens and palms and cut flowers were in prominence everywhere. The stairway to the assembly hall was converted into a floral bower and from balcony to platform streamers of red, white and blue were stretched and attractively intertwined.

Literary exercises accompanied the flag-raising, and the speakers included George A. Marden, United States subtreasurer in Boston; Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the Lowell park commission; Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell and District Attorney W. S. Peters of Haverhill.

Upon the village square from 1 to 2 o'clock Quimby's band of Haverhill, seated in an elaborately decorated band stand, gave a concert which was listened to by a large gathering.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the flag was slowly hauled upward, the rope being in the hands of Miss Cora Pollard of Plaistow, cousin of the donor, while Mr. Pollard himself stood close by. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the children of the public schools, grouped near the band stand, sang the national anthem.

Orchestral music was filling the town hall as the spectators at the flag-raising began to disperse, and while the assembly hall was being filled by those who gathered to listen to the patriotic exercises a splendid program was rendered by Lougee's orchestra of Haverhill.

Mrs. Elbridge H. Lloyd, president of the Village Improvement society, opened the exercises, and when she rose to speak the hall was filled to overflowing and many were obliged to remain downstairs because there was no room for them above. In her address of welcome she paid eloquent tribute to the public-spiritedness of Mr. Pollard and his loyalty to his native town. She enumerated some of the many gifts he has bestowed upon Plaistow, and said that the flag and pole were but the latest of the tokens of his love and remembrance of his own people.

A. G. Pollard, in responding, made a characteristically modest address. He said that he wished only to express his gratitude for the kind words of the president and for the evidences of esteem in which he is held by his townspeople. He said that whatever he had done for Plaistow was prompted purely by love of his native town, and that if what he has given is appreciated, as he feels sure it is, he is satisfied. He thanked the Village Improvement society for electing him to honorary membership, and said he was proud to be associated with an organization whose purposes were so noble as those of Village Improvement societies. "In this simple gift of the hour," said he, "I feel that I am doing but my duty to remember the town that gave me birth, and I cherish the hope that our mutual efforts to conserve the best interests of Plaistow will be attended by grand results."

George A. Denoncour was then introduced as master of ceremonies and in opening he congratulated the Village Improvement association upon the good work it is performing. "This day," said he, "is a banner one for Plaistow; one that should be remembered by its citizens for years to come. Regardless of creed, color or station in life we assemble to do honor to a generous townsman, who, though he has gone from our midst these many years to assume a place of prominence in a great city, never forgets the little town from out of which he went in youth to engage in the battle of commercial life."

Mrs. George Cox of Laconia, N. H., sang "The Homeland," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Fred Dunn, and was followed by Rev. Charles A. Towne pastor of the Baptist church, who spoke eloquently.

Hon. George A. Marden of Lowell was introduced as "an honored son of Massachusetts" and he immediately corrected the master of ceremonies by stating that he was born in New Hampshire and proud of his native state.

Mr. Marden after some introductory remarks said:

"It is the duty of every man to vote—and I believe also that the women should be given the same privilege. I care not for whom the ballot might be cast, every citizen should exercise the right of his enfranchisement. Only let me warn you as to the citizens you put up for public office. Do not as we do in Lowell, have some of the worst men in the community for your public officials, choosing them in spite of your knowledge of their unfitness because of a desire to adhere to your respective political parties. That kind of voting is wrong. Over in the city where I live it has been discovered that there are over 7000 men who have not paid their poll taxes. Now, to my mind, a man who would refuse to pay his poll tax would steal—perhaps not outright, unequivocally steal, but like Ananias he would 'hold back.'

"Mr. Pollard has put you on the right track," continued the speaker, "and now you surely can keep going straight ahead. If you do not, Mr. Pollard has only his labor for the pains he has taken to help you."

An original poem, entitled "Plaistow, My Native Town," composed by Mary Peaslee Gardner, was read.

Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission in Lowell, among other things said:

"To beautify a town or city is a noble work, and the man engaged in it is entitled to great praise.

"For years we had the opportunities to branch out in this manner in Lowell, but although I do not like to speak ill of my own city, I am forced to admit that it has been in the grasp of politicians who used the department established for keeping our beauty spots in proper condition as a vehicle mere for the securing of jobs for their followers. The only question of the bosses seemed to be, 'How many men can we get work for?' A few years ago, however, a woman's club over there became actively engaged in the betterment of existing affairs and the result of their insistent efforts was the creation of the park commission, and now there appears to be general satisfaction. There was a time when the city and town funds were spent only for the erection of public buildings, the construction of sewers and such like, but that period has passed and we are now starting on a new era. The establishment of parks and public breathing spots enhances real estate values and broadens a city or town. We have a beautiful place known as Fort Hill park in Lowell, and since it was accepted by the city the section of the city in which it is located has been built up from a wilderness to a thickly settled and fashionable suburb."

"A stranger visiting Plaistow," said Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell, "could not help but be favorably impressed. Like Mr. Pollard himself, the place contained force and power and was bound to continue to greater achievements. In small towns can be found the very bulwark of America's best citizenship." He congratulated the Village Improvement association upon having upon its rolls the name of one of Lowell's most distinguished citizens, and said that he knew whereof he spoke when speaking in the highest terms of praise of Plaistow's honored son. "He comes here in the utmost sincerity today," said the speaker, "to lay at your feet some token of his regard. I know that in the midst of his business trials he is always thoughtful of his native town and seeking some new method of advancing its interests. He was prompted in giving the pole and flag by his tender associations here. No selfish motive has entered into any of his numerous benefactions. I congratulate him upon doing what he has done for so appreciative a people, and will remember with pleasure the spectacle of your little children singing the glorious 'Star Spangled Banner' as the flag slowly climbed its way upon the staff."

Wednesday, June 7, at 4.30 o'clock

Absolute sale by auction of a parcel of property, consisting of buildings and about 4600 square feet of land situated at 122, 124 and 126 Fletcher street.

Promptly at 4.30 in the afternoon on date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public sale, this parcel of property, consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The building at 122 and 124 is a two-story building, used as a blacksmith shop, and is adapted for almost any kind of light manufacturing; the floor above, or second story, is used at present for storage. The building at 124 is a 2½-story structure, and is occupied by a junk shop in front and a wheelwright in the rear. The above two buildings could, at very little expense be converted into quite a building for manufacturing purposes. The lot contains about 4600 square feet, with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway which must be forever left open, 84 feet, giving fine frontages, and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets, as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an exceptionally fine site for manufacturing, and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. This sale will be an absolute one, to the highest bidder, on that day.

Terms: $400 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale; other terms at sale. C. F. KEYES in charge.

A VERY FINE RESIDENCE: HOUSE, BARN, AND ABOUT 13,500 SQ. FEET OF LAND AT THE CORNER OF PINE STREET AND HIGHLAND AVENUE NUMBERING 238 PINE STREET.

Resolved am I to place my residence before you at public competition, and though it may seem singular for me in so doing, I feel that in justice to myself, I should live nearer my business, therefore I will make a positive sale to the one bidding the most on that day set apart. The buildings are of good styled architecture, they have slated roofs, set well back on the lot and make an attractive and beautiful dwelling.

The house has vestibule front with leaded glass doors, entering into a large reception hall finished in quartered oak, and lighted by leaded glass windows; from the reception hall is a large drawing room, living room with open fireplace and cherry mantle, and a beautiful dining-room finished in quartered oak; a very convenient kitchen, pantry, wash room with set boiler and soap-stone trays and a summer kitchen in the rear. The second floor has six large, well lighted, ventilated chambers and bath; and a finished room on next floor for servant. It is heated throughout by steam, a Scannell & Wholey boiler which I had put in new last year, supplying the same; it has gas lighting, electric bells, cemented cellar and every modern convenience used for residential purposes.

The barn has two stalls and a box stall, a fine carriage room with concrete flooring, a small room for man, a harness room and a good loft running the entire length. The whole first story is sheathed with Georgia Pine, finished natural.

The grounds, containing about 13,500 square feet, is graded to a beautiful lawn, is bordered on both streets by a pretty evergreen hedge, has concrete walks and driveway, and concrete around the entire buildings; there are also a dozen or more full grown fruit trees and shrubberies on the lot. The large frontages on both streets give this an excellent situation. It is but a few minutes' walk to the car service on Westford or Stevens streets, and is clustered with some of our best city residences. Now I am determined to sell and I am fully aware of the sacrifice I will have to make, so if you are in the market for an up-to-date, perfect residence, this is your chance.

Terms: $750 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale.

C. F. KEYES in charge.

HIS SON MISSING

Father Fears That Boy Read Dime Novels

John Allen, 15 years old, son of Oliver C. Allen is missing from his home in Marsh street. The boy left home last Thursday evening about 7 o'clock and his father and the police have been unable to obtain any clue to his whereabouts.

His father and sisters are very anxious regarding him. Mr. Allen called at The Sun office this afternoon and asked that the story of the boy's disappearance be made public.

"I'm afraid," said Mr. Allen, "that the boy read too many dime novels. He was employed in the Carpet mills and when he didn't have anything else to do he read dime novels. He had a good home and was well cared for.

"When he came home Thursday he told me they had not paid off at the mill because of the holiday on Tuesday and I told him that was all right. He went upstairs and changed his clothes. He put on the best he had and went out. That was the last we heard of him. I am very anxious about him and thought that by publishing the story of the boy's disappearence it may reach the attention of somebody who had seen the boy or who knows of his whereabouts."

When he left home he wore a coat of dark mixed material and a gray cap with flaps and buttons. He is about medium size, dark complexion and has dark hair.

SUPT. MOFFATT

Talks of His Washington Trip

Supt. Moffatt is back at his desk in the police station again after a most interesting week's trip to Washington, D. C., where he was in attendance at the annual convention of the chiefs of police of the country and learned much concerning police methods and incidentally imparting much valuable information on the finger-print system.

WASHINGTON BIKE POLICE.

"On Wednesday morning we were all out at 9 o'clock to witness a parade and drill by the Washington police bicycle corps which was most interesting. They came along on their wheels, in single file, in twos, fours and finally in platoons wheeling along with the precision of military men. Then we were treated to a chase of an automobile. Way up at the end of the street an auto was started down the smooth-paved road at a terrific rate of speed and a short distance away a bicycle officer stood beside his wheel. As the auto flew by him he jumped on his wheel and started after it at breakneck speed while at each intersecting street another officer joined in the chase.

They wheeled up behind it so as to get the number and then went up abreast of the riders for the purpose of identifying them. Then they abandoned the chase and dismounting made a note of the number of the auto, the identity of the persons in the machine and from the "speedometers" with which each bicycle is equipped they could tell the exact speed at which the auto was going.

SAW THE PRESIDENT.

At noon that day we all had a hand-shake with the president. There was a big gathering at the reception and they actually pushed us through so great was the throng. We passed along in single file and the president shook hands with each in turn, greeting each with a pleasant word.

"On Thursday afternoon we all took a trip down the Potomac to Riverview where we were treated to what is known as a plank shad dinner, one of the finest fish dinners I have ever eaten. Two lines of planks are laid in two rows on an incline and a big fire is built between them. Then the shad are split in halves and laid flat on the plank and allowed to cook. It was amusing to see the chiefs from the interior who never get any fresh fish put away that shad. On Friday we went through the city in observation cars and saw all the sights of the city.

After a short stay in Baltimore I went on to Philadelphia to visit an old friend and there saw where the first American flag was made, viewed the famous old Liberty bell and other places of historic interest and I was much impressed at the manner in which the liquor business is conducted there. On Sunday the city is absolutely dry. Even the legitimate guest of the hotel cannot procure a drink but at midnight the saloons open and remain open continuously until midnight Saturday night. The police authorities informed me that they obtained the best results by this method.

Today's Ball Game at Spalding Park

INNINGS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

Lowell returned to Spalding Park this afternoon after a disastrous week away from home with the avowed purpose of bracing up and doing better right off the reel provided the threatening clouds didn't open up with a good shower to prevent them.

The fans were somewhat, and agreeably surprised to find two men wearing Lowell uniforms this afternoon in the persons of Owen Jackson, brother of Jimmy Jackson, the crack outfielder and batter of the team and Jimmy Sullivan, a third baseman from the strong Leominster team. Sullivan was procured on short notice after J. Connors signified his intention of quitting the team and his first game was in the nature of an experiment. He was put on third base while O. Jackson was sent out to right field, his brother playing the left garden while Bigbie holds down first base. Young Jackson is a catcher and is said to be a comer. He will alternate with Anderberg for the present.

J. Connors after quitting the team Saturday was in town this morning looking for a chance to get back. It appears that things miscarried with the Murray Hill team to which he jumped on Saturday and the team did not take him with them. He then came back to Lowell thinking that everything would be all right but such was not the case and he returns to his home in Brooklyn, N. Y. today, the players making up a little purse for him before he went. Connors was a nice, quiet, gentlemanly fellow, a promising batter and a fairly good base runner but at third base he didn't fit at all and his release was only a question of a few days when he jumped the team.

The Fall River team which lost its head entirely when it got into first place for a couple of minutes was Lowell's opponent this afternoon and they were as chesty as ever.

FIRST INNING.

Fall River went to bat first and went out in short order, while Lowell in the latter half of the inning had a batting carnival and landed heavily on the visiting pitcher. Three men were sent across the home plate by the locals during their half.

Kiernan and O'Hara opened for Fall River by flying out to Bigbie and Grant. Bowcock closed Fall River's half by hitting to Cross and going out at first.

Billy Connors opened up for Lowell with a line drive to Gulheen and was out. Grant hit to centre field for a single and was followed by Bigbie who hit to Carrick, the latter throwing to second to catch Grant, but Dwyer muffed the ball and both men were safe. Jackson was given quite a hand as he came to the bat and to show his appreciation banged the ball out to left centre for three bases, Grant and Bigbie scoring on the hit. Owen Jackson was the next batter up and he hit to third base for a single, scoring his brother. McLaughlin singled to left field and J. Sullivan hit to Dwyer forcing McLaughlin out at second. Sullivan then stole second. Anderberg closed the inning by flying out to Moorehead.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 0.

SECOND INNING.

Neither side scored in the second inning. Gulheen was the first man up for the visitors and he drew his base on balls. Birmingham foul-flied to Anderberg. Moorehead fanned the breezes. Dwyer hit to J. Sullivan but in throwing to first the umpire happened to be within range of the ball and Mr. Stafford nearly went down and out. The runner was safe. Sullivan then hit to Cross and died at first.

Cross drew his base on balls and Connors intending to sacrifice bunted the ball to Carrick who sent it to first for a double. Grant closed the inning by flying out to Gulheen.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 0.

THIRD INNING.

Fall River received another goose egg in the third inning. McLaughlin was the particular shining light owing to his fine fielding. Carrick opened with a two-bagger between Grant and Jackson. Kiernan filed out to McLaughlin the latter making a pretty running catch to short left field. O'Hara hit a grounder to J. Jackson who threw to Sullivan at third catching Carrick. Bowcock drew his base on balls and Gulheen filed out to J. Jackson.

Bigbie opened the third for Lowell by hitting to Carrick and going out at first. J. Jackson filed out to Kiernan and O. Jackson struck out.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 0.

FOURTH INNING.

Fall River broke the ice in the fourth inning by scoring a run, and would have scored another but for a pretty running catch by Jim Jackson. Birmingham opened with a grounder to Bigbie, and reached first in safety. Moorehead sent him along to second with a sacrifice. Dwyer went out, Connors to Bigbie, and Birmingham went down to third. Sullivan singled over second base, scoring Birmingham. Carrick sent a slow one to Sullivan, who threw bad to first and the runner was safe. Kiernan filed along the foul line and Jackson by a pretty running catch nabbed the ball.

For Lowell, McLaughlin hit to Carrick and was out at first, and Sullivan hit to Bowcock and failed to reach first. Anderberg singled between second base and shortstop. Cross closed the inning by striking out.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 1.

FIFTH INNING.

Cross pitched fine ball in the fifth inning and the visitors were retired in short order. O'Hara fell a victim to Cross's delivery, while Bowcock filed out to Connors and Gulheen fanned the wind.

Connors hit to Gulheen in the fifth and was out at first. Grant filed out to Moorehead. Bigbie hit to Bowcock who threw bad to first and the runner was safe. Jim Jackson filed out to Moorehead.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 1.

SIXTH INNING.

Birmingham opened the sixth with a grounder to Connors who made a pretty stop and threw the ball to first. Moorehead singled over third base. Dwyer filed out to McLaughlin and Sullivan filed out to Jim Jackson.

Lowell scored two more runs in the latter half of the sixth inning. Owen Jackson drew his base on balls and then stole second. McLaughlin sacrificed sending Jackson to third. J. Sullivan hit to Birmingham who fell all over the ball and the runner was safe while Jackson scored. Sullivan then tried to steal second but was caught. Anderberg hit to right field and Cross sent him to third with a single to short left field. Connors singled and Anderberg scored. Grant closed the inning by hitting to Dwyer and going out at first.

Score—Lowell 5, Fall River 1.

SEVENTH INNING.

With one out in seventh inning Fall River got three men on bases, but the scoring of only one run was the result. Carrick opened with a grounder to McLaughlin and was out at first. Then Kiernan, O'Hara and Bowcock each made a hit, filling the bases. Gulheen struck out. Anderberg caught Bowcock napping off first and threw the ball to Bigbie. Bowcock then started for second and forced the men ahead of him around a base and Kiernan had to start for home, but Bigbie held on to the ball too long and when he did throw it home he threw it wild and Anderberg could not reach it, and Kiernan scored. Birmingham struck out.

After making two good singles and later filling the bases, Lowell failed to score in the lucky seventh. Bigbie singled over second base and Jim Jackson sent him to third with a two bagger to right field. O. Jackson hit to Dwyer and was out at first. McLaughlin popped a fly to Gulheen who made a beautiful muff, filling the bases. J. Sullivan sent a line drive which Bowcock took care of and sent the ball to first for a double, catching McLaughlin.

Score—Lowell 5, Fall River 2.

EIGHTH INING.

In the eighth inning Moorehead foul flied to Andreberg. Harris then took Dwyer's place and hit to McLaughlin and was out at first. Sullivan then hit a hot one to Cross and Lew pulled it down with one hand and Sullivan fielded it, but threw bad to first and the runner went around to second. Carrick struck out.

In the latter half of the eighth inning Anderberg struck out. Cross hit to left field. Connors hit to Waters who tagged Cross out at second and then threw to first for a double play.

Score—Lowell 5, Fall River 2.

NINTH INNING.

Kiernan opened the ninth for Fall River by hitting by Sullivan for a single. O'Hara followed with another single and Bowcock filed out to J. Jackson. Gulheen hit to right field for two bases, scoring Kiernan. Birmingham hit to right field for a single, scoring O'Hara and Gulheen but Mike tried to go to second and was thrown out. Moorehead hit to McLaughlin and died first.

Grant opened with a single to left field, Bigbie sent him to second with a sacrifice. Jimmy Jackson got his base on balls. Owen Jackson hit to Bowcock who threw to Gulheen, getting J. Jackson and Gulheen then threw to Bowcock catching Grant.

Score—Lowell 6, Fall River 5.

TENTH INNING.

Waters drew his base on balls. J. Sullivan hit over J. Jackson's head for two bases and Waters scored. Carrick sent Sullivan to third with a sacrifice, Kiernan hit to right field for a single scoring Sullivan. O'Hara hit to Cross forcing Kiernan at second. O'Hara went to second on a wild pitch. Bowcock hit to deep centre field for two bases scoring O'Hara. Gulheen filed out to J. Jackson.

McLaughlin hit to centre field for a single. Tierney went to bat for J. Sullivan and hit to short left field and Waters muffed the ball. Anderberg hit to left field for a single, filling the bases. Cross filed out to Gulheen who threw to Birmingham who returned the ball to second, catching Tierney for a triple play.

A JURY

NEW YORK, June 5.—A jury may be asked to pass upon the bankruptcy case of the Haight & Freese company, a stock brokerage house with many outside offices, which suspended a few weeks ago. The company is allowed until June 14, to take the case before a jury and if it neglects to do so within that time the court will pass upon the matter June 21. Announcement to this effect was made today by Judge Holt in the U. S. district court after hearing arguments by counsel representing Haight & Freese company and its directors. Counsel for the company contend that the class of business in which it was engaged is not enumerated in the bankruptcy act, and that therefore it cannot be adjudged bankrupt.

ANOTHER BATTLE

Must be Fought Before War Will End

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—7.45 p. m.—The interview between President Roosevelt and Ambassador Cassini at Washington regarding peace in the far east has not borne fruit here. Foreign Minister Lamsdorff has not yet visited Tsarskoe-Selo but will lay Count Cassini's despatch before the emperor tomorrow, the regular audience day. The Associated Press was informed at the foreign office that Count Cassini's report places the whole conversation in a purely informal light and it is expected that Russia's answer will be returned in an equally informal manner.

The officials did not hesitate to express the opinion that the determination to continue the war was fixed and definite. They seemed pleased with President Roosevelt's friendly spirit which was manifested in such a form as not to require a formal reply. Ambassador Meyer did not receive any dispatches on the subject during the day and after the flutter of excitement in diplomatic circles caused by the press dispatches regarding the Washington interview the representatives of the powers here are disposed to look upon the attempts to end the war as fruitless until after another hard battle at least.

SMALL FIRE BROKE OUT IN A BARN.

Fire broke out in a barn in Howe street near the tannery at 4.20 this afternoon and an alarm was sounded from box 131. When the department arrived the blaze was all out and little damage was done. The barn belongs to the James F. Lyons estate. While on the way to the fire Deputy Chief Norton's wagon collided with a carriage in Central street but no one was injured nor was any damage done.

ON TRIAL

TWO MEN ARE CHARGED WITH MURDER.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., June 5.—Antonio Carpenito and James Del Grosso were placed on trial in the superior court here today charged with murdering Reserve Policeman Thomas C. Malloy of Brockton. Malloy was shot and killed, the government alleges, while he was attempting to arrest the two defendants, who were engaged, it is charged, in stealing wire from a Brockton railroad building. A jury was impanelled after all Brockton residents had been excused from possible service and the trial was started with Judges Maynard and Lawton on the bench.

WHITELAW REID

Received in Audience by King Edward

LONDON, June 5, 12.11 p. m.—Whitelaw Reid, the new American ambassador, had an audience of King Edward at Buckingham palace at noon today and presented his credentials. Three royal carriages were sent to Dorchester house to convey the ambassador and the members of the embassy to the palace.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne drove up to the palace at about the same time as the ambassador whom he introduced to the king. The latter wore a field marshal's uniform and was surrounded by his suite. His majesty's reception of the ambassador was most cordial. While the ambassador was presenting the king with his credentials, Queen Alexandra was receiving Mrs. Reid and Miss Reid.

Secretary Hay paid a formal visit to the American embassy this morning.

The conversation between the king and the ambassador was quite lengthy. His Majesty recalling Mr. Reid's previous visits to London and expressing the greatest pleasure at the good relations between the United States and Great Britain. The king also spoke a few words to each member of the embassy. After the official reception Mr. Reid was ushered up stairs where his wife and daughter were with the queen and the ambassador was presented to Her Majesty. King Edward also came in and Mr. and Mrs. Reid were presented to him. The king and the ambassador thereupon re-engaged in further conversation. The visit altogether lasted 40 minutes, after which the ambassador and his party returned to Dorchester in carriages with conchmen and footmen garbed in long scarlet cloaks.

Mr. Reid had already called at Lansdowne house, the foreign secretary having waived a formal call at the foreign office and requested the ambassador instead to call at his private residence.

The ambassador this afternoon called on all the ambassadors and ministers accredited to the court of St. James. The ambassador has a busy week ahead, as a guest at functions in honor of the king of Spain.

$50,000 REWARD

For Discovery of Man Who Sent Threatening Letters

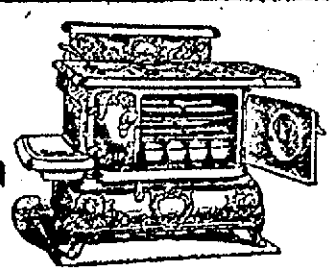

OSWEGO, N. Y., June 5.—Driven almost to the point of insanity by numerous letters threatening to kidnap or murder his daughter Rossamond, John Jay Tonkin, a wealthy and prominent citizen has announced the offer of a reward of $50,000 for the discovery of the person who has for two years been writing letters to him demanding large sums of money or dire results. The offer of the reward reveals a story of months of haunting fear which have made life unbearable for the members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin had three daughters. One, Virginia, died three years ago. The shock affected the parents greatly. It is said the body was embalmed and kept in the house for nearly eight months when the authorities interfered and it was buried.

Soon after this came the first letter demanding money or threatening harm to Rossamond. Since then the missives have arrived at frequent intervals. The child has been so strictly guarded that she has grown morose and sickly.

Mr. Tonkin showed the letter to the Oswego police and employed detectives but no clew to the writer could be obtained. With nerves shattered by the strain, Mrs. Tonkin took Rossamond to New York six months ago, where apartments were engaged, but the letters followed Mrs. Tonkin. Finally, broken in health and spirit, Mrs. Tonkin returned to Oswego, with the child. Armed coachmen and detectives always accompanied Rossamond when she left the house.

On May 28, near here, Cora Sweet, a child, was dragged into a lonely field by a farm-hand and murdered. The crime stirred the whole city and the farm-hand who confessed was protected with diligently. The murder so alarmed Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin, that they offered the reward in the belief that it would stimulate search for the writer. The last letter received demanded $50,000, threatening the death of the daughter if it was refused.

PERSONAL FIGHT

The Cause of a Log Driving Dispute

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 5.—The situation along the St. John river in the vicinity of St. Leonards and Van Buren, due to the log driving dispute is not regarded here as being especially critical. Levi W. Pond, the aged log driving contractor, who has charge of bringing down the logs for New Brunswick mills, and when it is alleged destroyed a boom belonging to the Van Buren Lumber company a week ago yesterday, left for the up-river country today. He had been in St. John interviewing Attorney General Wm. Pugsley and some of the mill owners there. All concerned advise Mr. Pond to conduct himself within international law. It is understood that the Van Buren company has ordered some of the booms changed to allow more room in the river.

Allan Hammond, manager of the Van Buren Lumber company, maintains that Pond's grievance is entirely a personal one. Hammond declares that since a disagreement between Treasurer Stevens of the company and Pond, the latter has been unfriendly. Manager Hammond says that an attempt will be made to summon a special session of the Maine legislature to consider a bill to repeal the charter of the Madawaska log driving company and of the Pond Boom company, both of which are represented by Contractor Pond. Those directly concerned in the difficulty say that the dispute is not one between Maine and New Brunswick mill owners.

It is held that the matter is largely personal between Pond and the Van Buren company. The Van Buren company is a Maine corporation but it has close relations with this province, two of the officers residing at Edmundston. Many of the employes are Canadians. Pond is an American, although for years he has had charge of the driving operations for New Brunswick mills, some of which are owned by United States citizens.

The main question which has been over-shadowed since the Van Buren dispute has to do more with the St. John Lumber company, also a Maine corporation, against which Attorney General Pugsley has filed information in the equity court of this province to determine the question of whether alleged obstructions placed in the St. John river by that concern constitutes a violation of the Ashburton treaty. In the Van Buren case the attorney general has stated that no one will be justified in taking the law into his own hands and removing obstructions by force. In addition to instituting court proceedings against the St. John company, the provincial government forwarded to the Canadian government at Ottawa some time ago, a strong protest against the reported action of this corporation in obstructing navigation. It is this phase of the case that is now before the Washington and Imperial authorities.

AN INJUNCTION

Against National Baseball League Officials

BOSTON, June 5—A temporary injunction against President Harry C. Pulliam, of the National league of baseball clubs, restraining him from suspending or fining John J. McGram, the playing manager of the New York team of that league, was issued today by Justice Sheldon of the superior court.

The injunction also restrained the various umpires of the National league from preventing McGraw from going on the field in the capacity of a playing manager.

Manager McGraw was suspended for 15 days and fined $150 for alleged misconduct during a game in New York City between the Pittsburg and New York teams. At a recent meeting of the National league directors here an attempt was made to have the action of President Pulliam nullified, but it was not successful. Thereupon McGraw carried the matter to the court and petitioned for an injunction, which today was issued in a temporary form. The restraining order will be in force until such time as the court orders its removal.

A hearing on the merits of the case will be held at a latter date. The court's action was interpreted by Manager McGraw as giving him permission to appear on the grounds in today's game in this city with the Boston nine.

In issuing the injunction, Judge Sheldon announced that under rule 25 of the National league by-laws, Pulliam had no right to suspend McGraw without proper proof. "Unless Pulliam had seen the misconduct himself, which he did not," said Judge Sheldon, "he should have given McGraw notice of charges against him, which he did not, and consequently the court renders null and void the action of Pulliam."

It is understood that a further hearing may be deferred until the New York club returns in September, according to the schedule.

While the action of the court is not binding beyond Massachusetts, McGraw claims that it will furnish an important precedent in legal steps which he may take in other states.

NEW YORK, June 5—Samuel Lobley, who confessed to taking part in an alleged conspiracy by which the Equitable Life Assurance society was induced to lend $55,000 on a life insurance policy that had been stolen from its vaults, was sentenced to eight years in Sing Sing prison by Judge Crane in Brooklyn today. Lobley had pleaded guilty and declared that his share of the $55,000 was only $10,000.

Judge Crane said that he took into consideration Lobley's age—50 years—but that he was experienced in crime and should have known the consequences.

SHOT TO DEATH

Bodies of Three Persons Were Found

HILLSBORO, O., June 5—Nettie Hurt, Madge Dines and Geo. Baldwin, all under 18 years of age, were found shot to death in an upper room, in the house of Ed. Dines, father of Madge, near Hillsboro last night.

The man's brains were blown out with a shotgun, which was found in the room. The theory that the young man murdered the two girls with a pistol and then committed suicide is not entertained. A fourth person is suspected, but the identity of the alleged murdered and his motive are withheld.

Geo. Baldwin was a neighbor. He visited the Dines' home last night ostensibly to protect the girls in the absence of Mr. Dines.

THE POWERS

MAY REFUSE TO TAKE UP FRENCH PROPOSALS.

FEZ, Morocco, Friday, June 2.—No doubt is entertained in diplomatic circles that the proposal in behalf of Morocco to submit the French proposals to a conference of the powers signatory of the Madrid convention will be declined by the British, French, Spanish and Russian government. Uncertainty prevails regarding the attitude of the other powers and it is thought in some quarters that Germany may utilize the Moorish proposals as a protest to enter into direct negotiations with France in which case the Moroccan question may possibly be settled in Paris or Berlin.

The fact that the Moorish decision was launched on the evening of the arrival here of the British minister, is much commented upon and is regarded as being a distinct mark of discourtesy to Great Britain.

Count Von Tattenbach-Ashold, head of the German mission, is evidently in high favor at the Palace where he has frequent interviews with the Sultan.

NEARLY DROWNED

Diver Was Almost Dead When Rescued

CANTON, O., June 5—After being imprisoned for 24 hours loaded down by a diver's armor and under 15 feet of water, Daniel Hayes has been brought to the surface in an unconscious and almost dying condition.

He is a professional diver and had been employed to remove the brush and debris from the immense pipe which serves at times of low water to drain Lima Lake and transfer its refuse to the Mississippi river. While at work Hayes was sucked under the pile of refuse and over against a boulder in a way which prevented him from loosing himself from the hose which held him down.

Major Meigs, engineer in charge of the river improvements scoured the country for a diver to go to the rescue of Hayes but was unable to find one until nearly 2½ hours had elapsed.

When after an hour's hard labor the imprisoned diver was released his suit was found to be leaking and he would have been drowned had the ordeal lasted another half hour.

DIVORCES

REV. MINOT SAVAGE SAYS LARGE NUMBER ARE TO BE WELCOMED.

NEW YORK, June 5.—In a sermon at the church of the Messiah, Rev. Minot J. Savage has expressed the belief that on the whole a large number of divorces at the present time are altogether to be welcomed.

"They are," he said, "nearly always in the interest of oppressed women, giving them another opportunity for a free, sweet, wholesome life. There are cases where the divorce laws are abused but not nearly so many as the frightened ministers of a great many of our churches seem to imagine.

"Law does not make marriages. The church does not make marriages. Men and women, if they are ever married, marry themselves. All the law can do is to make a clumsy attempt to protect; all the churches can do is to recognize and try to consecrate a fact which already exists. But if there is no marriage, then it is desecration to keep up the sham."

MAYOR DUNNE

REPLIES TO CRITICISMS OF GRAND JURY.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Mayor Dunne has replied to criticisms of himself contained in a report from the informal statement of the grand jury. He asserts that the report is grossly unfair and unjust.

Denial is made to the charge that the mayor failed to exert full authority in which he says:

"If the grand jury means that I have failed to call in the militia, I answer that until I fail to get wagons through the streets and maintain law and order with the police, I have no right, legally or morally, to call for the assistance of the militia, I do not intend to until it becomes necessary to protect Chicago and its business interests from a hurtful blow. Over three weeks ago certain interests in this city demanded that I call in the militia. A situation under the law warranting such a call did not then and has not since existed. I refuse to do so and I will refuse until it appears that such a step is necessary."

After his refusal to call for the militia, the mayor asserts he was attacked "in the most virulent manner."

He adds:

"During the whole of this strike I have decided and acted upon all questions arising during the controversy as though I was still sitting on the bench giving to each side what was its legal right—no more and no less—and my action in this regard I submit to the candid and impartial consideration of my fellow citizens having at heart the interests of the whole people who being swerved from my course by the clamor from either side."

IS STILL MISSING

B. F. Williams is Still Seeking His Wife

WAS INFORMED SHE HAD BEEN SEEN

Has Searched Hopelessly for Nine Months

Benjamin F. Williams of Providence, R. I., whose wife mysteriously disappeared on September 20 last while the couple were rooming at 37 Church street, this city, came to Lowell yesterday and received the startling information that his wife has been seen several times since last September.

Mr. Williams since leaving Lowell has spent $600 going from place to place in search of his wife without finding any trace of her and had come to the conclusion that she was either dead or living in the vicinity of Lowell.

He immediately went to the police station but no one there could give him any information. He also heard since his arrival in Lowell that his wife has been seen in Boston and in Manchester, N. H., but can obtain no verification of the report.

The suspense he says is terrible to bear owing to the knowledge of the fact that his wife has periodical mental troubles. If she were dead and buried his mind would be at ease and he will spend every cent he can earn to find her dead or alive.

Mrs. Williams is about 5 feet, 6 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. She is of dark complexion and has dark brown hair and rosy cheeks. She has a mole on the right side of her face near the nose. She had a gold filled tooth on the right upper set. She had a very peculiar walk. Any information concerning the whereabouts of the missing woman will be received at this office.

THE HOTELS

NEW YORK, June 5—Hotel keepers of this city report that never in their experience has there been such an influx of foreign visitors to the Metropolis. Cursory examination shows that there is hardly a hotel lobby where one may not hear several foreign languages nor a register which bears names of less than four or five nationalities.

Many of the visitors are Frenchmen.

IN CHICAGO

MASTER BOILER MAKERS OPENED ANNUAL CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Master Boiler Makers from all parts of the world met here today at the opening of the fourth annual convention of the Master Boiler Makers' society. The principal question to be discussed will be the adoption of uniform rules as to the safe working pressure of steam boilers.

Another subject which will demand the attention of the delegates is that of securing the passage of a law making it compulsory for all boiler makers to secure licenses, thus to protect the purchasers from many "mysterious" boiler explosions that might otherwise be traced to carelessness in the manufacture of the boiler.

All were taken into the station, were resuscitated, had their clothing dried, and then left for home. Save for the boy, the others were young men, and the accidents were due to lack of knowledge regarding the use of canoes.

Their names are said to be J. D. Vincent, Boston; Alexander O. Kane, Roxbury; John Dolan, William Fletcher, Henry Sullivan, all of Somerville, and Arthur Fowle, James Smith, J. W. Sherman and Frank Robinson of Cambridge.

PROTECT LIVES

Of Inmates, Says the Mayor to Overseers

IN REPLY TO COMMITTEE'S REQUEST

For More Insurance on the Buildings

The following is a copy of the letter sent to the committee on insurance of the board of overseers of the poor:

Lowell, Mass., June 2, 1905.

William Shields, John McManus and Edwin S. Eastman,
Committee on Insurance of Board of Overseers of the Poor.

Gentlemen:—In pursuance to your request that I formulate a recommendation relative to the advisability of placing additional insurance on the City Hospital building, would say that I made an inspection of the institution, and suggest that you give consideration to providing more adequate protection against fire, and safeguard the lives of the inmates intrusted to your care rather than how much more insurance money the city would obtain in case of fire.

As I unerstand the situation, you desire to spend about $1600 for additional insurance. If you have this amount to spend it would seem preferable to use it for the purpose of installing, in part at least, a sprinkler system which would lessen the risk of a serious fire, and secure a lower rate for insurance that might be placed later.

If fire were to break out in the women's ward a terrible loss of life would probably result. There is but one means of egress, and that only serviceable for those on the first floor. The inmates confined on the floors above would be cut off and obliged to use a fire escape at the other end of the building. A fire escape, however, is of but little service for old and infirm women trying to escape from a burning building. It would seem more practicable to build out from this end of the building a stairway that would provide an egress from all floors.

Under existing circumstances I can not recommend that a part of your appropriation be expended for additional insurance. It would seem that your first duty is to protect, as far as possible, the lives of those intrusted to your care.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES B. CASEY, Mayor.

The body had been in the water a long time. Head, arms and the lower portions of the legs are missing. The trunk was covered by a cardigan jacket and a yellow undershirt.

APACHE CREW

SPENT SOME TIME IN FISHING FOR COD.

FALMOUTH, Eng., June 5.—The American yacht Apache arrived here today. Her extraordinary delay was due to her going too far north and experiencing a series of calms on the banks of Newfoundland. The yacht's movements were so slow that the crew indulged in cod fishing. Subsequently the Apache entered four heavy gales. She was obliged to heave to for 18 hours when off Cape Race. All on board the Apache are in good health.

"Mr. Coolidge has declined to serve on the committee of seven named to select a chairman of the board of the Equitable society. He has also resigned from the board of directors."

Mr. Coolidge has been weighing the question of his appointment to the special committee since the announcement was made that he was selected to be one of the seven. It has also been known that he has been considering the advisability of resigning from the board of directors since the meeting of the board when the Frick report was read. It was known that he favored strongly the acceptance of that report.

BOSTON, June 5.—Well-known men participated today in the celebration of the 267th anniversary of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of this city, the oldest military company in the United States. About 400 members of the organization and guests assembled at Faneuil hall at noon and marched to the state house where Gov. Wm. L. Douglas, Gen. Nelson A. Miles and members of the governor's staff, joined the line. From Beacon Hill, the company marched through the business district to the new Old South church, where the annual sermon was preached by Rev. Alan Hudson. Among the guests were officers representing the Old Guard of New York, the Veteran Artillery Corps of New York, Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, N. H., Worcester Continentals, the Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, and the Providence Light Infantry.

After the church services, the company went to the common where the annual drum-head election was held and a salute fired by a battery.

WADE CHANCE

TESTIFIED IN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY CASE AGAINST CRAWFORD.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The government practically has concluded the introduction of testimony in the case of Wm. G. Crawford on trial on charge of having conspired with August W. Machen and George E. Lorenz to defraud the government in connection with a contract to furnish letter carriers' satchels to the postoffice department. Wade Chance, formerly president of the Postal Lock and Device company, of which Crawford was manager, testified that his title of president was only nominal and that Crawford had full charge of the company's affairs. On cross-examination, A. S. Worthington of counsel for the defence, offered correspondence between Crawford and Chance to show that all important business matters were submitted to Mr. Chance and that many of them were in turn approved by Spencer Trask, who financed the postal company. Mr. Chance at the time was secretary to Mr. Trask and represented his employer's interest in the postal company.

PROMISES TO CORRECT ANY INSURANCE EVILS.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 5—Before leaving for the west today Governor Higgins discussed the Equitable Life Assurance society matter. "I don't anticipate that a legislative investigation of the society's affairs will be necessary," he said. "It is possible that legislative action may seem desirable; but no legislative committee could gather information relating to the Equitable which the superintendent of insurance is not able to get. Conditions will be probed to the bottom; and in so far as lies in my power, any evils that exist will be corrected." The governor discussed the Equitable matter with Supt. Hendricks yesterday when the latter stopped here on his way to New York.

"I expect that the superintendent will report on his investigation," said the governor, "by June 15, and by that time I hope to be back."

Asked whether his remarks regarding the desirability of legislative action referred to the entire insurance situation, Governor Higgins said:

"Insurance within the state of New York, ought to be put beyond a question, so far as the honesty and reliability of the corporations authorized to do business is concerned."

Given Great Welcome to England

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 5—The King of Spain arrived here this afternoon from Cherbourg on board the British Royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The yacht was accompanied across the channel by a strong escort of British cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The royal visitor was welcomed at the British naval headquarters by an imposing array of warships, a score of which fired a royal salute as the Victoria and Albert passed through their lines. The young king who wore the uniform of a British general with the ribbon of the Order of the Garter stood on deck, evidently keenly enjoying the spectacle in spite of the fact that it was pouring rain. The Prince of Wales, representing King Edward awaited the yacht at the quay side and immediately after the gangway was run up, he went on board the Victoria and Albert and warmly welcomed the Spanish ruler. Their respective suites were then introduced and subsequently the mayor and corporation of Portsmouth presented his majesty with an address of welcome.

The two monarchs entered a state carriage with the Prince of Wales and Duke of Connaught and amidst cheering from the big crowds assembled started for Buckingham palace followed by half a dozen coaches with the officers of state and suite. Above the archway through which the two kings passed off leaving the station was the motto:

"Viva Alfonso XIII"

The streets were lined with troops. The Spanish king everywhere met with the heartiest reception.

The route from Victoria station to Buckingham palace was flanked by arched streamers, lamp-posts bedecked with yellow and red artificial flowers and frequent elaborately decorated grandstands. The Spanish legation at Grosvenor Gardens was decked with the Spanish colors and immediately opposite was a stand for the Spanish residents of London who gave the king a native welcome to his evident pleasure. But the labors of the army of decorators who transformed the streets into a triumphal archway of various colored flags, bunting and artificial flowers in which the yellow and red of Spain predominated, were rendered almost futile by the down pour of rain, which, starting early this morning continued all day long.

The police arrangements were extraordinarily minute. In fact they were such as never before had been witnessed in London. Everybody with the exception of those officially connected with the reception was cleared out of the station and its precincts. Policemen in plain clothes and secret service men were scattered along the whole route.

King Alfonso, who was the first King of Spain who has ever landed in England, disembarked at 2.20 p. m. Accompanied by the Prince of Wales, he took a train for London amidst the firing of royal salutes.

IN LONDON

YOUNG KING WAS RECEIVED BY KING EDWARD.

LONDON, June 5.—4.33 p. m.—The King of Spain arrived in London this afternoon. He was welcomed at the railroad station by King Edward. Their majesties arrived at Buckingham Palace at 4.58 p.m. The royal visitor was accorded the heartiest reception the whole length of the route. No untoward incident marred the event.

King Edward in the uniform of a Spanish admiral, had driven up to Victoria station just before the arrival of King Alfonso and as the train drew up at the platform, King Edward advanced to receive his young guest, whom he cordially embraced. The platform was crowded with uniformed cabinet ministers, diplomats and military officeres.

The station was gaily decorated. Opposite the spot where King Alfonso descended from the royal train appeared the motto:

"On your left, gentlemen, flows the majestic Merrimack river, which in the early days played a very prominent part in supplying water for power to run the mills, steam not being used in those days.

"Not until around the 50's did the firemen play a very prominent part in connection with manufacturing. It was then that the steam boilers and engines proved that they could be used in an economical manner, and as a result of this, today we have some 100 firemen working around our city, which only goes to show that steam power is used to a great extent at the present time.

"Allow me at this time to point out to you, gentlemen, some of the places I would invite you to see before your return home. First, there is our city hall, one which compares with any municipal building in New England; also our city library and Memorial hall, and the monument in front of the city hall, which is a memorial to those who left this city in 1861 and shed their blood for the honor of their country. The monument is in the shadow of city hall and marks the graves of Ladd and Whitney of this city, the two first men who fell in Baltimore in April, 1861.

"From the monument you can see the mills which are lined up on the banks of the river, I would also like to have you, gentlemen, visit our Textile school and many other places, including our schools, churches, fire stations, court house and the many manufacturing plants.

JOHN BARRETT,
Chairman of Local Committee.

"We hope that your stay with us will be a pleasant one to you all and that this convention will have good results, and that when you return to your homes you will have pleasant memories of this city, the City of Spindles."

The convention was then turned over to District President Milo Shumway and the following committees were appointed:

Committee on credentials, Messrs. Flannagan, Mahoney and Johnson.

Press, Messrs. Ryan, Shumway and Barrett.

The committee on credentials then retired to examine the credentials of the different delegates.

A committee on rules also held an executive meeting and the convention adjourned at 12 o'clock.

This evening an open meeting will be held.

MICHAEL P. FLANNIGAN,
Secretary State License Committee.

The officers of the state body consist of the following:

the evidence of Lieut. Webster on the ground that the complaint specified May 27 and that evidence as to any other day was incompetent. Lieut. Webster didn't know anything about the dog being given away.

Assistant City Clerk McCarthy produced his records and stated that no one named Lessard had taken out a dog license this year. Lawyer Donahue objected on the ground that Mr. McCarthy was not the city clerk but his assistant and not the custodian of the records. He also objected because the records were in different handwriting. The evidence was admitted.

Lessard said he gave the dog to one Tully of Pelrut over a month ago and Tully owns it now. The dog came back and each time witness put the animal out because he didn't want it there any longer. The animal came back from Tully three times and each time he notified Tully to take the animal away.

The night the officers went to arrest Lessard he failed to return home all night and Deputy Welch asked "Why did you remain away from home that night?"

"Because I didn't want to get pinched," promptly replied the witness. Lawyer Donahue argued on the ground that the defendant had given the dog away and did not want the animal there. Lessard was fined $15 and he appealed and was held in $100 for the superior court.

A NEGLECTFUL WIFE.

Patrick F. and Mary Carney were in for drunkenness, and Officer Maguire and Agent Richardson testified that while the husband is not a bad sort of a fellow the mother keeps a dirty house and is improperly rearing her two small children. Mr. Richardson said that the children were living in filth.

Judge Pickman read a lecture to the woman on cleanliness and said: "Persons may get drunk but they must keep clean. Don't you know how to use soap?" It was decided to place the man on probation and send the woman to jail for one month to get her a good wash and get the liquor out of her system.

The case of Avidas Maranian and Charles Kuzaglan, charged with assault with intent to commit murder on Oscar Ohanpian, was called this morning. The counsel for the defendants asked for a continuance until June 14, as the injured man is still at the Emergency hospital, and asked for a reduction of bail in the case of Maranian. Dr. Dugdale of the hospital testified that the patient is doing very well and indications are that he will recover, although he would not state it positively. Judge Pickman reduced Maranian's bail from $3000 to $2000 and the case was continued until June 14. The other defendant is already under bail.

COMPLAINANT MISSING.

Francis W. Devine was in for drunkenness and larceny in 1901 of a watch and $1.65 from Annie Arnold. The police were unable to locate the complainant and the larceny complaint was placed on file while Devine was fined $6 for drunkenness.

MUCH ADO, ETC.

BACK TO FARM.

Matthew Connolly was in for the fourth time and his suspended sentence to the state farm was revoked and Matthews goes back. Frank Canole, a parole man from the state farm, was in again and he will go back tomorrow.

SENT TO JAIL.

James McQuade kept his folks up all night with his ravings and he was sent to jail for 14 days to get the liquor out of him.

A SERIOUS CASE.

John J. Devaney, a clean-looking young man was charged with assault with intent to rape Henrietta Dane, aged 22 years and married.

They met on the street, last evening and as the result of a flirtation took a walk up to Pawtucket street. When the vicinity of Moody street was reached Young Devaney, the complainant alleges, proposed that they take the river path in the rear of the Textile school and she being a comparative stranger in the city assented. When she got some distance from the street she claims that Devaney suddenly threw her down and attempted a felonious assault. Devaney was arrested by Officer Grady and in court this morning pleaded not guilty. The case was continued until tomorrow and Devaney was held in $200.

TOUCHED HER "FRIEND."

The prettiest girl who has been a prisoner in police court in a long time was 20 year old Emma Reynolds who with Della Savard, aged 27 years was arrested from a local hotel about 5 o'clock this morning on a charge of larceny of $132 from Hermidas Meunier, 192 in cash and a check for $4.45 being recovered it is alleged from the defendants or one of them. Meunier it seems was entertaining the two fair charmers at a suburban resort yesterday and last evening, and during the good time displayed his roll. Then it is alleged their fingers became cold and froze to the roll. As soon as Meunier discovered his loss he made a wise move for instead of making an outcry right then he suggested to the girls that they all take a hack and go into Lowell for the remainder of the night. They gladly assented and all came to town and put up at a local hotel when Meunier after locking the door told them to give up or he'd have them arrested. The girls pleaded ignorance of any knowledge of the roll, whereupon Meunier sent for the police and all were taken to the police station together with Joseph Blood a young man who was with the party when the hack was engaged. Blood was discharged from custody as he had nothing to do with the case, while the girls pleaded not guilty and were continued until Thursday.

NOVEL SERVICE

The Water Was Strewn With Flowers

Garfield Relief Corps Directed Service

James A. Garfield Relief Corps held a service on the bank of the Merrimack river, yesterday afternoon, in memory of the soldier-sailor dead.

The meeting was well attended and the services were unique as well as impressive. Indian Orchard at the head of the Merrimack river on the Centralville side below the Centralville bridge was the scene of the observance which without doubt will become annual.

At four o'clock a procession was formed, headed by color bearers one and two, Mrs. Mary E. Offutt and Mrs. Juliette Blood, who were followed by the corps officers, President Mrs. Louisa Blood; senior vice-president, Mrs. Jennie Connell; junior vice-president, Mrs. Martha Fife; press correspondent, Mrs. Martha Smiley; chaplain, Mrs. Catherine Robbins; treasurer, Mrs. Annie E. Tuttle; conductor, Mrs. Pauline Crawford; guard, Mrs. Helen Talbot; assistant conductor, Mrs. Carrie Storm. Third and fourth color bearers, Mrs. Josephine Worden and Mrs. Mary Shirley came next in the procession, and the other corps members fell in, two by two, and accompanied by Rev. Asa Reed Dills, children and a large number of spectators.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee," was sung. In answer to questions by the president as to the significance of the service the senior vice-president said: "To honor the memory of the Union sailors and marines who sleep beneath the ocean wave, that the Union might live." In answer to the question: "Have you a record of their services in the cause of their country?" the secretary answered: "Their deeds and sacrifices have been recorded on the pages of their country's history, and emblazoned on the Book of Life by the Great Commander."

Mrs. E. R. Berry, department press correspondent, read an original poem and cast a flag upon the water. A quartet composed of Percy Arnold, Bert Cheney, Victor Storm and Arthur Galley sang "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers." Rev. Asa Reed Dills offered prayer, and the corps officers advanced to the river and cast in bouquets of flowers, repeating in unison:

Emblem of their courage and purity and love."

Col. Royal S. Ripley of Chelmsford, commander of Post 185, cast upon the river a wreath and flag, saying, "Comrades, in the name of countless thousands of the land and sea, who have shared your dangers, and endured your sacrifices, this wreath is cast upon the waters that roll above you."

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow gave a patriotic address. The quartet sang "There Will Be One Vacant Chair." The flag salute was given, America was sung, and Rev. Asa Reed Dills pronounced the benediction.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST.

Missionary Sunday at the Immanuel Baptist church yesterday brought out a large attendance. In the morning Miss Frances Bennett, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, gave a general talk on missionary work. She also sang twice. In the evening Rev. A. W. Moore gave an address out of his personal experience as missionary in India.

CHELMSFORD STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. A. E. Kenyon preached an anniversary sermon yesterday morning, this being the beginning of his seventh year as pastor of the church. His text was "Now brethren, I commend you to God," Acts 20:32. He spoke in a reminiscent vein, of the work done by the church and societies connected with it and said in part: It is necessary to commend all callings to God, the mother, the teacher, the professional man should commend their work to God so their influence shall be for the highest good to those around them. Why do men not take this attitude, which is the most reasonable one? Because they do not recognize their responsibility to God and their fellow men, and because sin blinds them to the truth. The pastor in closing said it was his desire to commend the church and all its branches to God for the coming years, as he had endeavored to do in the past.

The church and society is in a very flourishing condition, many additions to the membership having been made recently, and the church has been renovated and repaired, both inside and out. The society is planning for a lawn party, and the following members of the Sunday school were appointed on a committee to represent the school: Messrs. Wills and Woodman and Miss Ida Cook.

The music yesterday was unusually good, the anthem "Awake Thou," being rendered by the choir, also "Let the words of My Mouth." Miss Maud Black and Choir Master Thomas sang "Pleasant Are Thy Courts."

ALMOST KILLED

Non-Union Man Attacked by Slugger

CHICAGO, June 5.—Non-union men are still being harassed by sluggers. Albert Johnson, believed to be a non-union teamster, was severely beaten today at Fourteenth street and Ashland avenue. When found by the police, he was insensible and was bleeding from a wound on the head. He was taken to a hospital where it was found that besides the scalp wound, several of his ribs were broken. He will probably die.

Young, together with a number of members of the "Scut" gang, had broken into a freight car and had stolen two barrels of beer.

BIG REPAIR SHOPS.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., June 5—It has been definitely decided by the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. company that it will expend $1,000,000 upon locomotive repair shops at Norwood, Mass., substantially duplicating the present large car repair shops at Readville. A later result of this will be the transfer to Norwood of 700 hands now employed at the locomotive repair shops in this city.

One of the hardest things to get off the hands is paint—rub, rub, rub—and even then most of the stain remains, and hard scrubbing injures the skin, making it rough and ugly.

MISSION OPENED

Large Congregations at St. Michael's

Three Dominican Fathers from New York opened a two weeks mission at St. Michaels' church yesterday. At each mass one of the missionaries explained the order of exercises for the mission and gave brief instruction. At high mass the celebrant was Rev. Francis J. Mullin; Rev. Eugene A. Carney, deacon, and Rev. Dennis F. Murphy, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., delivered a strong sermon on "Salvation," during which he warned his congregation of the terrible punishment in store for the unrepentent sinner. He appealed to all to accept the opportunity offered during the mission to make their peace with God that they may enjoy the blessings and happiness promised the faithful. He reminded his auditors that in the struggle for riches and position in this world they must not neglect their spiritual welfare which is of the greatest importance.

In the evening Rev. Fr. Conlin, O. P., conducted the services, which were for women exclusively. He gave brief instruction in the rosary, and then followed recitation of the beads.

Fr. Conlin also preached the sermon, explaining the object of missions and the aim of the missionaries to reach all regardless of creed. The service ended with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

MISSION CLOSED.

In the little church at Collinsville the mission for the members of St. Mary's parish was brought to a close yesterday. It was conducted by the same priests who are preaching the retreat at St. Michael's church. During the four days of the mission the church was packed at each service, while yesterday morning several hundred received holy communion.

At 9.30 o'clock mass celebrated by Rev. John Shaw, the preacher was Rev. John Dominick, O. P.

In the afternoon at 3.30 the mission for women was brought to a close. Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., officiated and spoke to the women on "Perseverance," urging them to remain loyal to the promises made by them during the retreat and to be faithful in the performance of their church duties.

He gave the papal benediction to those who had complied with the conditions of the mission.

At 7 o'clock in the evening the men's mission ended with a sermon by Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., who also gave the papal benediction.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday about 70 boys and 91 girls made their first communion at the 7.30 o'clock mass. The altars were beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion. Going to Make a Wedding Present of a Cooking Range?

Well, don't impose upon the bride a stove that she won't like. Time and again young couples come into our store to buy their furniture, carpets, etc., and when we ask them if they want a range the answer is, no, we had a present of a range, but I wish they had given me a

CRAWFORD

Remember, they have to use it and buy the fuel it will consume for many years, and you are not doing them a kindness by giving them a range that will cost more to run than the Crawford. It does not matter how good a range you've got, the Crawford is as good every way and the wonderful patented Single Damper makes it more simple to handle and makes it do better work with less coal or wood. Not because we say so but because reason tells you it will.

OFFER OF PEACE

Has Been Well Received in Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5, 2.10 a. m.—President Roosevelt's tender of his good offices to bring about peace is received with general favor in the press and by the public and a desire that some steps should be taken towards securing an honorable peace is increasingly manifest.

The Russ declares that the president's offer should be commended as an act of friendship tending to bring out Japan's terms of peace and Russia's acceptance of an offer which would not mean surrender on humiliating terms. The paper maintains at the same time that negotiations if begun must be direct and that there must be no intervention by other powers.

Baron Rosen, the new ambassador to Washington, does not seem to be accelerating his departure on account of developments in the United States. He will sail on July 27.

THE FIRST DAY OF NAVAL BATTLE

On the morning of May 27, when the Russian fleet found itself 120 miles south of Tsu Island it was heading for the straits in three columns, the battleships and five cruisers on the left, the light cruisers on the right and the transports and torpedo boats between. The weather was foggy and the view therefore difficult.

At 5.30 o'clock in the morning the Russian fleet was discovered by the Japanese cruiser Idzumo, which blundered upon it in the fog and narrowly escaped capture.

At 10.30 o'clock four Japanese cruisers, the Chotose, Kasuga, Tsushima and Nitaka, were discovered to the northeast of the fleet and were fired on by the battleships. The Japanese cruisers disappeared and the Russian fleet proceeded through the strait.

Suddenly at 1.20 o'clock in the afternoon, a gaunt silhouette of Japanese vessels, their greenish blue paint making them scarcely visible in the fog, loomed up to the westward of the Russian vessels. These Japanese vessels consisted of four battleships and the armored cruisers Tokiwa, Nisshin, Kazuga, Iwate and Idzumo. They immediately opened a heavy fire which was especially directed against the flagships of the various squadrons of the Russian fleet.

Admiral Rojestvensky signalled to the transports to place themselves on the right of the squadron of light cruisers so as to increase their distance from the fighting portion of the fleet, which was now hotly engaged and suffering under the well aimed fire of the Japanese.

Thanks to the precision of the Japanese gunners and the concentration of their fire on the flagships, within an hour and a half the Kniaz Sauvaroff and the Oslabyn were reduced to wrecks and soon sank.

Almost at the same time as the opening of the engagement between the battleship divisions a column of light Japanese cruisers appeared from the eastward and fell upon the retiring Russian transports and the light cruisers. The cruisers Vladimir, Monomuch and Dmitri Donskoi were released from the left column and sent to the aid. They were repulsed by the Japanese cruisers but not before the Ural had been brought to a sinking condition.

The battle continued until 5 o'clock without any further noticeable change in the situation.

Soon thereafter the battleship Alexander III. began to list badly and dropped out of the line, but was quickly repaired, resuming her place and reopening fire. The battleship Borodino was then heading the line. The Japanese noticing the condition of the Alexander III. concentrated their fire upon her and she again dropped out of the line, this time finally and disappeared.

Such a heavy fire from the Japanese 12-inch guns was then directed against the Borodino that she was disabled and sank. This was at 7.59 o'clock in the evening.

The battleship Sissoi Veliky was now ablaze but was firing every available gun. At this hour the onslaught of torpedo boats from the coast of Japan and the closing in of the battleships from the left broke up the Russian fleet, all of which except four battleships and the converted cruiser Ural were still holding together.

During the night the Japanese torpedo attacks continued the result of which was not known here until the report of the commander of the cruiser Izumrud was received from Vladimir bay.

During the battle a mass of Japanese junks is said to have obstructed the movements of the Russian fleet. The Russian officers assert that these junks scattered mines in the paths of their vessels.

The bodies of Lieut. Machilis of the cruiser Almaz, and of other officers and sailors brought here by the Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyers were buried today.

Captain Reiff of the destroyer Grozny, describing the capture of Admiral Rojestvensky said that his vessel in company with the destroyer Bedovi on which Admiral Rojestvensky were steaming northward when they encountered the Japanese destroyers. The Bedovi signalled the Grozny, "How many knots can you make?" and on receiving the reply "twenty-three," ordered "full speed for Vladivostok."

The Grozny instead of obeying this signal engaged one of the Japanese destroyers, but the Bedovi raised the white flag and the Red Cross flag. While doing battle with her opponent the Grozny was unable to go to the aid of her consort, which was taken in tow by the other Japanese destroyers. The Grozny succeeded in shaking off her opponent but later encountered another Japanese destroyer which she sank in a running fight.

SCOUTS ATTACKED THE CAVALRY

TOKIO, June 5.—It is announced at imperial headquarters that the following has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian army:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of June 2, the enemy's cavalry, numbering about 30, came to Blashaholtzu, nine miles east of Changtu. On the same day at noon cavalrymen of a like number appeared at Nanchengtzu, six miles northeast of Whyuanpaomen, but were repulsed.

"On the same day also our scouts attacked the enemy's cavalry five miles north of Changtu railway station, killing one man and two horses and capturing one saddle horse.

"Otherwise there has been no change.

Both Are at Hospital and May Recover

BOSTON, June 5—Excited by jealousy, George A. Murree, alias Cook, a laborer, went to the house at 35 Elmer street, Cambridgeport, where his wife, Jane, was staying, yesterday noon, and after she had refused to return to their home with him he stabbed her twice—possibly mortal wounds—in the back, and viciously assaulted her with his foot. On the way from the house he rushed at Allen Terrill, a colored boxer of some local reputation, who sat in the back yard being shaved, and during the struggle stabbed him five times in the back. Terrill's wounds are superficial.

Murree then swallowed half a pint of hydrochloric acid and after running a short distance fell in the street, writhing in pain. The police hurried Mrs. Murree and her husband to the Cambridge hospital, where the woman's wounds were dressed and the man relieved of the acid in his stomach.

Mrs. Murree's condition is serious, as the jackknife was plunged twice into her back just below the left shoulder blade and her left lung punctured by both wounds. The woman's vitality was materially reduced by the hemorrhage and the hospital physicians believe she may not recover.

Murree is also on the dangerous list as he drank so much acid it is impossible to tell how serious his internal injury is.

The police took the precaution to obtain an antemortem statement from Mrs. Murree, which she signed. The assault was witnessed by Mrs. Mary Murree and her 13-year-old daughter Laura, so if Murree should recover and his wife die there is abundant testimony against him.

Terrill did not have to go to the hospital. After Dr. Frank M. Gilman and Dr. Joseph Cunningham dressed his wounds he appeared as agile as ever.

HAD MANY QUARRELS.

The attempted murder was the culmination of a series of violent quarrels between Murree and his wife. She asserted that he had been so brutal that she was obliged to leave him and seek a separation. A week ago, after he was arrested, while discharging a revolver on Portland street, Cambridge, she went to court and declared her husband threatened to shoot her before he went into the street to practice.

During the year they have lived in Cambridge Mrs. Murree has left her husband several times, in each instance taking refuge with her child at the home of her husband's cousin, Frank R. Murree of 35 Elmer street. Several days ago, being frightened by the revolver incident of a week ago Saturday night, she went to Mr. Murree's home.

On previous occasions George Murree has sought her there and persuaded her to return with him. Yesterday he came in doubt that he could induce her to go back, evidently, for he said only a few words before he attacked her, and the testimony indicates that he contemplated murder and suicide.

PRISONERS GONE

They Overpowered the Jailer and Escaped

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 5.—"Jimmy" Burns, the alleged negro postoffice money order forger, who is charged with operating extensively in this state, Georgia and Tennessee, and who was brought here recently from Savannah, Ga., to be tried in the federal court, was one of 12 prisoners who escaped from the county jail early today. The prisoners were confined in a cell and during the night one of them feigned illness, calling up the jailer who opened the cell door to hand the sick man some medicine. The prisoners, all negroes, overpowered the jailer and rushed through the residential portion of the building and out to the street.

A BIG OBSTACLE

Garment Workers Must be Recognized

IN CHICAGO STRIKE AFFAIRS

A Walkout of 10,000 Men Threatened

CHICAGO, June 5.—The garment workers' strike, which practically has been regarded as a dead issue, now unexpectedly threatens to become an obstacle in future negotiations looking toward the settlement of the teamsters' war.

In the Chicago Federation of Labor meeting delegates from the Tailors' Union attacked the strike committee for "slighting" the 4,000 garment workers, out of sympathy for whom the teamsters went on strike. The federation in the end was forced to acknowledge that the two strikes were inseparable and that one could not be settled without the other. For half an hour the delegates wrangled over accepting the report of the strike committee. Charges were made that thousands of dollars contributed weekly by labor unions are being spent for the teamsters' fight, while the garment workers according to statements, are "starving." Teamsters who were present vigorously denied the assertions and succeeded finally in having the strike report adopted.

TEAM MUST BRACE UP

Only Two Men Are Doing Any Batting—Manager Mack Has Lost All Patience and Will Get Some New Players

Now that the other teams in the league and the financial aspect as well, have taken on a much needed brace it is up to Lowell to get into the game and beat out its pacemakers. For three weeks Lowell has steadily gone down the line but as they had much to contend with criticism will be suspended if they show any prospect this week of getting a move on. Lowell really has had some tough luck. Merritt split his finger, necessitating a change in the line-up. Anderburg has been gamely catching with a bad right hand while J. Connors was a misfit on third base and Barney McLaughlin, up to Memorial day, played shortstop like a wooden man. Manager Mack wants a winning team and is willing to pay the money to get one. He has sent for Young Jackson, who is reputed to have the goods, and has his eye open for others. He has one of the highest paid teams in the league and rightfully believes that with such a team he deserves something better than a place in the second division. The team isn't batting and that is its principal trouble. Jackson and Bighie can hardly be criticized adversely as both are over .300 but they should not be content to remain bordering on the .300 mark but should keep plugging away. Two men doing the batting for a dozen will never win and outside of Jackson and Bighie no one on the team is anywhere near the .300 mark while the batting averages of Merritt, .163, and McLaughlin, .115, are ridiculously low for two such good players.

About every other team in the circuit has shown a marked improvement and it is up to Lowell to do likewise right away. The averages:

Shaw and Shuttleworth did the best batting for the home team, while Shaw was the star performer for the visitors. The score:

The following minor accidents were treated at the Emergency hospital:

James T. Hainsworth, aged seven years, and residing at 16 Otis street, sustained a severe scalp wound by falling from a watering cart near the Fair grounds Saturday afternoon. He was removed to the Emergency hospital where five stitches were taken in the cut.

While walking through the street Saturday night, Thomas McDermott fell and dislocated his left elbow.

E. W. Leighton of Billerica Centre fell Saturday, sustaining a laceration on the scalp. Three stitches were taken in closing the cut.

DASSO ESCAPED

He Shot Girl and Her Escort

ROCKFORD, Ills., June 5—Miss Belle Harrison, returning from church at Hebron in company with Charles Pot last night, met Dell Dasso, a farmhand whose attentions she had rejected. Dasso drew a revolver and ordered the young woman to alight. She refused, and Dasso shot both. Pot will probably die and the girl is in a critical condition. Dasso escaped.

GRAIN RESIGNED

Tenement House Commissioner Gives Up

NEW YORK, June 5.—Tenement house commissioner T. C. Crain resigned his office today, giving ill-health as his reason for doing so. After a fire in Allen street, a few months ago, in which a large number of persons were burned to death and the fire escapes of their tenements were found to have been so obstructed with refuse that their escape was impossible, the conduct of Mr. Crain's department was sharply discussed. Subsequently Mr. Crain asked the board of estimate for $200,000 additional appropriation to employ additional inspectors to keep all fire escapes clear but the request was refused. It was then reported that Mr. Crain would resign.

IN CONVENTION

Stationary Engineers of the State

AT BUILDING LABORERS' HALL

Opening Address by Mr. Barrett of Lowell

The eleventh annual state convention of District No. 1, New England Federation of Stationary Firemen, is being held in this city today. Nearly every city in the state where there is a local union sent delegates, there being about 25 in attendance at the opening of the convention.

The convention is being held in Building Laborers' hall at 32 Middle street, and was called to order shortly after 10.30 o'clock by John Barrett, corresponding secretary-treasurer of Local No. 14, who made the opening address.

Mr. Barret spoke as follows:

"Fellow Craftsmen—We extend to you our greetings and welcome you to the City of Spindles. I would be ungrateful to you if at this time I did not point out to you some of the historic points and old landmarks of this city.

"We have here, on your right, the grand old Concord river, hidden from view by the many mills and factories studded along its banks. Also on your right is one of the great canals with many large mills and machine shops, two of them being the Bigelow Carpet Co. and Lowell machine shop. I believe that these are the two largest corporations of the kind in the country.

FOR CITY AUDITOR

Frank W. Hall's Friends Presage His Election

The common council will meet tomorrow evening and it was reported at city hall today that the lower board would proceed to the election of a city auditor.

The balancing power is said to rest between Messrs. Hall, Sturtevant and Page.

Men who have been very successful as presagers of things political declare that Mr. Frank W. Hall has the pole.

They argue that because of past experiences he is well fitted for the position. Mr. Hall did reportorial work for five years for the Courier and later for the Mail.

He has had experience as a stenographer in commercial work and also in law and court reporting intermittently. He was private secretary to Charles J. Glidden, the late Mayor Bennett and Alfred E. Ross.

As an accountant he has had experience with the Erie Telegraph & Telephone company. For that company he served as cashier, superintendent of supplies and general auditor.

He was bookkeeper and paymaster for Woods, Sherwood & Co., and during the past year he has been assistant treasurer of the H. R. Barker Mfg. Co.

While Mr. Hall possesses qualifications that would fit him for the position of city auditor, the friends of Messrs. Page and Sturtevant are as confident as are the men who presage the election of Mr. Hall.

We know you will take our advice when we tell you to eat the best candy that is made. Now don't think the best candy is the kind that costs the most money, because that is not the case. It's not the cost, it's the purity you must consider.

Ever imagine how many people in Lowell are eating our Molasses Kisses? We wont say how many but we will say that they eat them about as fast as we can make them. That means that there is something about them that appeals to the taste. Made just as pure as molasses will make them, boiled just right, pulled just right, taste just right. Try some?

BUSY MONDAY

It was stifling in police court this morning for the cage was filled and eight women occupied the "ladies'" seat, while as is usual when anything of a sensational nature comes up the spectators overcrowded the room. Those who were looking for spice were disappointed, for all the spicy cases were continued.

Judge Pickman occupied the bench. There were 23 drunks and two of them were released while most of them were fined.

SALAM-HANG CASE.

Joseph Salam and Rush Samun were charged with disturbing the peace, but as the trouble if there had been any, was over when the officers got there, the men having been separated by friends, they were discharged.

UNLICENSED DOG.

Officer Maguire testified that Victor Lessard lives at 25 Lakeview avenue and keeps a large St. Bernard dog. On May 27 he saw the dog on the premises having previously warned him to have the animal licensed. Mr. Lessard told him that the dog had been licensed in his son's name last year but the license had not been renewed as he wanted to give the animal away.

Cross-examined by Lawyer Donahue, Officer Maguire said that Lessard had told him that he had given the animal away but it had come back again and would not leave and that he intended to give it away again.

Lieut. Webster said that he had seen the dog three times on the premises since May 1. Judge Pickman and Lawyer Donahue entered into a lengthy argument as to the admissibility of

DEATH BLOW TO PHILADELPHIA CORRUPTIONISTS.

It would appear that political corruption in Philadelphia has received its death blow in the overthrow of the boldest attempt at public pillage ever projected by the organization that for seventy years has maintained a dominating sway over the politics of the state and the state capital.

More than seventy years ago the spoils system was fastened on Philadelphia by an astute politician named Simon Cameron, who secured from President Jackson the patronage of the state in lieu of his success in securing the nomination of Van Buren for vice president.

The Cameron machine was operated by various parties but always with one end in view, the plunder of the state for the benefit of the members, the bosses and the office holders.

The mantle of Simon Cameron fell with peculiar fitness on the shoulders of Mathew Stanley Quay, a man whom a Philadelphia paper describes as "the transcendent apostle of political unrighteousness, who obliterated first of all by his own example the doctrine that public office is a public trust."

Under Quay the spoils system attained its greatest power and every channel of authority was used for the purpose of public plunder. Rights were bartered away, franchises were sold, offices were created, salaries and fees were increased, contracts were awarded and sinecures provided at the public expense for the members of this oligarchy of corruption; and so the villainous work went on until the climax was reached in an effort to effect a deal by which the bosses would secure perhaps $10,000,000 in one haul while perfecting a deal by which the city of Philadelphia would lose about $100,000,000.

The people arose in their might and under the leadership of Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia this whole gigantic scheme of public pillage has been abandoned. The bosses of the organization have been routed and the city is saved. The people who did this should also prevent the erection of a public statue of Mathew Stanley Quay in a public square in Philadelphia as is now proposed by his surviving disciples. It would be an outrage to the rising generation and an insult to posterity to dignify the memory of such a man by a statue in a public square.

Now that popular sentiment is fully aroused, let the Quay statue project be overthrown, let it go down into deserved oblivion with the exploded gas robbery and the malign memory of Boss Durham, Simon Cameron and their lieutenants, cohorts and legion of grafters, boodlers and blacklegs.

FAR REACHING DECISION ON TAXATION.

The supreme court of the United States has rendered a far reaching decision to the effect that the value of franchises is taxable by the state same as land.

The decision was given in a New York tax case as it appears that the point at issue was the taxing of franchise values in corporations, values that in New York and other states had escaped taxation.

Heretofore the franchise giving a corporation the right to use the public streets was regarded as a contract not subject to taxation but the recent decision puts this view aside and treats a public franchise as a license having a definite and ascertainable money value which is to be the basis of taxation.

Under this decision every monopoly franchise in the United States is brought within range of that power of taxation which according to the same court has the power to destroy.

Massachusetts does not tax franchises but taxes corporations for what they are worth. It is plain that a franchise might be worthless or its value might be undeveloped, but in spite of this the right to tax franchises gives the state a power to grapple with monopoly that has not heretofore been applied.

The federal court unanimously holds that the conditions upon which a franchise is granted, whether the payment of money or the bearing of some burden are in the nature of purchase money and that the property thus conveyed is thereafter subject to taxation by the state "the same as land granted or leased by the state. If this be true in reference to a grant of tangible property, it is equally true in respect to a grant of a franchise, for a franchise, though intangible, is none the less property, and oftentimes property of great value. The exception of this intangible property is to eliminate from the reach of the taxing power a large portion of the wealth of the country."

Furthermore, it appears from this decision that the franchise, intangible though it be, is taxable regardless of the taxes that may be levied upon the results of the corporate operations. This will undoubtedly bring about a new system of taxing quasi-public corporations, most of which received their franchises free of charge, the assumption being that the granting power would be amply paid by taxing the corporation for its capital stock, its buildings and effects. The decision rests on the claim that a franchise is a proprietary entity, the value of which can be ascertained same as a piece of real estate.

SEEN AND HEARD

The graceful woman has the poetic girl beaten a whole lot of miles.

Japan seems to be full of those "knock-your-block-off" fellows.

There is no time in her life that a girl is so bewitchingly sweet as on the day she graduates.

"Ohio" is the Japanese word for "Good Morning." When the Jap meets the Russian, however, it is "O" something else.

The man who is slow in making promises and quick in keeping those he makes generally gets along the best.

One meets with some beautiful heads of hair in the Greek colony in Market street. Some men lost sight of the fact that it is just as bad to owe the barber as it is to owe the butcher.

This is the one season of the year when the motorman and the conductor whose daily route is through the woods and the meadows are to be envied.

The increased state tax this year means an increased tax rate in every town and city in the state, and Lowell's burden is a heavy one. What is the good of municipal economy after all? It is something like the little fellow who saves his pennies only to have his bank broken open and robbed by an older brother.

The matter of the Gregorian chant is agitating all Catholic choristers in the country, and, especially in Manchester, it will be interesting to note what Lacey Baker, the organist and choir master of New York's Calvary Episcopal church, has to say on the subject. He uses the following picturesque language:

"I have no patience with the melancholy meanderings of the Gregorian leviathan, which has dragged its lugubrious length across the dead epochs of pagan and philistine progress, with groanings that cannot be uttered externally, mourning like a pre-Adamite turtle dove, the loss of its mates, the mnosaurus and the dodo. It is unique. So is the three toed horse of the miocene period and the megatherium, and the bat with thumbs in its hind feet. Why struggle to perpetuate the nativity of Adam—why parade the fossilized relics of Noah's ark, the lame gaited shadows, these Gregorian skeletons?"

The war declared against waistcoats by E. N. Marshall, headmaster of Kingston grammar school, is generally but conditionally approved by hygienic experts.

A representative found several hygienic experts at the office of the Incorporated Society of Medical Officers of Health willing to express their opinions on the matter, and with one accord they were in favor of reforming the waistcoat, but not of abolishing it.

They agreed that the waistcoat, thick in front and with only thin lining at the back, was a death trap. "In winter every boy and man should have his waistcoat lined at the back with flannel," said one expert, "and all the year round it should be of uniform thickness."

"Too much care cannot be taken of the back," said another authority. "The spinal cord, which is a continuation of the brain, dominates every vital organ."

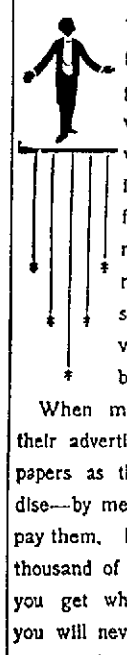

"The waistcoat as generally made is the most absurd garment conceivable, from a hygienic point of view," was the dictum of another medical man. "Either abolish it for a cardigan jacket, which is really thicker at the back than in front, or for some similar garment, or else insist upon having all waistcoats made of a uniform thickness."

The manager of a large outfitting firm said that not one in 1000 orders for clothing stipulate for a flannel-lined waistcoat.

"I think," he said, "schoolboys themselves would revolt at the suggested abolition of collars. My experience is that boys are growing increasingly fond of looking smart about the neck.

"Some school prospectuses require that the boys have 6 linen shirts or 4 flannel ones, and the latter alternative is very largely chosen."

CHEATED

The merchant who pays for advertising and doesn't get it, cries out that advertising doesn't pay. He is wrong. Advertising pays if you get it. If you pay for any commodity that is never delivered, you lose money on it, just the same as you lose on advertising that you pay for but never get.

When merchants learn to buy their advertising space in the newspapers as they buy their merchandise—by measure and weight, it will pay them. Buy space by the inch per thousand of circulation and see that you get what you pay for. Then you will never be cheated in advertising and it will pay you. The Sun will give you more advertising for your money than any other paper in Lowell. It is

TOLD OF MISSIONARY WORK IN INDIA.

The Young Women's Christian association held its Sunday afternoon meeting in the First Baptist church, yesterday. The meeting was held in the church in order to accommodate the friends of Miss Jennie L. Mudge, the former general secretary, who is in Lowell after an absence of seven years devoted to missionary work in India.

Miss Frances Bennett presided, the president of the association, Mrs. Francis Carll, read the Scripture lesson, and there were words of welcome by Miss Bailey, the vice president, Miss Bigelow, chairman of the missionary committee, gave a report of the missionary work of the association.

There was singing by the congregation, with Mr. A. P. French at the organ and Miss Etta Rutherford leading, with solos and duets by Mrs. E. G. Russell and Miss Ethel Wotton.

When Miss Mudge was presented, the congregation arose and gave her the Chautauqua salute.

She spoke briefly, making little mention of her work in India. She said it has not been her lot to endure the hardships that many other missionaries have endured, and she does not feel a bit of a martyr; yet there have been times, when, if it had not been for the prayers going up at home, and especially in Lowell, she could not have gone on. If she were not a missionary in India, she said, she would rather be in this association than anywhere else. She referred to the need of sympathy and help, here at home, for the work in India, where conditions, while they are changing for the better, especially among the women and girls, are still in great need of more spiritual light.

BOSTON MAN A SUICIDE IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., June 5.—About 6 last evening a man who gave the name of T. F. Hale of Boston shot himself through the head in his room at a hotel on Forest avenue.

He died at the hospital at 11.25. He was unconscious from the time he was found until his death. He had apparently destroyed every paper in his possession likely to lead to his identification.

He came from Boston about five days ago on business, he said, but did not tell what it was to any one. It is supposed that he had deliberately decided to take his life, and that he came here to do it. He had no luggage, watch or money, as far as is known. During his stay here he did not get shaved, and it is thought he did not have any money.

GAS WAS ON

MEMBERS OF WARD AND VOKES CO. HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

HAVERHILL, June 5.—Lucille and Tilly Munroe, of the Ward & Vokes company, which closed its season in this city Saturday evening, narrowly escaped asphyxiation by gas in their room at a hotel on How street early yesterday morning.

Tilly Munroe on retiring turned off the gas and accidentally turned it on again. The escaping gas was detected by William Smith, another member of the company, who forced open the door of the room of the Munroe sisters and aroused them. Both women were partially overcome, but revived.

GIVES UP

NAN PATTERSON TIRES OF THEATRICAL LIFE.

ALTOONA, Penn., June 5.—Nan Randolph Patterson, discouraged, disheartened and completely broken in spirit, severed her connection with the "Romance of Panama" company, with which she was touring, Saturday night and left early yesterday for her home in Washington.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To clean cane-seated chairs, scrub with salty water and dry slowly.

Straw matting should be cleaned by dipping a large, coarse cloth in salty water, wiping thoroughly and drying.

Beat a carpet on the wrong side first, then on the right side. A bundle of tough switches is an excellent carpet beater.

If a carpet begins to show signs of wear, rip up the lengths apart and transpose, putting the worn widths on the sides.

In nailing down a carpet, be sure that the floor is perfectly dry, else the tacks may rust and injure the carpet. Tinned tacks are best to use.

To remove fly-specks from gilt frames, wash very gently with warm alcohol (heated by setting in a pan of hot water), letting it dry on.

Coal oil will clean smoked copper, nickel, tin or agate ware, which should afterwards be polished with old paper. To clean the wash pan, nothing is better than a few drops of coal oil.

For brightening grates, fronts, fenders, and similar iron substances, mix well one pint of asphaltum with a gill of turpentine, and apply evenly with a paint brush. This quantity is enough for five grates.

To brighten carpets after beating, wipe all over with a soft cloth dipped in ammonia water—one gill of household ammonia to one gallon of water. Remove spots with ox-gall and water—one pint of ox-gall to three gallons of water. Tar or wax may be removed by rubbing with turpentine.

To clean a soiled carpet, make a suds, cream-like in consistence, of good soap and soft water, and apply with a small scrubbing brush, cleaning only a small space at a time, sponging it off at once with clean cold water and rubbing dry with soft clean cloths. A weak solution of alum or soda is used to revive colors.

A pale pink coloring for walls can be made by dissolving whiting or lime in cold water and adding enough permanganate of potash to give it the desired color. Add a little liquid glue and apply as you would whitewash. A pale yellow can be made with a little yellow ochre, and the laundry blueing bag will give a tint of blue.

THE POLICE ROUTED

Troops Threatened to Shoot Down Russian Crowd

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—At a great demonstration last evening in the Pavlovsk garden near Tsarskoe-Selo, the five thousand persons present clamored for a funeral march in memory of the Russian sailors who had lost their lives in the naval disaster in the Sea of Japan. The members of the orchestra became alarmed and fled from the platform when M. Novokoff, former mayor of Baku, arose and said:

"Let us all, by rising, show respect for the victims. Down with the war. We have had enough of blood."

Some eighty policemen entered from either side of the hall and elbowed their way through the crowd towards M. Novokoff whereupon cries were raised of "Let us attack the police." Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword. The policemen fled precipitately.

Order being restored a number of speeches were delivered on the national crisis. Suddenly the police, reinforced to between 200 to 300, again invaded the hall and rushed on the audience with drawn swords. The people defended themselves with chairs and sticks, but after ten minutes were driven from the hall into the garden where there was a battalion of riflemen, who raised their rifles to their shoulders preliminary to the order to fire being given, causing a panic. The public fled toward the exits and finding them closed, smashed the doors and windows of the hall and so gained the street. Many persons were injured, some so seriously that they had to be taken to a hospital.

GRAND EULOGY

Before the Manchester Unity Odd Fellows

BY CHAIRMAN FRED HUMPHRISS

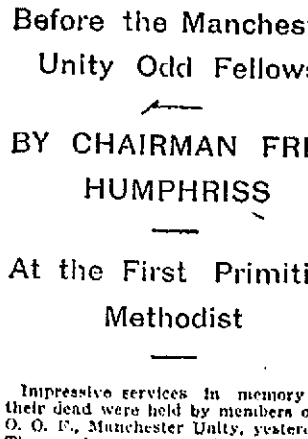

At the First Primitive Methodist

Impressive services in memory of their dead were held by members of I. O. O. F., Manchester Unity, yesterday. The services were participated in by lodges of Lowell and North Billerica. The grave dedication took place in the morning, and, later services were held at the Primitive Methodist church in Gorham street. The church was crowded and the presence of Loyal Victoria lodge of Odd Ladies added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

The line of march was formed at Elks hall, Middle street, at 1 o'clock. Eight officers of various lodges with drawn swords, preceded the National band, R. A. Griffiths leader.

Following was a carriage containing Provincial Grand Master Charles J. Thomas of Worcester; Vice Grand Fred G. Humphriss; Rev. N. W. Matthews and Rev. J. M. Craig.

GEORGE EMSLEY, Grand Master.

lodge being at the right of the line. Integrity, Wamesit and Merrimack Valley lodges of this city, and Asa Pollard lodge of North Billerica, followed in order. The ranks were well filled in all of the contingents.

From Middle street the line went to Palmer, to Merrimack, to Central and direct to the Edson cemetery.

The mound marking the resting place of Alexander Mack, of Wamesit lodge, was the centre of the memorialists. Provincial Grand Master Thomas read the full ritual of the Manchester Unity.

The service began about 3 p. m. and upon the platform were seated beside Chairman F. G. Humphriss and the pastor, Rev. N. W. Mathews, Provincial Grand Master Chas. J. Thomas of Worcester, Past Provincial Grand Masters George Emsley of Lowell and Stuart Mackay of North Chelmsford, Provincial Secretary J. W. Clegg, Rev. J. M. Craig and Rev. George F. Kenngott.

ELOQUENT EULOGY.

The following eulogy was delivered by Chairman Fred Humphriss:

"As each succeeding year passes into history we find our circle of friends has been invaded.

"Once more we are called upon to do honor to the memory of those who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above.

"The memory of our deceased members should ever be an incentive to us to emulate their most worthy acts—to strive to so perform our duty that when life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labor ended, we may be received into, and dwell forever in the heavenly kingdom.

"Our friends may die and leave our hearts and homes desolated for a time—we cannot prevent it—nor would it be best if we could. If we lose them, heaven gains by them. If we mourn, they rejoice. If we hang our harps on the willows, they tune theirs in the eternal orchestra above, rejoicing that we shall soon be with them.

"We may still love the departed. They are ours as ever, and we are theirs. The ties that unite us are not broken. They are too strong for death's stroke. They are made for the joys of eternal friendship. Other friendships on earth will not disturb these bonds that link with dear ones on high. Nor will our duties below interfere with the sacredness of our relations with them. 'The sorrow for the dead,' says Irving, 'is the sorrow from which we refuse to be divorced. Every other wound we seek to heal; every other affliction to forget; but this wound we think it a duty to keep open; this affliction we cherish and brood over in solitude.'

"The love which survives the tomb is one of the noblest attributes of the soul. Though it may sometimes throw a passing cloud over the bright hour of gaiety, or spread a deeper sadness over the hour of gloom, yet who would exchange it, even for the song of pleasure or the burst of revelry? No, there is a voice from the tomb sweeter than song. There is a remembrance of the dead to which we turn even from the charms of the living. The grave buries every error, covers every defect, extinguishes every resentment. From its peaceful bosom spring none but fond regrets and tender recollections. Who can look upon the grave even of an enemy, and not feel a compunctious throb that he should have warred with the poor handful of earth that lies mouldering before him. But the grave of those we love what a place for meditation! There it is, we call up in long review the whole history of virtue and gentleness, and the thousand endearments lavished upon us almost unheeded in the daily intercourse of intimacy.

"Death comes equally to us all and makes us all equal when it comes. No sex is spared, no age exempt. The majestic and courtly roads which monarchs pass over, the way that the men of letters tread, the path the warrior traverses, all lead to the same place, all terminate, however varied in their routes, in that one enormous house which is appointed for all living.

"'It is appointed unto men—unto all men, once to die,' we are all subject to death.

"The ashes of an oak in a chimney are no epitaph of that to tell us how 'high' or 'large' that was; it tells us not what flocks it sheltered when it stood nor what men it hurt when it fell. The dust of great men's graves is speechless too; it says nothing; it distinguishes nothing. Look at the hero as he stands on an eminence and covered with glory. He falls suddenly, forever. His intercourse with the living world is now ended, and those who would hereafter find him must seek him in the grave. There, cold and lifeless, is the heart which just now was the seat of friendship; there dim and sightless, is the eye whose radiant and enlivening orb beamed with intelligence, and thence closed forever, are those lips, on whose persuasive accents we have so often, and so lately hung with transport.

"From the darkness which rests upon his tomb there proceeds, methinks a light, in which it is clearly seen, that those gaudy objects which men pursue are only phantoms. In this light, how dimly shines the splendor of victory; how humble appears the majesty of grandeur! The bubble, which seemed to have so much solidity, has burst, and we again see that all below the sun is vanity.

"True, the funeral eulogy has been pronounced, the sad and solemn procession has moved, the badge of mourning has already been decreed and presently the sculptured marble will lift up its front, proud to perpetuate the name of the hero and rehearse to the passing traveller his virtues; just tributes of respect, and to the living useful but to him, mouldering in his narrow and humble habitation, what are they? how vain; how unavailing! During a life so transitory, what lasting monument, then, can our fondest hopes erect?

"It is true that a few friends will go and bury us; affection will rear a stone and plant a few flowers over our grave; in a brief period the little hillock will be smoothed down, and the stone will fall, and neither friend nor stranger will be concerned to ask which one of the forgotten millions of the earth was buried there. Every vestige that we ever lived upon the earth will have vanished away. All the little memorials of our remembrance; the lock of hair encased in gold or the portrait hung in our dwelling will cease to have the slightest interest to any living being. We need but look into the cemetery and see the ten thousand upturned faces; ten thousand breathless bosoms. There was a time when life flushed through those vacant orbs; when warm ambitions, hopes, joys, and the loving life pulsed in those bosoms. Dreams of fame and power once haunted those empty skulls.

"The little piles of bones, that once were feet, ran swiftly and determinedly through twenty, forty, sixty, seventy years of life, but where are the prints they left? He lived, he died, he was buried, is all that the headstone tells us. We move among the monuments, we see the sculpturing, but no voice comes to us to say that the sleepers are remembered for anything they have done.

"A generation passes by. The stones turn gray, and the man has ceased to be, and is to the world, as if he had never lived. Thus is life. Only a few years do we journey here and we come to that bridge. Death transports us on the road we have traveled, either virtue, happiness and joy to a happy paradise of love, or the road of passion, lust and vice to destructive wretchedness.

"Since our last memorial services, the grim reaper has visited our ranks many times and taken from us many active workers, many who will be sadly missed, not only in the homes where they were fondly loved, but we shall miss them in our councils in the subordinate lodges.

THE DEATH ROLL.

"Your committee on honored dead submits the following report in memory of our deceased members: "Such are the thoughts and emotions that control our speech that we keenly feel our inability to give proper expression to the loss our order has sustained by the death of the following members, who have passed from our membership to the Grand Lodge above:—

Bro. Frank Lockwood, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, July 5, 1904.

Bro. John G. Hewson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7198, July 12, 1904.

Bro. Henry Kimball, Integrity lodge, No. 6630, Sept. 23, 1904.

Bro. Millage H. Nicholls, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Nov. 29, 1904.

Bro. Robert H. Swift, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Dec. 29, 1904.

Bro. Wm. Cochrane, Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, Jan. 11, 1905.

Bro. James Wilson, Merrimack Valley lodge, No. 7198, May 3, 1905.

Your committee are pleased to report that the membership of Excelsior lodge and Asa Pollard lodge, also Victoria lodge, No. 1, I. L. O. O. O. Ladies, have not been invaded by death during the past year.

List of members' wives deceased:—

Sarah H. Garner, wife of Bro. Geo. Garner of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died Oct. 26, 1904.

Nellie May Huntley, wife of P. G. Nelson E. Huntley of Excelsior lodge, No. 6303, died Jan. 4, 1905.

Margaret Haley, wife of Bro. James D. Haley of Excelsior lodge, No. 6303, died Jan. 25, 1905.

Elizabeth G. Dawson, wife of P. G. James Dawson of Wamesit lodge, No. 7106, died April 6, 1905.

"If, as we are told, 'the brightest niche on the wall of fame is awarded to those whose unswerving devotion to principle and duty have become a cardinal virtue' then, as we read the resolutions adopted by the lodges, in loving memory of their deceased members, we must feel that they represent in the highest sense, that splendid type of high and noble living, the outgrowth of true fraternity, and that our order is poorer even as Heaven is richer, because they have gone from us. We are reminded as we read the list of the year that

"Thus from life to death, from death to life,
We hurry round to God,
And leave behind us nothing
But the path that we have trod."

True to the principles and the spirit of our order these members have left behind a record of service in the green fields of humanity. The memory of our departed members should ever be an incentive to us, to emulate their most worthy acts, to strive to so perform our duty that when "Life's burdens are all laid down, and life's labors ended, we may be received into and dwell forever in the Grand Lodge above."

Let us not look upon our members as dead, rather let us take the Scripture assurance as our guide: "In My Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would have told you; I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

Good men have fallen, noble and true brothers have crossed the shining river, they have left indelible footprints on the sands of time. We will cherish their memory, and strive to emulate their manly virtues. Kind friends, gentle companions, noble sons, true husbands, loved brothers, beloved sisters and wives, farewell.

Thus pass away the men of might,
Whose noiseless footprints stamped the age.
Their thoughts that filled the earth with light
Still glow and blaze on memory's page.

There is no death; the stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forever more.

Thus we part from them; their lives will be a constant inspiration, and their good deeds will shine as bright stars in the firmament, examples by which we may guide our own lives and shape the course of our own service.

May we so live, that when the summons comes to us to pass at God's command through the shadowy gates to reach the sunlight of the eternal hills, we, too, may receive the welcome salutation: "Well done, thou good and faithful servants" and may the victors crown be placed on our brow, that crown sparkling with gems of glory, unfading and eternal.

Sincerely and fraternally submitted, Fred G. Humphriss, chairman; P. P. G. M. Geo. Emsley, P. G. John S. Jackson, P. G. Walter Killerby, P. G. Robert Tivey, committee on honored dead.

The brothers and friends adopted the report and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

A retreat for children making their first communion next Sunday will commence this afternoon at St. Jean Baptiste church.

ON THE CARS YESTERDAY ON ALL LINES.

Yesterday's fine weather proved a great day for trolley riding and the local division of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. is quite a number of dollars richer this morning. Everyone who could find the time, enjoyed a trip on the trolleys to some place.

Lakeview seemed to be the objective point for the majority of people and all of the available open cars were pushed on this line in order to accommodate the traffic, and there were not enough, but everything went along nicely, there being no accidents and the cars made good time.

Many of the suburban routes were patronized by people who wanted to enjoy the ride and not be too crowded in the cars, but all of the cars were crowded from ten o'clock in the morning until late at night. Many people made the Boston trip, while Canobie Lake park was also well patronized.

At Willow Dale there was a large gathering and the new skating rink was crowded all the afternoon and evening.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Omer Forest of West Derry, N. H., and Miss Annie Emond of this city were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Audibert, O. M. I., Messrs. William Emond and Medard Forest attended the contracting parties.

FORTIN—GALLIEN.

The marriage of Mr. Ovide Fortin and Miss Emma Gallien was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, Rev. Fr. Audibert, O. M. I., officiating at the ceremony. Miss Fortunate Tellier was bridesmaid, and Mr. Antoine Fortin best man.

Mrs. O. L. W. Brown of North Scituate, R. I., formerly of Lowell goes to Woodstock, N. H. on Wednesday to spend the summer.

CAMPHOR BALLS

NOT NEEDED FOR MOTHS AT OPERA HOUSE.

There are Moths at the Opera House tonight and they will not be driven away for a week. They are not of the species that can be removed by camphor balls. They are the men and women Moths of society, those human insects that prey upon the delicate ermine of reputation and eat it away until the whole beautiful fabric falls to dust.

Ouida's beautiful story of "Moths" has been for many years the standard of all parlor melodrama. It is essentially a society play of modern Russia where intrigue holds sway day and night, but its characters are all finely drawn, and its human interest is greater than half the so-called successes of today. It started the fortune of the elder Wallack in New York, who ran it for nearly two years with such people as Herbert Kelley, Osmond Tearle, Rose Coghlan and Rose Eytinge. Ironically it will o'ertop any production of the Huntington, DeDeyn Stock company seen in our city and the new gowns will be a revelation to the feminine portion of the audience. Mr. Huntington will again head the bill in his favorite role of Lord Jura and Miss Fletcher will be seen as Vera.

NEW LAW

IN RELATION TO FINES FOR DRUNKENNESS.

The new law in relation to drunkenness, recently passed and which becomes operative July 1 is as follows:

"When a person convicted before a municipal, police or district court is sentenced to imprisonment or to pay a fine and to stand committed until the same has been paid, the court may direct that the execution of said sentence be suspended and that he be placed on probation for such time and on such terms and conditions as it shall fix. In case the sentence is to pay a fine not exceeding $10 and to stand committed until the same be paid, if the court finds that the defendant is unable to pay the fine when it is imposed and will not probably default and that it will not be detrimental to the interests of the public, the execution of the sentence shall be so suspended and he shall be placed on probation.

"When the execution of a sentence to pay a fine has been suspended as aforesaid, one of the conditions of the probation shall be that the fine shall be paid during the period of probation. Said fine shall be paid to the probation officer, whereupon the order of commitment shall be void. The probation officer shall give a receipt of every fine so paid, shall pay the fine to the clerk of the court at its next session, and shall keep on file the clerk's receipt therefore. If at the end of said period the probation officer shall report to the court that the fine is unpaid, and that the person is unable to pay the same, the court may either extend said period, place the case on file, or revoke the suspension of the execution of the sentence.

FOOT CRUSHED

Knocked From Running Board by Wagon

Paul R. Burtt, the well-known local florist, had his right foot crushed by an electric car in Gorham street last night. His injuries consisted of a laceration between the fourth and fifth toes which required ten stitches to close. The nails of the first and second toes were torn off and he sustained abrasions and small lacerations on the right foot and left leg.

He was boarding an outbound Gorham street car near the corner of Middlesex and Central streets. He was on the running board of the car when a wagon passed and knocked him off.

In falling his feet fell across the rails, but he pulled them partly off before the car wheels reached him. His right foot was caught in the flange and drawn some little distance before the car was brought to a stop.

He was taken to a nearby store and later removed to the Emergency hospital, where his injuries were treated.

He had a narrow escape from being killed.

HIS NATIVE TOWN

Plaistow N. H. Remembered by A. G. Pollard

A. G. POLLARD.

Touching Tributes to Honored Son—Lowell Roasted by Messrs Marden and Pickman

Mr. Arthur G. Pollard of this city paid a visit in memory of his boyhood days to Plaistow, N. H., Saturday afternoon, and the little New Hampshire town turned out en masse to honor its distinguished son. From many other cities and towns, to which they have removed, sons and daughters of Plaistow assembled, and at a flag-raising on a beautifully graded lot adjacent to the town hall over 1500 persons were present.

The flag pole, which is one of the longest in the country, standing 125 feet in height, is a gift to the Village Improvement association, as well as is the flag, a handsome silk banner, 25x18 feet. While the flag-raising celebration was primarily the purpose of the gathering, the occasion developed into a genuine old home affair, and it will be a long time ere the residents of Plaistow will forget the series of events that took place.

On every hand Mr. Pollard, the town's benefactor, was greeted cordially, and it was a pleasant spectacle to witness the hearty hand-shaking and remembrances of old family names among those who had not met in many years. The town hall was gaily dressed in festoons of the national colors and nearly all of the surrounding houses were profusely decorated. From every window of the town hall there hung the folds of American banners, and within the building evergreens and palms and cut flowers were in prominence everywhere. The stairway to the assembly hall was converted into a floral bower and from balcony to platform streamers of red, white and blue were stretched and attractively intertwined.

Literary exercises accompanied the flag-raising, and the speakers included George A. Marden, United States subtreasurer in Boston; Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the Lowell park commission; Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell and District Attorney W. S. Peters of Haverhill.

Upon the village square from 1 to 2 o'clock Quimby's band of Haverhill, seated in an elaborately decorated band stand, gave a concert which was listened to by a large gathering.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the flag was slowly hauled upward, the rope being in the hands of Miss Cora Pollard of Plaistow, cousin of the donor, while Mr. Pollard himself stood close by. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the children of the public schools, grouped near the band stand, sang the national anthem.

Orchestral music was filling the town hall as the spectators at the flag-raising began to disperse, and while the assembly hall was being filled by those who gathered to listen to the patriotic exercises a splendid program was rendered by Lougee's orchestra of Haverhill.

Mrs. Elbridge H. Lloyd, president of the Village Improvement society, opened the exercises, and when she rose to speak the hall was filled to overflowing and many were obliged to remain downstairs because there was no room for them above. In her address of welcome she paid eloquent tribute to the public-spiritedness of Mr. Pollard and his loyalty to his native town. She enumerated some of the many gifts he has bestowed upon Plaistow, and said that the flag and pole were but the latest of the tokens of his love and remembrance of his own people.

A. G. Pollard, in responding, made a characteristically modest address. He said that he wished only to express his gratitude for the kind words of the president and for the evidences of esteem in which he is held by his townspeople. He said that whatever he had done for Plaistow was prompted purely by love of his native town, and that if what he has given is appreciated, as he feels sure it is, he is satisfied. He thanked the Village Improvement society for electing him to honorary membership, and said he was proud to be associated with an organization whose purposes were so noble as those of Village Improvement societies. "In this simple gift of the hour," said he, "I feel that I am doing but my duty to remember the town that gave me birth, and I cherish the hope that our mutual efforts to conserve the best interests of Plaistow will be attended by grand results."

George A. Denoncour was then introduced as master of ceremonies and in opening he congratulated the Village Improvement association upon the good work it is performing. "This day," said he, "is a banner one for Plaistow; one that should be remembered by its citizens for years to come. Regardless of creed, color or station in life we assemble to do honor to a generous townsman, who, though he has gone from our midst these many years to assume a place of prominence in a great city, never forgets the little town from out of which he went in youth to engage in the battle of commercial life."

Mrs. George Cox of Laconia, N. H., sang "The Homeland," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Fred Dunn, and was followed by Rev. Charles A. Towne pastor of the Baptist church, who spoke eloquently.

Hon. George A. Marden of Lowell was introduced as "an honored son of Massachusetts" and he immediately corrected the master of ceremonies by stating that he was born in New Hampshire and proud of his native state.

Mr. Marden after some introductory remarks said:

"It is the duty of every man to vote—and I believe also that the women should be given the same privilege. I care not for whom the ballot might be cast, every citizen should exercise the right of his enfranchisement. Only let me warn you as to the citizens you put up for public office. Do not as we do in Lowell, have some of the worst men in the community for your public officials, choosing them in spite of your knowledge of their unfitness because of a desire to adhere to your respective political parties. That kind of voting is wrong. Over in the city where I live it has been discovered that there are over 7000 men who have not paid their poll taxes. Now, to my mind, a man who would refuse to pay his poll tax would steal—perhaps not outright, unequivocally steal, but like Ananias he would 'hold back.'

"Mr. Pollard has put you on the right track," continued the speaker, "and now you surely can keep going straight ahead. If you do not, Mr. Pollard has only his labor for the pains he has taken to help you."

An original poem, entitled "Plaistow, My Native Town," composed by Mary Peaslee Gardner, was read.

Judge John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission in Lowell, among other things said:

"To beautify a town or city is a noble work, and the man engaged in it is entitled to great praise.

"For years we had the opportunities to branch out in this manner in Lowell, but although I do not like to speak ill of my own city, I am forced to admit that it has been in the grasp of politicians who used the department established for keeping our beauty spots in proper condition as a vehicle here for the securing of jobs for their followers. The only question of the bosses seemed to be, 'How many men can we get work for?' A few years ago, however, a woman's club over there became actively engaged in the betterment of existing affairs and the result of their insistent efforts was the creation of the park commission, and now there appears to be general satisfaction. There was a time when the city and town funds were spent only for the erection of public buildings, the construction of sewers and such like, but that period has passed and we are now starting on a new era. The establishment of parks and public breathing spots enhances real estate values and broadens a city or town. We have a beautiful place known as Fort Hill park in Lowell, and since it was accepted by the city the section of the city in which it is located has been built up from a wilderness to a thickly settled and fashionable suburb."

"A stranger visiting Plaistow," said Solon W. Stevens, Esq., of Lowell, "could not help but be favorably impressed. Like Mr. Pollard himself, the place contained force and power and was bound to continue to greater achievements. In small towns can be found the very bulwark of America's best citizenship." He congratulated the Village Improvement association upon having upon its rolls the name of one of Lowell's most distinguished citizens, and said that he knew whereof he spoke when speaking in the highest terms of praise of Plaistow's honored son. "He comes here in the utmost sincerity today," said the speaker, "to lay at your feet some token of his regard. I know that in the midst of his business trials he is always thoughtful of his native town and seeking some new method of advancing its interests. He was prompted in giving the pole and flag by his tender associations here. No selfish motive has entered into any of his numerous benefactions. I congratulate him upon doing what he has done for so appreciative a people, and will remember with pleasure the spectacle of your little children singing the glorious 'Star Spangled Banner' as the flag slowly climbed its way upon the staff."

It sets on the highest part of the lot, which has a decidedly high elevation on the street side; there is a door leading from the basement in the rear which is on a level with that part of the lot, showing the high elevation on which the house proper sets. The basement is very convenient and well kept, having a well lighted workroom, wash room, and storage for coal and fruit, all having cemented floorings. The barn has two stalls, a box stall, a fine carriage room, harness room, and a good loft. The l t is of fine size. Wednesday, June 7, at 4.30 o'clock

Absolute sale by auction of a parcel of property, consisting of buildings and about 4600 square feet of land situated at 122, 124 and 126 Fletcher street.

Promptly at 4.30 in the afternoon on date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public sale, this parcel of property, consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The building at 122 and 124 is a two-story building, used as a blacksmith shop, and is adapted for almost any kind of light manufacturing; the floor above, or second story, is used at present for storage. The building at 124 is a 2½-story structure, and is occupied by a junk shop in front and a wheelwright in the rear. The above two buildings could, at very little expense be converted into quite a building for manufacturing purposes. The lot contains about 4600 square feet, with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway which must be forever left open, 84 feet, giving fine frontages, and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets, as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an exceptionally fine site for manufacturing, and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. This sale will be an absolute one, to the highest bidder, on that day.

Terms: $400 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale; other terms at sale. C. F. KEYES in charge.

Thursday, June 8, 1905, at 3.30 o'clock

A VERY FINE RESIDENCE: HOUSE, BARN, AND ABOUT 13,500 SQ. FEET OF LAND AT THE CORNER OF PINE STREET AND HIGHLAND AVENUE NUMBERING 238 PINE STREET.

Resolved am I to place my residence before you at public competition, and though it may seem singular for me in so doing, I feel that in justice to myself, I should live nearer my business, therefore I will make a positive sale to the one bidding the most on that day set apart. The buildings are of good styled architecture, they have slated roofs, set well back on the lot and make an attractive and beautiful dwelling.

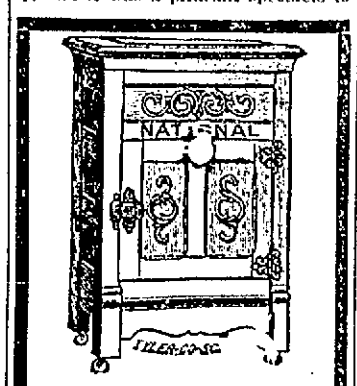

The house has vestibule front with leaded glass doors, entering into a large reception hall finished in quartered oak, and lighted by leaded glass windows; from the reception hall is a large drawing room, living room with open fireplace and cherry mantle, and a beautiful dining-room finished in quartered oak; a very convenient kitchen, pantry, wash room with set boiler and soap-stone trays and a summer kitchen in the rear. The second floor has six large, well lighted, ventilated chambers and bath; and a finished room on next floor for servant. It is heated throughout by steam, a Scanniell & Wholey boiler which I had put in new last year, supplying the same; it has gas lighting, electric bells, cemented cellar and every modern convenience used for residential purposes.

The barn has two stalls and a box stall, a fine carriage room with concrete flooring, a small room for man, a harness room and a good loft running the entire length. The whole first story is sheathed with Georgia Pine, finished natural.

The grounds, containing about 13,500 square feet, is graded to a beautiful lawn, is bordered on both streets by a pretty evergreen hedge, has concrete walks and driveway, and concrete around the entire buildings; there are also a dozen or more full grown fruit trees and shrubberies on the lot. The large frontages on both streets give this an excellent situation. It is but a few minutes' walk to the car service on Westford or Stevens streets, and is clustered with some of our best city residences. Now I am determined to sell and I am fully aware of the sacrifice I will have to make, so if you are in the market for an up-to-date, perfect residence, this is your chance.

Terms: $750 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer at time and place of sale.

C. F. KEYES in charge.
